

President Gives 'State of Union' Report Tonight

Annual Financial

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson gives the nation tonight his formula for balancing the financial demands of the Vietnam war against the need to curb crime in the streets and to rehabilitate riot-breeding city slums.

The President is expected to reiterate in his nationally televised State of the Union message to a joint session of Congress that he is exploring every avenue that might lead to peace.

But advance indications were that North Vietnam's latest statement on opening peace talks—a halt in U.S. bombing of the North and "other acts of aggression"—still was under exhaustive examination.

$11 Billion Higher

To an election-year Congress already breathing fire about any increase in spending, the President is expected to disclose that expenditures will be $11 billion higher—possibly a little more—for administrative purposes than in the current fiscal year ending June 30.

Republicans are prepared to respond at once to Johnson's proposals. GOP congressional leaders have slated a news conference for one-half hour after Johnson concludes his speech, and eight Republican governors will jointly discuss the message with newsmen Thursday morning.

A new "unified" budget, taking into account for the first time income and outgo from huge government trust funds, was said to be geared to a "significant drop" below the $18 billion or $19 billion deficit for this year.

Sources reported Tuesday the total spending program definitely will be below $190 billion for the fiscal year beginning July 1. Administrative spending—the basis most commonly used before the advent of the unified budget—was said to run between $145 billion and $150 billion, compared with the current fiscal year total of between $136 billion and $137 billion.

The expected deficit would include receipts from a proposed 10 per cent income surtax which Congress shelved last year and which key members predicted

6 Skiers Killed, 47 Hurt in Avalanche

BRATISLAVA, Czechoslovakia (AP) — Six skiers were killed and 47 injured by an avalanche which buried a group of students in Northern Slovakia Tuesday, the news agency CTK reported.

Rescue teams worked through the night to free the dead and injured—11 of them in serious condition—from the snowslide near a ski lift at Dolny Kubin.

30 on N.Y. Campus Arrested in Dope Raid

STONY BROOK, N.Y. (AP) — A raiding party of 190 police stormed the State University campus here early today, routing 30 students out of their beds and charging them with a variety of narcotics felony violations.

The raiding party—not told in advance of the raid's purpose—arrived at the sprawling, still unfinished campus on Long Island's North Shore at 3 a.m., in 72 police vehicles.

They were quickly briefed, divided into 32 raiding teams and

Radical Students From the Zengakuren student organization today burn the American flag in protest of the coming stop of the U.S. nuclear carrier Enterprise to Sasebo, Japan. The carrier is due Friday or Saturday.

Rioting Japan Students Hope To Halt U.S. Ship's Landing

SASEBO, Japan (AP) — Radical leftists vowed today to drive the American nuclear-powered aircraft carrier Enterprise from Japan's shores by the same riot tactics that kept President Eisenhower away in 1960.

In a warmup for the 75,000-ton carrier's arrival at the Sasebo naval base later this week, about 800 leftist students tried to invade the base today. Riot police drove them off in a three-hour battle with heavy casualties on both sides.

Sasebo City Hospital said it treated about 500 students and onlookers for bruises and the effects of tear gas.

Police said 60 students and 10 policemen were treated for cuts and other injuries and that 14 of the students and one policeman were seriously injured. Officials said 27 students were arrested.

Fighting started on a 20-foot-wide bridge leading to the main entrance of the Sasebo base where the Enterprise is expected Friday or Saturday on her way to duty in Vietnam. She and her escort, the frigate Truxton, will be the first nuclear-powered surface warships to visit Japan.

The students wielded sticks and threw rocks. The police, protected by shields and armored trucks, forced them back with tear gas and icy streams from fire hoses. Then about 1,000 officers moved in with clubs and dispersed the mob.

A spokesman for Sampa, one of the militant factions of the Zengakuren student organization, said the students were determined to "create a riot and force the Enterprise away in the same way that Zengakuren riots forced President Eisenhower to cancel his visit."

War Opposition
Zengakuren opposes the Vietnam war and the U.S.-Japan security treaty which comes up for review in 1970, but the spokesman said the group's target is the Japanese government and its alliance with the United States. He said the demonstrators would not molest U.S. military personnel in Sasebo.

The 1960 riots in Tokyo were a futile attempt to prevent the signing of the U.S.-Japan treaty. Though it didn't block the treaty, Eisenhower canceled plans to visit Japan after his press secretary, James H. Hagerty, was mobbed at the Tokyo airport. After the treaty was signed, Premier Nobusuke Kishi resigned.

Police had 5,800 men in Sasebo to deal with the students. The average citizen in the city of 250,000 seemed indifferent, and merchants staged a 30-car parade today to welcome the carrier.

2 U.S. Officers Slain In Guatemala Terror; Martial Law Results

Pro-Castro Rebels Take Responsibility

GUATEMALA (AP) — A pro-Castro revolutionary organization said today that it was responsible for the machine gun slaying of the top two U.S. military officers in Guatemala.

A typewritten communique signed Rebel Armed Forces—FAR—said the U.S. military mission had "ordered the Guatemalan army to create groups of assassins" against guerrillas—and the FAR "decided to mete out justice."

the Guatemalan Air Force's headquarters Tuesday, machine-gunned killed U.S. Army Col. John D. Webber Jr., 47, and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Ernest A. Munro, 40, and wounded Army Sgt. Maj. John R. Forster, 42, and Marine Sgt. Harry L. Greene, 41.

Critical Condition

Greene was reported in critical condition, but Forster was discharged from the hospital after treatment of an arm wound.

The Guatemalan Cabinet proclaimed a "state of alarm"—modified martial law—in an attempt to check a mounting wave of terrorism by both extreme rightists and extreme leftists as well as gangsters taking advantage of the political turmoil.

A burst of machinegun fire earlier Tuesday killed former Guatemalan congressman Alejandro Silva Falla, 40, and his 20-year-old bodyguard was killed in an exchange of fire with the gunmen. Silva's name had appeared on a list circulated in June by rightists saying that all who served communism would be executed.

In a third attack Tuesday, gunmen missed Manuel Villacorta Vielman, former vice presidential candidate from the strongly anti-Communist National Liberation Movement, but wounded his 20-year-old son.

State of Alarm

The government says 26 persons have been killed this month by terrorists. The state of alarm proclaimed by the government permits arrests without charges, imposes censorship, prohibits the carrying of firearms except by authorized persons, and bans assemblies of more than four persons.

Webber, a native of Buffalo, N.Y., who listed Houston, Texas, as his home, had been head of the U.S. military advisory group in Guatemala since 1965. Munro, a native of Lake Worth, Fla., with a home in Rockland, Maine, was head of the U.S. naval section. Greene, the group's communications adviser, was from Omaha, Neb. The families of all three men were with them in Guatemala.

Forster a native of Seattle, is stationed in the Panama Canal.

$4,500 Telephone Bill

Woman Talks Parents Out of $27,000 Home

LOS ANGELES (AP) — James Young is selling his home to pay off a $4,509.81 telephone bill that he says his daughter and her Alaska-based husband ran up in just 38 days last spring.

"I'm doing my best to hold on to my sense of humor," Young said Tuesday after revealing that he and his wife will move into an apartment from the $27,500 home they have owned 13 years.

Young, 42, a security officer at San Fernando Veterans Administration Hospital, said his daughter Collene, 19, and her 15-month-old baby stayed with him while her husband, Lynn Wade Cross, 20, was with the Navy at Adak, Alaska. "They made 95 telephone calls between the end of April and the end of May, between billing dates," Young said. One lasted 90 minutes, he added.

Unaware of Calls

He said he and his wife, Carol, 38, were "totally unaware" of the calls. "When the bill came in around June 1, I put a big chain and a $30 padlock on the phone," he said.

He said some of the calls were made collect from Adak and some originated from his home. He said most were made during the day when he and his wife were at work and his sons, 17 and 13, were in school.

General Telephone Co. of California now has a lien against Young's home. A spokesman for the firm said responsibility for such calls lies with the person in whose name the telephone is installed.

Young said his daughter paid $270.90 of the bill, but then moved with her husband to Corpus Christi, Texas. He said he has not heard from the couple since.

Navy officials in Corpus Christi said the couple left a forwarding address in Canoga Park, Calif., but they could not be reached at the address.

Vietnam Ground War Slides Into Another Lull

SAIGON (AP) — The Communists "seem to have temporarily run out of steam," Gen. William C. Westmoreland said today as the ground war in South Vietnam slipped into another one of its periodic lulls.

Only small, scattered ground clashes were reported. But Westmoreland, the top American commander in Vietnam, said he anticipates "a resurgence of enemy initiatives just before or after Tet," the Vietnamese Lunar New Year Jan. 30.

"Most of the Communist initiatives have political motives," Westmoreland said in an interview. "Tet is an emotional time when families and friends gather. Any display of strength would benefit the enemy both psychologically and politically. They like to develop the image of strength and try to give the people the impression they're winning."

For the first 10 days after the

Jan. 1, New Year's cease-fire, the Vietnamese took the offensive, invading and temporarily holding provincial capitals and district towns, shelling American air bases and launching attacks on U.S. ground units across the country. They inflicted severe punishment on allied troops and installations, but suffered heavier casualties themselves, according to U.S. reconnaissance.

The U.S. Command accused the Communists of moving troops during the Christmas and New Year truces into position for the attacks that followed. Similar truces have been declared for Tet—the Viet Cong's seven-day, the allied for 48 hours.

Westmoreland said he expects the next major Communist campaign in the northernmost I Corps area, primarily in Quang Tri and Thua Thien provinces, the two northernmost provinces just below the demilitarized zone.

The general called attention to increased enemy activity in the neighborhood of the allied Marine aerial observer spotted stronghold at Khe Sanh, near the Laotian border and 100 miles west of the Con Thien Marches into South Vietnam.

"Long-range patrols have had a number of contacts in that vicinity," Westmoreland said. "Long-range patrols have had a number of contacts in that vicinity," Westmoreland said. "Long-range patrols have had a number of contacts in that vicinity," Westmoreland said.

"There have been a number of sightings by aircraft. There's evidence of an enemy buildup in the western portion and other areas in the vicinity of the DMZ."

Trying to check or blunt the anticipated Communist offensive, U.S. B52 heavy bombers blasted the buildup area in the northwest corner of the country again Tuesday.

The eight-engine Stratofortresses, in their fourth raid on the area in two days, dropped 750-pound bombs in patterns designed to break up troop concentrations and rip open the jungle to reveal enemy hideaways.

The big bombers returned this morning to hammer suspected North Vietnamese bunkers and fortified positions in the demilitarized zone three miles northwest of another allied strongpoint at Gio Linh, which anchors the eastern approaches to South Vietnam.

As further evidence of increased Communist movement along the northern frontier, U.S. headquarters reported that a Marine aerial observer spotted 30 armed enemy troops crossing an open area Tuesday night four miles west of the Con Thien Marches into South Vietnam.

1 Dead, 3 Wounded in Courthouse

'He Will Commit Violence'...And He Does

LOS ANGELES (AP) — After filing a counter divorce complaint in October 1966, Dilbeck filed answers to questions from his wife's lawyers last May in which he said he and his wife had never been intimate.

On Tuesday, the day the divorce case was scheduled in Superior Court, Hildegard Dilbeck was shot to death in a courthouse corridor and her husband booked on suspicion of murder and attempted murder. Three persons were wounded, one critically.

Police gave this account: Dilbeck, 62, sat on a bench outside the courtroom where the case was to be heard. His wife, her lawyer, a friend and an accountant sat nearby in the corridor.

Witnesses said Dilbeck drew a .25-caliber pistol, shouted "Kill...Kill...Kill," shot his wife in the side and emptied the pistol on the persons near her.

The friend, Mable Klug, 45, was listed in serious condition at Dominguez Valley Hospital. One of the other wounded persons, Daniel Sheahan, 34, Mrs. Dilbeck's lawyer, was in critical condition at St. Joseph Hospital at Burbank. The other John B. Norberg, 55, a San Marino accountant and witness for Mrs. Dilbeck, was treated for a minor flesh wound.

Dilbeck's business lawyer, Edyth Jacobs, said, "He was a successful song writer. However, I think he made most of his money in real estate." The American Society of Composers, authors and publishers said its records show only that Dilbeck was the coauthor of "I'll hold you in my heart until I can hold you in my arms" in 1947. Dilbeck's lawyer, Max A. Goodman, who arrived after the shooting said the main point of contention in the divorce action was $250,000 in property. Dilbeck lived in Long Beach, his wife lived in Bell.

Public Dormitories Sought For Kenosha, GB Campuses

Harrington Says Residential Housing Would Draw Students

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Support continued to grow Tuesday for the construction of public dormitories as a part of new University of Wisconsin campuses planned in Brown and Kenosha counties.

UW President Fred H. Harrington told a sub-unit of the Coordinating Council for Higher Education that the UW administration feels that the residential housing will be necessary to help draw students to the new campuses.

And he commented after the meeting of the plans and policies subcommittee that the full CCHE probably will be asked by the UW at a March 14 session to make a public commitment to the development of dormitories on both campuses.

Private Development
Harrington said that he fears that private dormitory developers are making early plans for the construction of commercial housing units at both campuses.

"It would be very unfortunate if private developers come in and build so many dormitories that we couldn't go into such programs because of the possible public outcry," said Harrington.

Private dormitory owners at Wisconsin State University-Whitewater in the past two years have violently objected to state university dormitory building programs because of alleged public competition with their private investments.

Harrington said he backed the public program because of low housing costs for the students and of slowing enrollment gains.

at UW and state university campuses in Madison, Milwaukee, Oshkosh and Whitewater.

To accomplish this objective, Harrington stressed, the new campuses will have to be made as attractive as possible to as many potential students as can be drawn to the UW-GB and Parksides.

Dormitories will help to do this, he stated.

The CCHE has in the past backed the development of dormitory programs on both campuses both for educational gains for individual students and because of the large service areas to be covered by the campuses.

The Coordinating Council has estimated that up to two-thirds of the students at the UW-GB might have to live in public or private housing units because of the wide-ranging service area of the school throughout northeastern Wisconsin.

Preliminary Building
Preliminary building program plans for the new campuses call for the construction of dormitories during the 1971 and 1973 bienniums. By starting planning immediately, Harrington said, such a project could be ready.

But the UW is not pushing that great a step, he emphasized.

"All we are looking for is a program planned following the meeting of the two campuses' chancellors of the two campuses, estimated academic plan development on the new schools to the sub-unit. No action was requested. The subcommittee will spend another session on the plans in early March, before the proposals are presented to the full CCHE for approval.

Plans call for the presentation of the academic outlines to the UW's Board of Regents at their February meeting.

Noll raised some questions regarding transferability of credits of Chancellor Edward Weidner's ecological and environmental theme college approach for the UW-GB, but was assured that administrative problems involved can be bridged.

Thematic colleges have proved successful elsewhere, Weidner said. And industry can employ graduates of such programs without problems, he pointed out.

But the UW-GB administration will conduct in-depth studies of several graduating classes after they leave the campus to make sure that their education is relevant to the outside world, he assured the subcommittee.

Weidner said that within the UW system there should be few major difficulties at transferring credits from his campus or onto it.

"We will accept all credits in the spirit in which they were given at the campus at which they were earned — and we would be pleased if all other campuses in Wisconsin would treat us in the same way," said Weidner.

The chancellor also said that the UW-GB's special "catch-up" program aimed at aiding students with lower quality high school educations while actually enrolled at the UW-GB will start in 1969 with about 50 students. By 1971 it could grow to 100 students, he suggested.

The program is designed to allow a student lacking the

CCHE in State Has New Name

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — The state Coordinating Committee for Higher Education is dead — at least on paper.

In its place, the Coordinating Council for Higher Education has sprung up to oversee educational developments in Wisconsin.

The move is a technical one, brought about by the signing of a bill by Gov. Warren P. Knowles which changes the single word in the CCHE title.

The name is different, but the membership, aims — and abbreviation — remain the same.

The change was brought about to align the name with the new phraseology of state government brought about by the Kellett Governmental Reorganization Act, passed by the Legislature last year.

Second Incumbent to Circulate Papers for School Board Post

KAUKAUNA — A second incumbent member of the board of education took out nomination papers at the city clerk's office Tuesday while a third has indicated he does not think he will seek re-election.

Joseph Schouten, 705 W. Wisconsin Ave., began circulating papers for a second term while Robert Main is undecided whether to seek a fourth term.

The other incumbent running is Leo Driessen. A third candidate for the three offices to be filled is Stephen Baisch who previously served a term.

Village Kiwanis Name Appointed, Elected Officers

KIMBERLY — Officers of the Kiwanis Club were installed at a dinner meeting recently by the district Lt. Gov. Irving Curry after which William Van Hout, new president, announced committee assignments.

Other officers assuming duties were George Randerson, vice president, Sylvester Lenz, secretary, and Myron Huth, treasurer. Directors are Kenneth Bobber, Gilbert Frank, James Griesbach, Thomas Obenberger, Paul Schulz, Kenneth Poppy and Dennis Wydeven.

Committee chairmen include Obenberger, boys and girls work; Frank, Key Club; Wydeven, vocational guidance; Ray Hamann, public and business affairs; Richard DeBruin, agriculture and conservation; Rev. John Bowe, support of churches and Phil Frassetto, international relations.

Others are Van Hout, achievement; Randerson, finance; Randerson, programs and music; James Van Den Elsen, house; Huth, public relations; Poppy, inter-club and fellowship; Robert Remmel, membership; Les Groves, laws and regulations, and Elmer Vander Velden, education and attendance.

Fund Will Aid UW Student Dissenters

Donation of Famed School Biochemist Given to Regents

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — A University of Wisconsin professor — often a dissenter in the past — has given the school's administration $400 for the creation of a special fund to be used to aid students who are in trouble with the law or the school because of their support of unpopular causes.

Karl Paul Link, a UW biochemist whose dual discoveries, dicoumarol and Warfarin, have saved countless human lives, and killed millions of rats, created the special defense fund through a gift to the UW Board of Regents.

Additional donations will be accepted for the fund in the future, if offered, the regents decided.

Only Walter Renk, Sun Prairie, opposed acceptance of the gift, contending that the administration had enough difficulty in defending itself against the legal actions brought by student dissenters on the campus.

Civil Liberties Union
UW President Fred Harrington, told the regents that he originally had suggested that such a fund would be best administered by such a group

Highlands School, with its many physical innovations to better educational processes, will be open to the public from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday. Although muted, the school has a wide variety of colorful and artistic designs such as the stairwell, upper left, which has incorporated a geometric design. A reading well, bottom left, offers children an opportunity for informal discussions, a better way to build vocabulary. The upstairs library (resource center), bottom right, has no walls, and is an open invitation to learning. Therapeutic equipment, such as a walking bar, upper right, has made the orthopedic department one of the most widely noted areas, visited by educators from across the state. Open House Planned for Sunday Highlands School in Spotlight

BY MAIJA PENIKS
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

An open house for Highlands Elementary School, which has been in operation since September, 1967, is scheduled from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

The physical plant includes an orthopedic department with a swimming pool; 28 classrooms; combination science and crafts room; library; music room; a combination stage-gym-dining area; shower and dressing room; health center, speech therapy room, testing room, kitchen storeroom, teachers lounge and an office suite.

A total of 772 pupils are enrolled in the school, built for a maximum enrollment of 1,000. But these are just statistics. They don't tell the full story of a building which has incorporated in its physical innovations conducive to good instruction.

Modern Ideas

Though the total structure, from the cream-colored brick outside to the plain classrooms on the inside give an impression of simplicity, more modern ideas were put into the plans than in any other school built in recent years.

The orthopedic department, of course, highlights the building. With its extensive and intensive program for the handicapped children, it has gained wide recognition across the entire state. Educators from other school systems as well as officials from the State Department of Public Instruction have visited the school to gain ideas for future construction.

As can be expected, the shallow pool used for therapeutic purposes, is the big attraction. And rightfully so since it is the only one of its kind in the area. But there are a multitude of other helps and aids included in the department which are of great value to the handicapped child.

Noteworthy Equipment

Noteworthy, besides the therapy equipment, is the elevator which takes the children who wish to use the library on the upper level, or to one of the classrooms attended by those physically and mentally able to participate in a regular class situation.

This advantage, though visually nonexistent, is one of the greatest innovations in education of the handicapped. No longer are handicapped children isolated from the others. With physical aids, the little ones are not decentralized nor isolated from the rest of the pupils.

Also of great importance are the three special education classes for the slower learning children, again attended by some of the physically handicapped whose abilities allow participation.

This is the first step to a full-scale program, from elementary through high school, for the slower children who are unable to compete in a regular classroom situation.

Steps Forward

Though all of these are, without a doubt, giant steps forward, similar steps have been taken in the rest of the building, where physical innovations aid the changing process of education and curriculum.

A flexibility in the room environment, such as mobile walls and furniture for team teaching and demonstration are incorporated.

Two resource centers, open to all who seek knowledge, have become centers of learning. Because of the idea that learning should no longer be confined to the classroom walls, the resource centers, or libraries, have done away with walls and are now open invitations to learning. Classroom doors open up into the centers eliminating the idea that a library is place to go to once a week.

Informal Setting

On the lower level of the school is the other center, complete with a reading (story) well which provides an informal setting for discussion and communications of all types.

The tri-stepped well is conducive to the idea that vocabulary underlies all forms of communication and that vocabulary is better developed in informal situations.

Here the teacher, who represents the adult world, is not on a pedestal, but one of the group.

An economic dining-stage-gym facility is in the center of the lower level. The three-in-one section has been constructed so

Paper Machine Set for 1970 Thilmany Okays Final Phase In $20 Million Expansion

KAUKAUNA — A multi-million dollar paper machine will be constructed in Thilmany Pulp and Paper Company as a part of its $20 million expansion program.

The board of directors approved construction today and the machine will be in operation in early 1970, which ends the current expansion program started in 1963.

The new Fourdrinier paper machine will be called No. 14 and has been ordered from the Beloit Corporation in Beloit, F. ed Herbolzheimer Jr., vice president of manufacturing said.

This is the final phase of the present modernization program. The machine will be designed to add 23,000 tons of lightweight kraft specialties to Thilmany's current 140,000-ton annual capacity and will operate at speeds up to 2,500 feet per minute, trimming 187 inches in width.

Features Cited

One of its features is a Yankee dryer, 18 feet in diameter and weighing more than 150 tons.

The Rust Engineering Co., Birmingham, Ala., will be the project engineers for the new installation.

Excavation for the new building to house the machine will begin this summer. It will be located next to the No. 13 paper machine building.

Anticipates Increases

The 350,000 pound-per-hour, 1,500 per-square-inch twin-cylinder boiler; a 600 per-square-inch turbine generator and a refined makeup water treatment plane are needed to provide adequate power capacity.

Stream improvement facilities, also have been added well in anticipation of increased production. The program includes the modification of three paper machines, with two more rebuilds scheduled for the late summer of 1968.

Additional converting equipment include two new polymer extruders, a solvent coater for chemical applications to paper webs and high-speed bag equipment. Other additions include a 143,000 square foot warehouse, new computer installation and expanded office facilities.

All are designed for improved service to assure new products and better service to Thilmany customers, Thilmany officials said.

Housing Picture Looks Brighter

Low Rental Units Sought For Elderly

Prospects for undertaking a project to provide low rental housing for Appleton's elderly appeared brighter Tuesday, following a series of actions by the city's Housing Authority.

The Authority, created some time ago by an act of the city council, met at the city hall and decided to —Expedite the completion of procedural paper work so it can exercise powers granted under state and federal legislation —Proceed with filing an application with the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban

Firms Willing To Participate

Three, and possibly more, developers are interested in putting together a housing-for-the-elderly package under the federal government's turnkey program. The Post-Crescent has learned.

None of the firms are local and all have had experience with housing projects in other Wisconsin and Midwest communities.

A representative of the Housing Authority was contacted by representatives of the firms who are eager to become involved in a project here. They are awaiting official word from the Housing Authority.

Development (HUD) as soon as possible to obtain workable program certification.

—Travel to LaCrosse to inspect high rise apartments for the elderly and confer with Housing Authority officials there on their experiences to date.

—Meet with a representative of the regional HUD office at Chicago in February prior to filing an application for a grant.

—Determine how many living units should be included in an initial project, using the results of a United Community Services committee study as the basis for arriving at a minimum figure.

Papers Go to Knowles Extradition Signed for Hupka Burglar Suspect

Extradition papers were signed Tuesday afternoon in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 for Harold B. Lutchins, 33, Cincinnati, Ohio, who is charged with a Dec. 17 burglary of the about $5,000 worth of watches.

Lutchins, who was named in a warrant issued Dec. 22, has been refused to waive extradition. The extradition papers now will be sent to the office of Gov. Lester K. Born, then, if approved, to from four witnesses. Information vital to the case was contained in the affidavits. Witnesses included an Appleton detective, a state policeman, and an Appleton detective said that witness to the burglary.

Vandals Hit Airport Home

New Manager
Was to Move in During January

Vandals wielding what may have been tire irons caused an estimated $1,000 damage to an Outagamie County-owned home into which the new county airport manager was scheduled to move this month.

Charles Olson, whom the Outagamie Board last week hired as airport manager during a cloud of controversy, reported the break-in and vandalism to the sheriff's department this morning. However, sheriff's investigators said the damage could have occurred between Sunday night and early today.

Olson, who replaced Max Sagnusky as airport manager, said he was at the house, located on Two Mile Road, just north of the airport, after the Packer football game on Sunday.

Hit First Floor

The vandals hit every room on the first floor of the large two-story home. The basement and second floor were untouched. After entering by smashing a rear door glass, the vandals smashed out nearly all windows and storm windows on the first floor. Sashes were knocked out in many of the multipane windows.

Development Firm Sought By Menasha

Letters to be Sent To Those Offered By Master Planner

MENASHA — The Menasha Redevelopment Authority is now in the process of seeking a single developer to implement the broad plans for the downtown area.

Letters were dictated Tuesday morning and will be sent to about a dozen prospective development companies, mostly in Chicago and Minneapolis, who were recommended to the authority by Victor Gruen Associates, the city's master planning firm.

The main job of this developer would be to assemble property and then lease or resell it to potential retailers. The developer would work with the city and authority to bring about the downtown plan adopted by the city.

The firm would have the latitude to draw up the details of the downtown proposal, but would have to hold to the general outlines of the master plan for the city.

Jerry Pollak, representing Gruen, urged Menasha to use private investment, rather than federal funds. This would mean a firm with considerable financial resources, since the plan is expected to be a multi-million dollar project.

Such areas as parking, new roads, beautification projects and other services would have to be worked out between the developer, the concerns he attracts and the city.

Pollak said within a month the city could expect to receive about a 50 per cent response from the firms contacted and then would have to go through a screening process to select one firm.

Each developer will get copies of the downtown planning accomplished so far, along with copies of the economic report filed by Larry Smith and Co. Pollak said the economists and his planning firm generally agree that there is a solid basis for proceeding with redevelopment in Menasha.

The favorable economic report "does give impetus and validity" to the Gruen plans, Pollak said.

Among the general conclusions of the planners and economist are that by 1980 Menasha will have grown by 18,000 to 20,000 people and will need 230 more housing units — many of them multiple family; 240,000 more square feet of retail space; 50,000 square feet of office space; 50,000 square feet

As Menasha Took one of its biggest steps toward downtown revitalization Tuesday night, drawing the redevelopment boundaries and giving the Menasha Redevelopment Authority its full powers, two MRA commissioners were among observers in the council chamber gallery. Ralph J. McClone, MRA president, left, sits beside commissioner Edward A. Zeininger. Next to them is former mayor, John Klein.

MRA Gets Control Of Menasha Core

MENASHA — Quickly and without fanfare, the common council Tuesday night unanimously gave the Menasha Redevelopment Authority (MRA) broad jurisdiction over future development in eight large downtown blocks.

With 10 of the city's 12 aldermen present all voted in favor of the long-discussed measure to give it well above the required two-thirds majority vote.

The action was in response to a resolution passed by the MRA at its meeting Tuesday afternoon asking the council to formally draw the redevelopment boundaries recommended by Victor Gruen Associates in the firm's master plan for downtown rebirth.

The MRA was given sweeping powers inside an area bounded by Water, Tayco, Chute, Milwaukee, Third and Racine streets, with the boundary lines including both sides of the streets.

The MRA unanimously passed the resolution asking to have the boundaries drawn — the act of service type establishments, and 900 more auto spaces downtown.

Pollak stressed that the council and authority would have control over the developer as he proceeded with the project.

Takes Most Counselor Time

Drinking Behind Family Troubles

NEENAH - MENASHA—What month old Family Service Association of the Fox Valley, its executive director, Robert Gellert, told the Community Council Tuesday.

"In our role as counselor, alcoholism or some degree of excess drinking is at the root of the trouble when a family unit is falling apart," Gellert said in answer to specific questions posed by Miss Geraldine Cooper, R.N., Menasha Health Department.

Miss Cooper stated in a question and answer session, which followed a thumbnail description of the Family Service's work in Appleton and Neenah-Menasha that some aspect of alcoholism was encountered each day in her work as a city nurse.

thirds by Appleton and one-third by Neenah-Menasha and the board of directors is apportioned on the same basis, 20 Appleton and 10 N-M members.

Persons in the Neenah-Menasha area are provided counseling service eight hours on Monday and four hours on Friday afternoon at the VNA building on Wisconsin Avenue. Appleton families have the balance of the week for service at the Family Service offices, 1019 North Lincoln.

Dr. George Arndt, president of the council, predicted that within five years Neenah-Menasha would again have a full time family service agency of their own.

YWCA Center Elects President

NEENAH - MENASHA—Mrs. William E. Aylward was elected president of the YWCA Community Center and took office Tuesday at the annual meeting of the board of directors.

This year the board of directors was expanded to a 25-member board and four new positions on the board for one year terms were created.

Also elected to Y's official team as directors were Miss Bernice Ulrich, first vice president; Mrs. Henry Johnson, second vice president and program chairman; Mrs. Glenford Robb, secretary; Mrs. Ralph Caston, treasurer, and Mrs. Richard Roesler, assistant treasurer.

One full time social worker is now being recruited for family service.

"The big change in family service today is from crisis to counseling to professional case-work service," Gellert told the council members. The association is supported two-

Officials met with the planner privately Tuesday morning and the request for immediate action arose when the MRA held its regular monthly meeting at noon.

City Attorney Richard Steffens reminded the MRA that it was customary to bring up city matters at a committee of the council action, but Ald. Robert Probst and Walter Remmel, both members of the authority, agreed that the matter was important enough to place immediately on the agenda for that night.

Pollak urged the authority and council to pass the boundary designation as soon as possible, so that possible developments wouldn't be stymied. He said one developer was already asking how to proceed with his plans.

Explaining the significance of the resolution this morning, Steffens repeated previous statements that the common council was in effect relinquishing much of its own authority over the redevelopment area. The resolution describes the area and declares that the council considers it to be "in need of redevelopment." But this relatively simple declaration, according to Steffens, freezes property values at today's levels to stymie speculation over public and private construction and improvements, leases, and other matters involving the manner in which land and facilities in the area are put to use.

Go Gradually

McClone said this morning, however, "We will have to go into this very, very gradually." McClone said the MRA's chief concern was to help the businessmen in the area. "Naturally, there are broad powers in this. But we don't want to use them all at once," the MRA president said.

He added that he and the rest of the seven MRA commissioners appreciated the cooperation between the agency and the council, with Tuesday night's action the latest example. He said this spirit would continue, and stressed that the MRA would seek council approval of its future undertakings.

How Much?

"How much alcoholism do you find in your casework? How do you help them directly and what can Family Service do to help us?" Miss Cooper asked.

"I cannot say that all of them are alcoholics," Gellert answered. "I use the steps it took me, two years to learn in casework counseling."

"We see the man or woman, talk about the situation, refer to the personal physician; possibly make use of the treatment program at St. Elizabeth Hospital, or the unit at Winnebago State Hospital, and send the person with the illness to Alcoholics Anonymous and family members to Alanon," he continued.

"The major difficulty is getting the person to admit that he is in trouble and, if he does admit it, get him to cooperate and do something about it," Gellert added.

Counseling

Family Service Association during the past six months, since Appleton and the Twin Cities joined to provide marital counseling and family adjustment to area residents, has concerned itself with counseling and directing individuals to proper service, the executive director said.

"No financial assistance is given to families but they are referred to the proper agencies for such assistance. The association has a fee policy, based on the client's ability to pay, and no person will be denied service because he or she does not have the money," Gellert said.

At present the caseload at Family Service is 38 families. Neenah and Menasha families are using the service more than Appleton families, probably because "Neenah-Menasha had a family service for 30 years before the new association was formed," Gellert pointed out.

In the period from Nov. 15 to Dec. 19, Family Service counseled 47 Neenah-Menasha families and 33 Appleton families. The work is handled by Gellert and a parttime social worker who is available on Friday afternoon at the Neenah Family Service office.

One full time social worker is now being recruited for family service.

"The big change in family service today is from crisis to counseling to professional case-work service," Gellert told the council members. The association is supported two-

Schmidt was arrested Dec. 13 after a high speed chase from the village into the county and along several rural county roads a distance of about 25 miles, according to the arresting officer. His car was clocked at 90 miles per hour during the chase.

He abandoned the vehicle on Quarry Road and attempted to outrun police, but fell several times permitting the officer to apprehend him. Officer George Vander Zanden said he fired two warning shots in the air and still the man refused to stop.

He was fined $150 for reckless driving and $125 for attempting to elude police. He entered a not guilty plea when first arraigned on Dec. 18 and the trial was set Monday night.

Industrial Mishap Hospitalizes Man From Hortonville

Milton Collar, 333 N. Pine St., Hortonville, was taken by the Appleton Fire Department to Appleton Memorial Hospital about 3:20 p.m. Tuesday after being struck on the head by a piece of pipe at Appleton Coated Paper Co. where he works.

Police, who were called to investigate, said that Collar, a maintenance man, was working near a store-room bin when a six-foot section of steel pipe fell about eight feet from the top of the bin, striking the man on the head.

Police said that Collar was wearing a protective hard helmet at the time.

Mitchell Joins Mayor's Race In Appleton

March 5 primary also adds to a five-way race with Ald. William Wachtendonk (3rd), Ald. Roy Pointer (14th), Welfare Director Merton Ehrlicke and Buckley comprising the announced field.

The 51-year-old Mitchell, who served four two-year terms as mayor after being elected in 1958, said if elected to the top city government post he would make decisions based on what was good for Appleton — not on the basis of political promises.

Tempered Acts

"... Whether we prefer to remain the private citizen or enter the arena of political life, we must see that each act is tempered with judgment and responsibility," Mitchell said.

Mitchell, a sales engineer for Badger Highways, Inc., and associate of A. C. Lange Co., an Oconomowoc firm specializing in municipal supplies and services, added:

"The mayor's office is required to make many decisions. I have accepted this responsibility in the past. My decisions were not made on the basis of political promises, but with the sole judgment of what is best for Appleton.

"I feel sound, efficient, smooth - operating city government is of the utmost importance in the continuation of the many plans and programs which have been developed for Appleton. It is now necessary that we move forward to implement these many plans that have been prepared for our future."

Past Record

Mitchell asked the electorate to recognize his past record and credentials to again serve the city as mayor. "so that we may again work together for the City of Appleton."

The Mitchells reside at 312 W. Lindbergh Street. He is married to the former Elsie M. Liewerger. They have two married children and two grandchildren.

They belong to the First English Lutheran Church of which Mitchell is congregation president. Mitchell also is a board member of the Association of Wisconsin Planners, president of the Legion Corporation, handling arrangements for the state convention here in July, along with being an active member in various civic and fraternal organizations, both local and state.

Mitchell had a long career of government service until interrupted by his defeat at the hands of Buckley by a 1,000-vote margin in 1966.

Alderman in 1949

In 1949 Mitchell was elected First Ward alderman and served nine years on the council until he unseated Robert Roemer for mayor. He was appointed, and later elected, county supervisor representing the First Ward from 1954 to 1957.

While mayor, Mitchell was active in the League of Wisconsin Municipalities and once served as a trustee. He was active in the formation and operation of the Fox Valley Plan Commission — now the Fox Valley Council of Governments.

He also held memberships and committee posts on state and national municipal organizations, including the National League of Cities.

Mitchell has been active in Kiwanis International, Republican Party activities and the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

In recent weeks there have been frequent reports Mitchell would re-enter local politics and seek the four-year term which now will pay the officeholder $15,000 annually.

He took out nomination papers at the city clerk's office this morning. Deadline for filing is Jan. 30.

Highlands School to Show Innovations for Education

Tables can be pulled from the walls to make a lunch room, which in turn, can be sectioned off so that an athletic activity can go on simultaneously next door. The stage, with its thick curtains, offers an additional classroom situation and that, in turn, can also be subdivided so that a portion of it can be opened into the library if an audience is required.

Team Teaching

A mass science room which offers a laboratory situation, first of its kind in an elementary school provides team-teaching facilities and gives the students an opportunity to participate in experiments. Up to now, science and math, important in a technologically-oriented world, were relegated to the secondary level.

All of these facilities have been tied together in a colorful package. Color schemes have been incorporated into the architecture in a subtle way so that they provide a pleasant atmosphere but do not distract from the lessons.

Architects Schutte, Phillips and Mochon have, in short, come up with a school which is indicative of the changes in education and at the same time economical in space and dollars.

Authority Plans Moves For Low-Rent Housing

zen groups supporting a housing program and others interested in the project observed from the sidelines.

Bravick reported while the Authority held no formal meetings, considerable legwork was accomplished during the past several weeks in obtaining information to provide guidelines.

'Workable Program'

He explained Appleton needed to get "workable program" certification from HUD before the city could embark on a housing project for the elderly.

And at one point when DeBroux, a real estate man, suggested the Authority investigate a privately-operated housing program based on federal rent subsidy such as the operation at Eau Claire, Bravick said the group should follow the mandate of the city council.

The council has gone on record favoring one of the types of programs falling within the scope of HUD.

Mayor Buckley said the Citizens' Advisory Committee was assisting in gathering data needed to complete the HUD application.

Various municipal department heads and City Planner Walter Rasmussen also are assisting with the project, the mayor added.

He noted Feb. 14 is the deadline for committees to have assignments completed.

Richard Van Sistine is chairman of the citizens' advisory group.

'Good Shape'

"So far, I would say we are in pretty good shape," Buckley observed.

Bravick indicated the Housing Authority and cooperating groups should avoid any unnecessary delays in getting a housing project approved and underway in Appleton.

Authority members conceded the difficult task would be to determine what size a unit to construct, and on this the State Commission on Aging and specialists in housing for the elderly will be asked for advice.

"I think we can also expect to get major help from architects and developers who may be interested in our project," Bravick commented. "They have the technical knowledge."

DeBroux opined he did not think the UCS survey conducted several weeks ago to obtain information on older persons interested in low rent public housing "will hold up."

Oliver added that although several persons participated, he knew several widows in the community had not received questionnaires to fill out.

"I have been receiving telephone calls from some who want a housing project," commented Oliver, who represents the local chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons.

However, Bravick said that based on the information it had, the city council made a determination that housing for the elderly was needed in Appleton. He explained it was up to the Housing Authority to determine the scope of a project and that HUD would not dictate the latter.

LaCrosse Pacesetters

Bravick said he had been in contact with the mayor of LaCrosse, a Wisconsin city which has been one of the pacesetters in housing for the elderly.

This prompted Wachtendonk's suggestion the Housing Authority make a trip to that city in the near future to get firsthand information. "We can benefit from any mistakes they may have made when first starting out," Wachtendonk said. Others agreed.

"I think if we can find out in advance how others proceeded and what HUD wants, we can speed up our timing by months," Jensen said.

Girl Testifies Her Brother Shot Parents

Jeannette Leroux Overhears Boasting Of 'Perfect Crime'

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

STEVENS POINT — Showing no emotion, 16-year-old Jeannette Leroux sat in the witness box of Circuit Court here Tuesday, and told jurors and a packed courtroom how her 19-year-old brother, Mark, had allegedly shot their parents to death and then set fire to the family home in rural Amherst in an attempt to cover the crime.

She went on to tell how her brother boasted to her on several occasions following the fire how he had committed the perfect crime.

Mark Leroux, who has been charged with two counts of first degree murder in the Nov. 8 deaths of his father Eugene, 42, and mother Mary, 38, has pleaded innocent to the charges. The charred bodies of the couple were found in the burned ruins of their home on the morning after the fire. At the time it was thought they were victims of the fire. However, a week later it was discovered by Portage County authorities that the couple had been shot and Mark was arrested at his Stevens Point apartment.

Juror Excused

The first degree murder trial got underway Monday when a 12-man jury, consisting of eight men and four women, was selected. However, Tuesday statement said he did not intend to obstruct the wheels of justice, expressed satisfaction in the morning one of the women jurors was excused and about would provide evidence that there may be a reasonable doubt whether or not Mark was the killer.

Appleton May Pass Up Pollution Hearing

Appleton officials pondered today whether they even should put in an appearance at a water hearing which has been called for Thursday night reportedly to hear objectors to the Lake Winnebago water project.

The Department of Resource Development (DRD) had scheduled a pollution hearing at the Outagamie County Courthouse for polluters in the region.

The state agency also has agreed to devote an hour of the hearing — starting at 7:30 p.m. — to hear Virgil Achterberg of Neenah present any factual evidence he has that Appleton would pollute or lower Lake Winnebago by using it as a water supply.

Petitioned for Hearing

Achterberg petitioned the agency for a public hearing. He told the Post-Crescent recently his drive has the support of Gordon Bubolz, chairman of the Northeastern Plan Commission.

The commission in a statement to federal officials some time ago supported Appleton's lake project.

Actually, the DRD approved the lake Winnebago intake line and indicated the approval in a statement, told the jury that the prosecution would prove Mark killed his parents and that he had a definite motive. Robert Jenkins, Leroux's court-appointed attorney, in his opening their cooperation and help during the trial.

Engerson is completing his first term on the council. He thanked other aldermen for their cooperation and help during the trial.

Engerson expressed satisfaction in the accomplishments of the council while he was a member and expressed the hope that future councils could continue to work together for the betterment of the community.

Officer Quits County, Joins Kimberly PD

George Van Cuijk, 27, has resigned from the Outagamie County Sheriff's Department to take a job as patrolman on the Kimberly Police Department.

Lt. Lowell Veitch, head of the traffic division, in which Van Cuijk worked since Aug. 16, 1964, said the resignation becomes effective Jan. 31. Van Cuijk, in his letter of resignation, said he will take the Kimberly job Feb. 1.

The county policeman said he took the new job because he felt it would be "an advancement in both wages and working conditions." He said he was leaving the county police force "with no ill feelings."

Van Cuijk, who is married and lives at route 5, Appleton, worked as a truck driver before joining the county police. He is a native of Kimberly.

Veitch said steps will be taken to fill the vacancy created by Van Cuijk's resignation to bring the force back up to full strength of 17 men.

'Coronary Prone' Should Smoke Less and Change Eating Habits

NEW YORK — Leading heart specialists are urging the "coronary prone" to exercise more, smoke less, learn how to cope with the stresses of modern-day living, and in many cases to change eating habits.

Who are the "coronary prone"? Physicians have been noticing for some time that there are features common to many of the younger coronary patients: they are male, stocky to fat, they are sedentary, they have elevated blood-cholesterol levels and high blood pressure.

According to Drs. Charles H. Duncan and Maurice M. Best, University of Louisville School of Medicine, Louisville, Ky., "It is now possible to identify with reasonable certainty a group of individuals who, though seemingly healthy and without evidence of coronary disease, have a much greater chance of subsequently developing clinical coronary disease than the rest of the population."

Can Not Predict

However, the doctors add: it must be kept in mind, that within this high-risk group it is impossible to predict which individual will develop coronary disease and which one will not. Thus, even in a high-risk group with a 50 per cent chance of coronary disease before the age of 65, half of the group will escape.

Reporting in a recent issue of GP, a monthly publication for family physicians, Drs. Duncan and Best note:

"There can be little doubt that the usual American diet contributes to the prevalence of elevated levels of serum cholesterol and triglycerides, obesity and premature coronary heart disease."

Don't Eat Eggs

More recent studies indicate that the type rather than the amount of fat is the key factor in determining serum cholesterol levels. Current recommendations with regard to dietary fat substitution rather than elimination.

The Louisville physicians recommend that, since the equivalent of two eggs will generally be included in other foods consumed, eggs as such should be stricken from the diet. Substitution of skimmed milk or low-fat buttermilk for whole milk is advised, of fowl or fish for meat, and of margarine for butter. Meat, if eaten at all, should be lean, in small portions, and consumed not more than four times a week.

Drs. Duncan and Best note and Polish patriot forces liberated that "evidence linking elevated serum cholesterol and premenstrual months and 20 days after it had fallen to the Nazis."

On this date— In 1706, Benjamin Franklin was born in Boston. In 1773, James Cook became the first explorer to cross the Antarctic circle. In 1899, the United States took possession of Wake Island. In 1917, the United States bought the American Virgin Islands from Denmark for $25 million.

In 1942, the Japanese had driven to within 90 miles of Singapore in the Pacific war. In 1950, gunmen held up the building of an armored car service in Boston and escaped with $15 million in cash and conditions, and on exercise.

The confirmed cigarette smoker who is unable to give up chief Nikita Khrushchev had held secret talks with Polish leaders in Poland. No details were given.

Today in History

Today is Wednesday, Jan. 17, the 17th day of 1968. There are 349 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1945, Soviet and Polish patriot forces liberated Warsaw—five years, three months and 20 days after it had fallen to the Nazis.

Wisconsin's Health

Nursing Home Directory Lists 34,267 Beds for Patients

BY E. H. JORRIS M.D., State Health Officer

There are 34,267 beds available for patients in nursing homes and homes for the aged in Wisconsin which are listed in the 16th annual directory of the Section of Hospital and Related Services of the Division of Health.

Proprietary and other non-governmental nursing homes are regulated and licensed by the Division of Health of the Department of Health and Social Services.

Three types of licenses are issued: 354 for skilled nursing care homes, 47 for homes for limited nursing care, and 100 for homes for personal care.

There are 22,690 beds provided by nongovernmental owned homes in the "skilled care" category. In addition, there are 40 county homes with 7,289 beds which qualify for the "skilled care" designation. The home for state veterans at King provides another 573 beds in this category. Over-all, there are 30,572 beds available in homes that provide skilled nursing care. Of these beds 12,445 are in homes certified as extended care facilities for medicare beneficiaries. The remaining beds are in the 147 "limited care" and "personal care" homes.

Since 1953, when there were only 12,000 beds, the state has witnessed a near-threefold expansion in the numbers of beds available for its aged population needing nursing home care.

The directory lists those homes which are of fire-resistant construction and those which are protected by automatic sprinkler systems. Approximately 22,000 beds are in fire-resistant structures and 6,000 beds are fully protected by automatic sprinkler systems.

Cigarettes Lose Lure by Over-Smoking

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A psychologist says he's getting smokers to stop by making them smoke more.

Irwin Lublin of California State College at Los Angeles reports he got a woman who had smoked 40 cigarettes a day for 30 years to quit after two weeks of "aversive conditioning."

The woman was among 50 volunteers who smoke more than a pack daily and underwent two tests for Lublin:

—Inhaling every six seconds on one cigarette and puffing without inhaling every three seconds on a second one.

—Smoking a cigarette while a machine puffs out stale warm cigarette smoke into the smoker's face.

The result was mild nausea, headaches and sore throats.

"Almost everybody soon finds cigarettes intolerable," said David Schmah, Lublin's assistant. "Hardly anybody finished a whole one. Both methods proved very obnoxious."

Of the 50 volunteers, Lublin said 14 dropped out quickly, 16 stopped smoking, 2 cut way down and 18 gave up on the project.

Student's Tardy Excuse One of Best Ever Offered

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — When Judith Lipschutz told authorities at Philadelphia High School for Girls she had a good reason for being two hours late for classes Monday, she wasn't bluffing.

It all started when the 16-year-old high school senior was waiting for a bus near her home. She saw a woman fall on the icy sidewalk and cry out in pain. Judy said she pulled off her coat and placed it over the woman.

About 20 minutes later, an ambulance arrived and Judy, hopped in to comfort the victim on the way to a hospital. Twelve blocks away, the ambulance skidded and struck the rear of another vehicle.

Another ambulance was called but before they got very far, it stalled and they transferred to a third. This one made it. Mrs. Eula Mitchell, 43, was admitted to the hospital with a broken ankle and Judy went to school.

Twice-a-Week Collection Meets
City's Requirements

Appleton's combined garbage-trash collection service on a twice-a-week basis has proven successful to date and is resulting in manpower savings in the sanitation division.

The report was made Monday during a meeting of the city council's street-sanitation committee.

"For the most part we have been receiving fine reports on the collection program, and the results are good, too," remarked Frank Keuler, public works director.

Keuler said the accelerated and combined collections have resulted in the use of less equipment and manpower (12 men) in the sanitation division for this time of the year.

Men not needed for collections are being used in the street division to help with plowing and snow removal, according to Keuler.

Eventually, some positions will be eliminated as men retire. Others will have an opportunity to transfer into other divisions within the department when vacancies exist.

Keuler and the committee noted the collection program reflected "excellent results" for the fall and winter months but did not know what the summer would present.

"This will be our first summer under the new operation and then we should be able to revise our equipment and personnel needs," Keuler said.

City officials said they would confer with the union representing the public works employees before recommending any changes.

Committee Heads
Village Kiwanis

LITTLE CHUTE — Committee appointments for the coming year have been announced by Robert Gneiser, newly-elected Kiwanis Club president. Gneiser will ask for committee reports periodically in an effort to keep interest alive in various areas. Committee heads named include Tony Van Bostel, boys and girls; Paul Dereks, Key Club; Leo Bronkalla, vocational guidance; Donald Reynebeau, finance; Edward Spierings, conservation and agriculture; Peter Van Zeeland, house; Val Wheeler, international relations; Robert St. Aubin, public and business relation; Bill Winifus, interclub relations; Joseph Vanden Burgt, laws and regulations; Van Bostel, information; Gene Romensko, framework for organizing education and attendance; Paul Crupi, membership; Van Zeeland, programs and music; George Vanderloop Sr., bulletin; and Robert Huss, receptions. Board members will serve on a new club building committee.

Council Slates Future Talks
For Municipal Switchboard

The Appleton City Council will devote special time at a future meeting to explore ways of improving the communications switchboard (telephone) system in municipal departments.

Ald. Alvin E. Tews (5th), chairman of the finance committee which met Monday night, said the Wisconsin Telephone Co. had requested a delay in making a presentation to the council as a whole.

At a previous meeting, telephone company representatives said, based on an extensive survey of the existing setup, it would be appropriate for the Appleton city government to have a central switchboard.

Presently, all departments have their own lines and telephones.

Separate System
There are 26 separate lines and 52 telephones in the various administrative offices and departments at city hall. Other departments have 20 lines and 44 phones.

The overall total is 46 lines and 96 telephones in all municipal departments — excluding the public school system — the latter having its own central switchboard.

The finance committee was cool towards the telephone company recommendation to revise the existing system and decided to turn the matter over to the entire council for a decision.

No date has been set for the telephone company spokesmen to report on their findings and recommendations, based on a survey made over a 12-month period.

Mansfield Fears U.S. Will Try To Close British Pull-Out Gap

Feels Nation Lacks Extra Resources

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield expresses concern the United States will be faced with trying to fill the military vacuum created when British forces leave the vast area from the Middle East to Singapore.

A State Department spokesman said Monday, in the wake of the British announcement of its plans to pull out troops from the area in a budget-cutting move "We have no plans to move in where the British forces pull out."

But Mansfield said in an interview "I am sorry the British felt they were forced to take this step, because I am certain we will be asked to fill the vacuum east of Suez. I don't know how we are going to do it because I don't think we have the men or resources for it."

Concern Shared

It was clear from private conversations that many civilian and military officials shared Mansfield's belief and concern. They contended as one of them put it, "We are not prepared to extend our commitments" in view of the strains of the Vietnam war and existing worldwide American commitments.

Bitter reactions to the British plan were voiced behind the scenes, coupled in some instances with complaints Britain has failed to support the United States in Vietnam.

Officially the U.S. government expressed regret that economically hard-pressed Britain found it necessary to cancel a billion-dollar purchase of F111 supersonic fighter planes and to evacuate all British troops, ships and aircraft from East of Suez in three years.

Sooner Than Expected

The new withdrawal plan will take effect at least two years earlier than anticipated and apparently exceeds the scope expected by U.S. planners.

"We hoped they would keep small garrisons at least in the Persian Gulf area and their tion, of U.S. military commitments around the globe. more rapid than we thought it would be," one source said. What concerns U.S. military strategists is that the British withdrawal—and possible new burdens for this country—come as the Soviets are establishing a widening foothold in the Red Sea—Indian Ocean area.

They also foresee a likelihood the United States may be confronted with a Soviet challenge of Suez in the face of growing public sentiment for a re-examination, and possible reduction, of U.S. military commitments around the globe.

Some Navy sources suggested the British pullout might lead to the creation of a separate Indian Ocean fleet. They also said there has been talk of bolstering the present tiny U.S. Navy Red Sea force of two destroyers and a sea plane tender.

Britain has maintained one carrier east of Suez but that will end with the pullback. Officials said Australia and New Zealand would like to see the United States fill the gaps left by Britain in the Singapore-Malasia area, but indicated Australians and New Zealanders should prepare to go it alone there.

The U.S. Navy long has been concerned about the Indian Ocean, although until now it has been regarded as Britain's province. Some Navy sources suggested the British pullout might lead to the creation of a separate Indian Ocean fleet. They also said there has been talk of bolstering the present tiny U.S. Navy Red Sea force of two destroyers and a sea plane tender.

Driver Education Grant Awarded To State Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wisconsin is to receive an $18,000 grant from the Federal Highway Administration to help schools with driver education programs. Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., said Tuesday.

The state is to contribute $18,000. A grant of $48,414 for highway safety planning was made last year.

The project is among traffic safety standards to be met by the states by Dec. 31, 1968, if they are to avoid having federal highway aid reduced.

The National Highway Safety Act, adopted in 1966, directs the states to set up driver education programs, vehicle inspection, re-examination of drivers, and tighter control of driving after drinking, Nelson said.

Sicilian Quake Toll Still Mounting; 1,000 Missing

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — The toll in lives could be spared from looking cows and other animals from the rubble of the debris of barns. Packs of hungry dogs roamed the countryside.

Most of the able-bodied men of the 10 towns hardest hit are among the thousands of Italian laborers who leave home to find work.

The death count was mounting as crews dug desperately through mounds of rubble, and communications were restored to villages that had been isolated by the big earthquake Monday.

Giuseppa Impastato, 103 years old and known as "Little Grandmother," was found seriously injured in the rubble of her home in Montevago. She died on the way to a hospital 16 miles away.

20,000 Homeless

An estimated 20,000 Sicilians were homeless.

Premier Aldo Moro met with his Cabinet to discuss the worst catastrophe to hit Sicily since the Messina earthquake of 1908 took 75,000 lives.

Aftershocks continued through Tuesday night, spreading more panic and keeping thousands out of doors, huddled in frozen fields and vineyards. Palermo, the regional capital was all but emptied of its half million inhabitants during the night.

The Palermo waterfront section, known as St. Peter's was evacuated. Many buildings there showed cracks after an aftershock recorded at 8.5 on the 12-point Mercalli scale hit the city at nightfall Tuesday. It was the strongest tremor since the 9-point quake that caused the bulk of the deaths and damage Monday.

Earthquake Scale

The Mercalli scale evaluates earthquakes on the basis of their effects on the landscape, structures and people. Nine points means weak masonry destroyed and ordinary masonry heavily damaged.

Despite the influx of tons of food, medicines, clothing and tents, many Sicilians still were without adequate shelter and food. Twenty persons with pneumonia from three successive nights outdoors were treated in the Trapani hospital.

The general threat to health increased. Rescue workers who

Young Russians' Bravery Lauded by Stalin's Daughter

NEW YORK (AP) — Svetlana Alliluyeva has called upon world public opinion to give all possible support to the young Russian intellectuals struggling for freedom in the Soviet Union.

Stalin's daughter said in her appeal Tuesday. "We must give all our possible support to those who remain honest and brave even under unbearable conditions. Those who have enough strength to fight."

Predicting success for the movement if enough outside support were forthcoming, she said. "We cannot remain silent in the face of suppression of fundamental human rights, wherever it takes place."

First Statement

The statement marked Mrs. Alliluyeva's first open intervention in the Soviet Union's domestic political struggle between the government and the young artists and writers demanding freedom to express their views.

She commented on the closed trial in Moscow last week of four young writers accused of editing and printing manuscripts critical of Communist life during an interview with Columbia Broadcasting System News.

She praised Pavel M. Litvinov, a grandson of the late Foreign Minister Maxim M. Litvinov, and Mrs. Larisa Daniel, wife of writer Yuli M. Daniel, now imprisoned in labor camp, for their denunciation of the trial last week.

Ignored Danger

Of their actions, she said they "ignored their own danger and they made clear to the press abroad that the recent trial of another four young writers was as they say, 'a wild mockery of justice.'"

Mrs. Alliluyeva, who made her own flight to freedom last spring and now lives in Princeton, N. J., said such defiance of authority in the Soviet Union "cannot be stopped."

"All these young people feel the same way. It can only be hidden. It can only be hidden for a while, but even that will not stay long," she said.

Barnard Not Certain Next Heart Transplant Patient 'Materializing'

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Dr. Christiaan Barnard said today the next candidate for a heart transplant at Groote Schuur Hospital is "materializing" but a definite decision has not yet been made.

The Cape Town surgeon also announced that his second heart transplant patient, Dr. Philip Blaiberg, is "out of the danger zone."

"He is over the period when he could suddenly get a massive infection," Barnard said of the retired dentist.

Trip Planned

The surgeon told a news conference the third transplant at Groote Schuur will not be performed within the next six weeks, and not until he has returned from a trip beginning in late February to the United States, Puerto Rico and "somewhere in South America."

In Stanford Calif., Mike Kasperak, 54, reported better though still on the critical list because his body may yet try to reject his transplanted heart.

His doctors said Tuesday he was conscious and responding to instructions.

Stanford University Medical Center's bulletin said, "Blood pressure is normal with no signs of rejection" of the heart he received Jan. 6 from the body of a 43-year-old woman who had died of a stroke.

Normal Function

The new heart was functioning with normal rhythm, and Kasperak showed improvement in liver, lung and kidney functions, doctors said. They gave Kasperak his first food since intravenous feeding was started after the operation. A little sugar and water was passed down his throat via plastic tube.

"I know he is going to make it," his wife, Ferne—herself a heart patient—said at a news conference.

Dr. Barnard would give no details about the operation other than to say the prospective beneficiary is in the same age group as Blaiberg, 58, and the first heart transplant patient, Louis Washkansky, who was 58.

Return Home

Barnard plans an earlier trip to Europe, returning to Cape Town about Feb. 5. If Blaiberg continues to make satisfactory progress, he could be sent home about mid-February, the doctor said.

"Dr. Blaiberg is getting stronger every day," he reported. "All the tests indicate that his heart action is good."

"As far as we know, there is no evidence of rejection. His lungs are absolutely clear and the herpes infection he had in his throat is also clear now."

Carnegie Hall Bow Recalled By Goodman

NEW YORK (AP) — Benny Goodman gave a dinner party Tuesday night in the roof garden of his apartment house and the main course was lively reminiscence.

Among the 100 guests were 13 who performed with "Benny Goodman and His Swing Orchestra" exactly 30 years ago on the stage of Carnegie Hall.

Carnegie now is the scene of rock 'n' roll concerts and country-western song fests, but in those days the stately hall knew only classical music.

Cornetist Bobby Hackett, who did a guest solo with the band at that Jan. 16, 1938, concert, said, "We were all scared and nervous. I was just completely averted to step on a stage where all the greatest famous artists had been. And I was awed by Benny too. He was an idol of mine. He still is."

Goodman recalled, "It was a press agent's dream, going into Carnegie. I was rather reluctant to do it, even though Paul Whiteman had given a concert there."

He was interrupted by jazz historian John Hammond. "That was symphonic jazz. He had a bunch of strings."

Goodman went on, "I tried to get Beethoven to tell a couple of jokes, for variety. She declined. I get nervous now when I play a concert. But I don't think I was then."

Drummer Gene Krupa recalled, "It was our regular 14-piece band. In the second half we had some guests appear. I remember it as a pretty thrilling night. I thought that the band played exceptionally well, with a very eager sound."

Democrats Worried By Political Realities

Gary Fire Official Who Worked Against Mayor Hatcher Has Been Demoted to Private

BY ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK
GARY, Ind. — The case of a fireman named Martin Novosel shows that the racial passions of Gary, inflamed by Negro

Evans Novak

Richard G. Hatcher's successful campaign for mayor last fall, are still eating away at the Democratic party here. Novosel, an active Democrat, ran the Gary fire department as first assistant chief in the past administration. But when Hatcher was inaugurated as mayor two weeks ago, the new fire chief (a Negro) replaced Novosel with a Negro, demoted him to the rank of private, and assigned him to a fire house in the Negro slums where he is the only white man on his work-trick.

This was the kind of political retribution familiar in Hoosier politics. Novosel, like most of Gary's white Democratic leaders, bolted the party last year to back the Republican candidate against Hatcher. But Novosel and his family are prominent members of the Croatian community, a powerful ethnic bloc here. Thus, Novosel's demotion has prompted Croatian leaders to threaten privately the desertion of Lyndon B. Johnson and the entire Democratic ticket in 1968.

Other Threats
Aware of political realities, Mayor Hatcher at this writing is trying to modify the treatment of Novosel (while contending that anti-Negro prejudice by Novosel justifies some demotion). But even if this fire is put out, a dozen other blazes threaten the Democratic party's racial coalition.

That's why national Democratic leaders have been watching this grimy steel city (pop. 180,000) with horrified fascination. Because the Democrats can remain the nation's majority party only by continuing the coalition of Negroes and white ethnic elements, racial tensions could split the party nationally as it has in Gary.

White Democratic leaders

here, far from burying their differences with Hatcher, remain sullen. They harbor grievances at the intervention in Hatcher's behalf by the Johnson administration and by Sen. Birch Bayh, and hint at retribution. And unless President Johnson and Bayh win the usual huge majorities here, they cannot possibly carry Indiana this year.

Hatcher No Extremist
Actually, some of Hatcher's worst white enemies admit he is no extremist and is infinitely more honest than many sticky-fingered predecessors in city hall. His main post-inauguration activity has been eminently non-racial: coaxing U.S. Steel Corporation. Gary's paramount economic influence, into funnel-ling foundation grants into the community.

Nevertheless, hostility has not subsided. Neither side has done much toward racial accommodation. While travelling to New York for foundation money, Hatcher has not yet met face-to-face with white leaders in Gary. Racial rivalry will worsen in strictly party matters. Hatcher is pondering putting his own slate against the regulars in county elections this year. He may try, probably unsuccessfully, to purge white precinct committeemen who defected to the Republicans last year.

Even Hatcher's announced crusade against organized crime is looked at with suspicion by the antagonistic white leadership. They suspect he will hit the horse parlors frequented by white steel workers but leave untouched the multi-million dollar policy racket run by and for Negroes. Accordingly, if Hatcher cannot complete the Herculean labor of eliminating the policy racket, it will be taken as a sign of bad faith by the white community.

Attack Cleveland Mayor
Although Hatcher has received nothing like the post-election white backing enjoyed by newly-elected Negro Mayor Carl Stokes in Cleveland, neither has Hatcher gone as far toward conciliation as Stokes. Rather, Hatcher's inner circle privately attacks Stokes as selling out by appointing so many whites.

As a result, secret strategy conferences in the Hatcher administration have just about decided to name a Negro as controller, de facto deputy mayor or in Indiana cities. For whites in the Democratic party and the business community, this would be the point of no return.

Hatcher's only hope of winning substantial white support then would be his battle against crime in the streets — far more menacing than organized crime in the minds of Gary citizens. Hatcher is trying. For example, his new police chief (a white career policeman) and bus company officials have devised flying police squads to fight the wave of bus robberies.

Hatcher's worst detractors in the regular Democratic party concede that making the streets of Gary safe could make Hatcher a hero overnight. That would be akin to turning the waves back, but no less may be needed to rebuild the old Democratic coalition here.

Schools Ponder Mobile Guidance Laboratory

Hilbert Okays Participation; Stockbridge, Combined Locks, Brillion Also Eye Plan

HILBERT — A decision to participate in a mobile vocational-guidance laboratory program on a one-day-a-week basis has been made by the board of education.

Supervising principal Earl Anderson explained to the board that he had attended a joint meeting with administrators from Brillion, Stockbridge, Reedsville and Combined Locks last week at Brillion to discuss the possibility of the program.

All of the other four high schools are needed in order to apply for the program and aid available under the vocational act of 1963. The plan is under the direction of Harry Drier, former coordinator of the Brillion pilot vocational program, now a member of the State Vocational Education Department.

Total Cost
Anderson said the program would cost $67,300 with 75 per cent financed through the vocational funds and 25 per cent coming from the participating schools — $3,365 from each school.

Audio visual equipment would be placed in each school and a vocational guidance counselor and audio visual specialist would travel with the fully-equipped mobile unit. Equipment and facilities would be available to all high school students.

The program, it was explained, is designed to help steer non-college bound students into vocations and trades for which they are qualified. It was noted that only about 25 per cent of high school graduates go on to college, and many guidance counselors are often oriented toward the college-bound student.

Complements Program
However, the counseling is not intended to take the place of a high school guidance counselor, but to augment any program the schools may presently have.

Anderson gave details of the equipment needed and its cost, salary costs for the instructors included in the total figures, and the slight variation in yearly figures.

In accordance with the agreement sent to the school by Gaylord Unbehauen, Brillion superintendent, if all schools agree by Feb. 12, the district will contribute a $100 deposit. Then, if funds are approved, the program is expected to start in September.

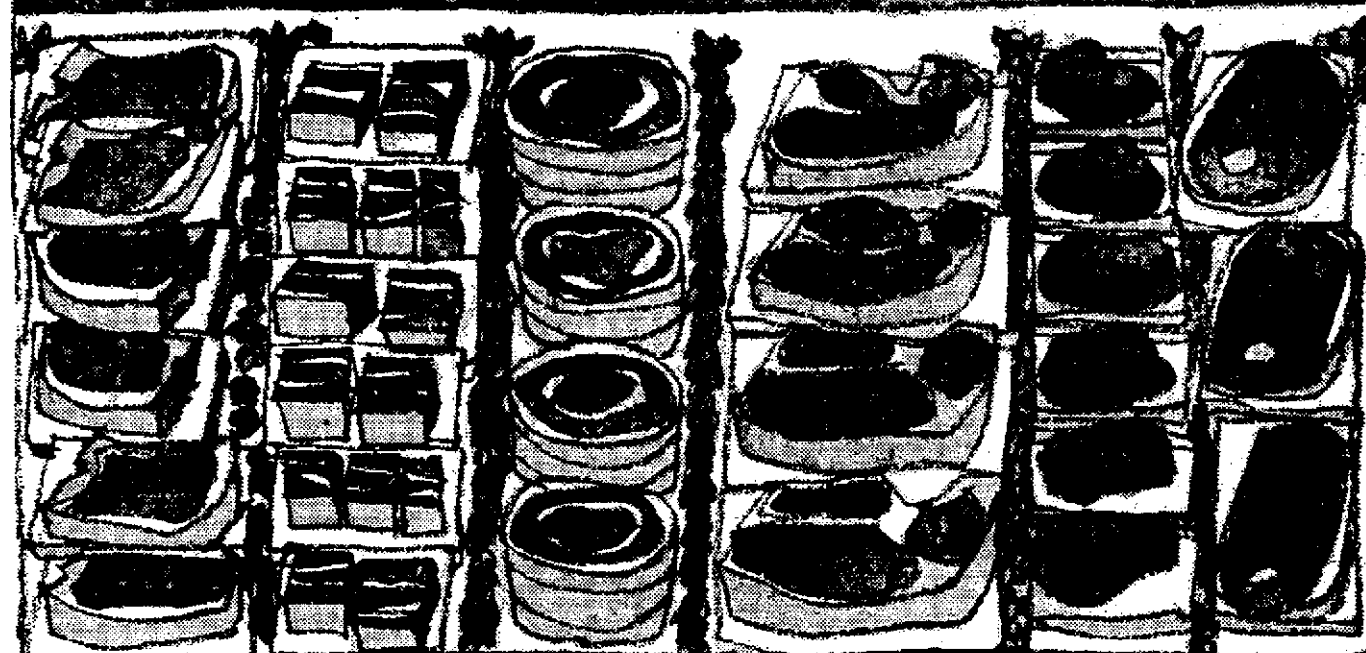

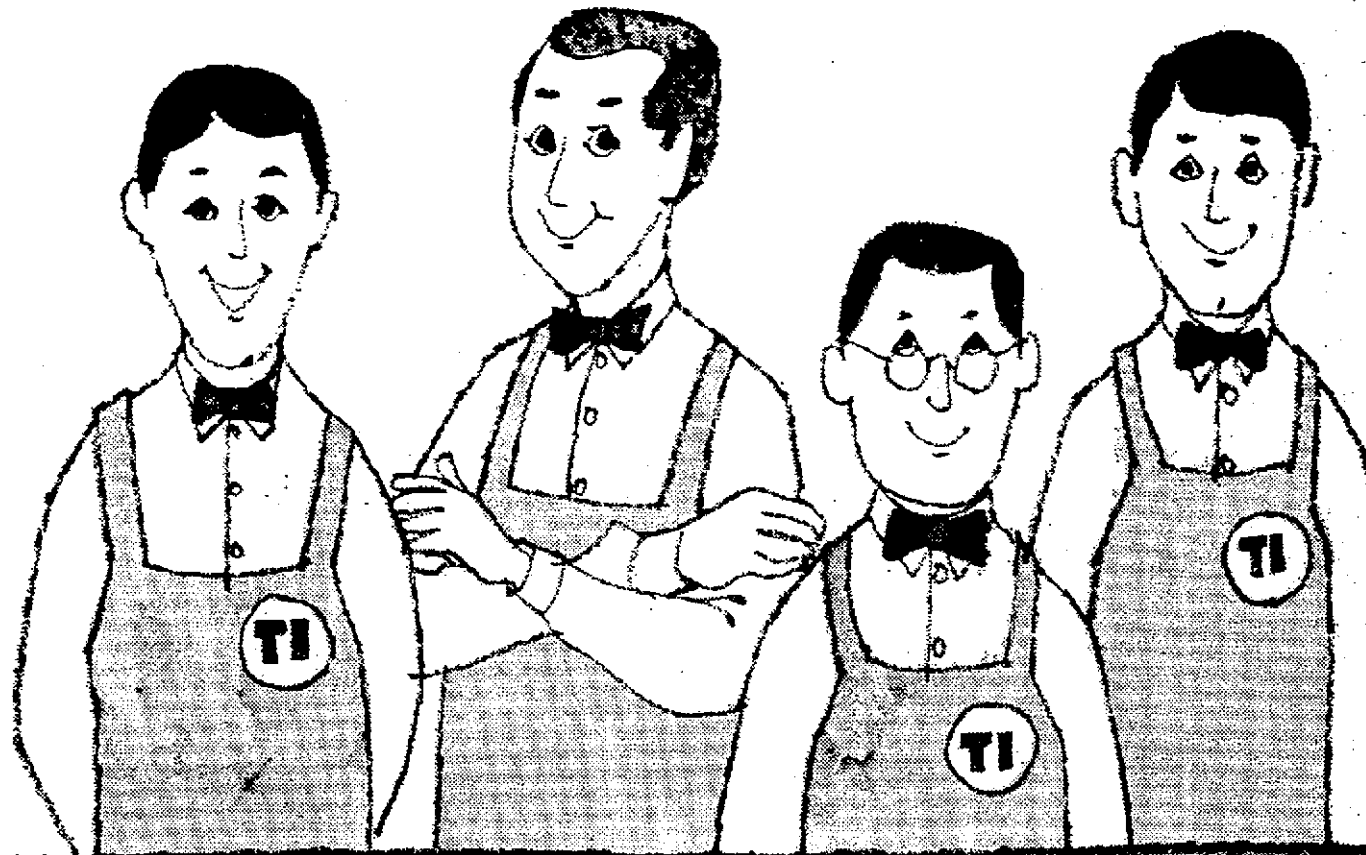

Decline Noted in Kaukauna Birth, Death Rate in '67

KAUKAUNA — Births and deaths declined in the city during 1967, according to the annual report by James Gertz, deputy health officer. The decline of births was the sixth in the last seven years.

Births decreased 10 per cent from 459 in 1966 to 425 in 1967. Births in 1965 numbered 453 while in 1966 there were 555. The 1963 births numbered 604, while there were 606 in 1962 and 654 in 1961. This amounts to a 33 per cent decline from 1961 to 1967.

Deaths in 1967 numbered 78, compared to 98 in 1966. Marriages also showed a decline in 1967 from 89 to 86 and illegitimate births increased from seven to eight. Gertz, pointed out, of the births in 1967, 258 were born to non-residents and 167 to city residents.

Thrifty Menus

In Old-Fashioned Flavor or
With New-Fashioned Flair

By Lillian Mackesy POST-CRESCENT FOOD EDITOR

With meat prices the way they are and no sign of relief, it takes a bit of kitchen magic these days to feed a family. The important point is not to let down on appetite appeal while keeping stride with the budget.

How long has it been since an old-fashioned pot roast has been served to the family, along with sour cream gravy, onions, potatoes and carrots cooked with the meat? This used to be a thrifty dish back in grandma's day and was a popular winter night's meal on the farm. Serve it with an equally old-fashioned bread pudding which can be cooked in the oven right along with the roast if done in a casserole.

Today's pot roast is browned in butter to enhance its flavor and then is cooked in bouillon (easily made in the modern manner from a bouillon cube). Then, for the best pot roast in the whole wide world, a smooth gravy is made with the touch of sour cream.

Take care, I'm told, with the gravy. To guarantee smooth perfection, add the gravy to the sour cream and not the other way around!

A fruit topping adds a festive touch to the bread pudding... some youngsters today may not even know the utter deliciousness of a well-made bread pudding. The dessert becomes a sweet companion to the old-fashioned vittles. Just the right touch, too.

For refreshing flavor and nutrition, remember the pitcher of milk to be poured generously over the pudding, as well as for drinking with the meal.

If the family or homemaker is looking for adventure... something different yet economical... try Mai Tai Steak and all its Pacific isle trimmings.

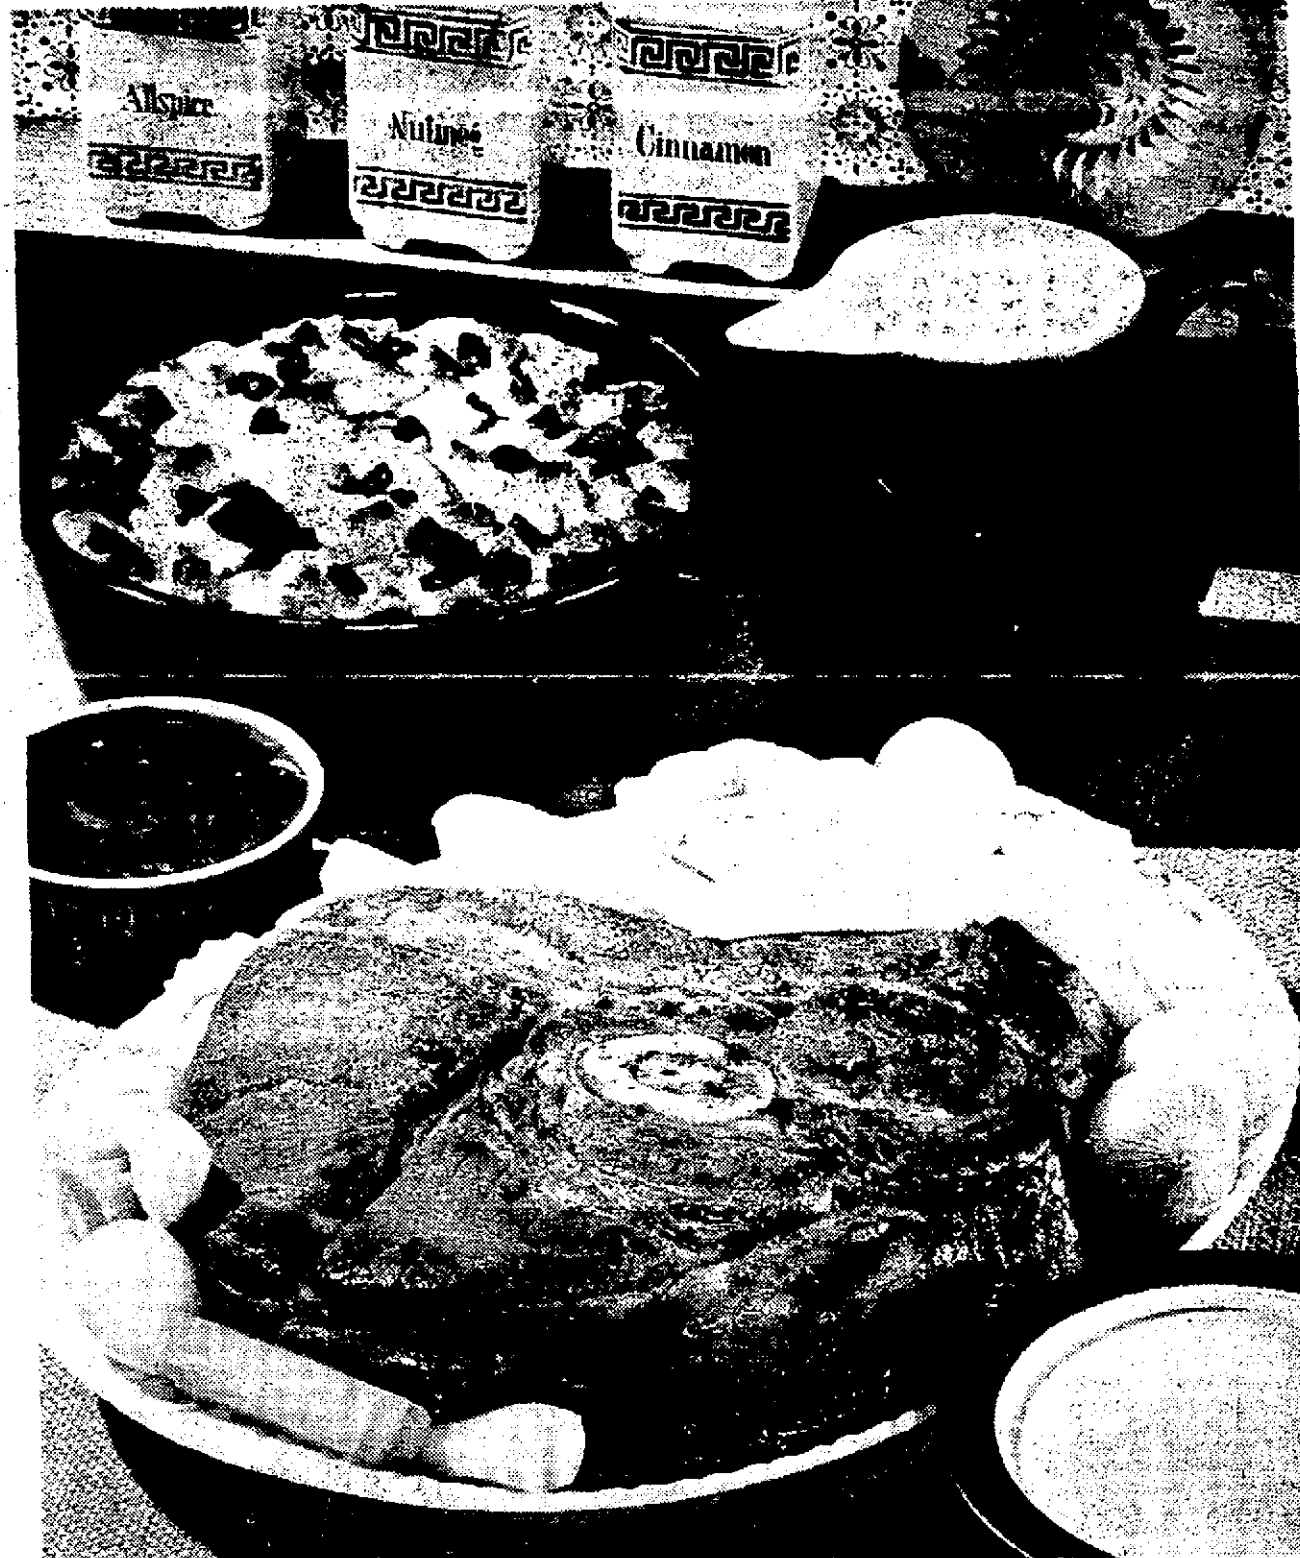

Hawaiian pineapple juice and tenderizer with the addition of a touch of ginger and rum make a marvelous marinade for this flank steak. After 15 minutes, the steak goes into the broiler and the marinade into the sauce.

Accompany the steak with crispy, sweet potato chips in the Japanese manner, green rice, a green salad, and banana fritters with a pineapple sauce. Oriental tea, hot and clear, goes well with this menu.

So here are the recipes for some mighty good eating, whichever menu is chosen. Easy to make and in the thrifty class, but oh so-o-o good!

COUNTRY-STYLE POT ROAST

4 pounds beef pot roast, round or blade bone
Flour
1/4 cup butter
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 beef bouillon cube

This flavorful meal features such old-fashioned dishes as Country-Style Pot Roast, Waldorf Salad, Fruit-Topped Bread Pudding and milk. More important, the hearty, nourishing meal is one of the easy ones to make, even including the sour cream gravy.

1/2 cup hot water
8 medium onions, peeled
4 large potatoes, peeled and quartered
1 pound carrots, peeled and quartered
Salt

1 1/2 cups drippings
3 tablespoons flour
1/2 cup water
1 cup dairy-sour cream at room temperature

Coat both sides of meat with flour. In Dutch oven, melt butter; brown meat slowly on both sides. Sprinkle with teaspoon salt and pepper.

Dissolve bouillon cube in hot water; pour over meat. Cover and place in a preheated, 350-degree oven; cook from 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 hours.

Add onions and carrots; cook 15 minutes.

Add potatoes; sprinkle with salt. Cook 30 to 40 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Remove meat and vegetables to a warmed platter; keep warm.

To prepare Sour Cream Gravy (second part of recipe): Pour drippings into saucepan.

Blend together flour and water. Heat drippings to boiling; gradually stir in flour mixture and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Cook two additional minutes.

In a bowl, gradually add thickened gravy to sour cream. Return to saucepan; heat over low heat to serving temperature.

If Dutch oven is not available, brown meat in large skillet. Place in covered casserole and proceed as above, using regular oven.

Marketing Memo

Money Spent on Food in 1968 To Match '67 Family Budgets

Even though food prices are expected to climb slightly in 1968, total percentage of income spent for food will be about the same as last year, according to Rosemary Stare, consumer marketing specialist at the University of Wisconsin.

The food price hike is predicted about 2 to 3 per cent, points out Mrs. Stare, while the amount of income going for food will remain about 18 per cent.

At local markets this week, fresh produce may be more expensive than usual, due to recent cold weather in the South and West. Quality and prices of most produce items are variable, so it's a good idea to check local markets.

Weather Affects Price

Adverse weather in several big growing areas has affected the price and quality of most fresh produce. Head lettuce seems to have jumped highest in price, this week in the 35 to 40 cent range for a head, except for an occasional bargain.

Recent bad weather in several southern growing areas, has upped the cost of produce shipped from these states. Both fruits and vegetables have been affected and not only will prices be higher but quality will be more variable.

Dry onions and potatoes remain best vegetable buys with the fall potato crop larger than a year earlier and 16 per cent above average.

Affects of weather are causing higher prices on oranges and grapefruit, even though you may find some fairly good citrus buys.

Bananas Good Buy

Highlight at the fruit counter are bananas, supplies are plentiful and quality good. Apples from CA (controlled atmosphere) are excellent quality and higher in price than regular cold storage apples on the market a few weeks ago.

Beef production for 1968 is expected about the same as last year with prices holding steady this winter. Cattle marketings are expected to increase this spring, lowering prices and making this a better time to stock up your freezer.

Broiler-fryers are a bit higher in price but still a good buy. Turkey remains a good value in many markets.

Supplies of large grade A eggs are good and prices reasonable. Production of eggs early this year is expected large bringing low prices to consumers. Later in the year egg prices are expected to increase due to a cutback in egg production.

Charles LaRue to Become Top DeMolay on Saturday

priht, Erie Traas, Scott Schultz, Richard Otman and John Davison. Austin Boncher will be soloist and Mrs. Malcolm Jacobson, organist.

New Mother's Circle officers include Mrs. Walter La Rue, president; Mrs. William Porter, vice president; Mrs. Warner Porlier, treasurer; Mrs. Russell Hunt, secretary; Mrs. John Van Dyke, historian, and Mrs. Robert Dawson, chaplain. They will be installed by John Van Dyke and George Rupright.

Hostesses will be Miss Susan Eckes, Miss Carol Mitchell and retiring chapter sweetheart, Miss Linda Lord, and incoming chapter sweetheart Miss Mary Kriek. Usherettes will be Miss Helen Burge and Miss Bonnie Squier.

Members of Job's Daughters, Bethel 24 will participate in the cross ceremony. The Rev. Donald Severson, associate minister of the First Congregational Church UCC will deliver the benediction.

19-Year-Old May Marry Beatle's Dad

LONDON (AP) — Pauline Jones, 19, says she's determined to marry the 55-year-old father of Beatle John Lennon even if her mother doesn't approve.

Freddie Lennon, John's father, met Pauline last summer when he was working as a hotel kitchen porter. She was helping behind the bar.

"My mother disapproves of my association with an older man," Pauline told a reporter. "I know there's a great difference in our ages, but I'm quite certain I want to marry him."

FRUIT-TOPPED BREAD PUDDING

4 cups bread cubes
3 cups milk
½ cup firmly packed light brown sugar
½ cup seedless raisins
¼ cup butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
3 eggs

Strawberry preserves

Place bread in buttered baking dish, two-quart. In saucepan scald milk; stir in sugar, raisins, butter, vanilla, salt and nutmeg.

In a medium bowl beat eggs; gradually blend in milk mixture. Pour over bread. Set dish in shallow pan on oven rack. Pour hot water in pan one-inch deep. Bake in a preheated, 350-degree oven 50 to 60 minutes or until knife inserted near center comes out clean. Serve warm topped with preserves. Recipe serves eight persons.

MAI TAI STEAK

1 package Instant Meat Marinade
¾ cup Hawaiian Pineapple Juice
2 tablespoons dark rum
2 teaspoon ground ginger

In a shallow pan, thoroughly blend marinade with pineapple juice, rum and ginger. Place steak in marinade. Pierce all surfaces thoroughly and deeply with a kitchen fork to carry flavor deep-down and lock in natural juices. Marinate 15 minutes, turning several times. Remove steak from marinade; drain, reserving remaining marinade for sauce.

Place steak on broiler rack set two inches from heat source. Broil a total of five to eight minutes, turning once.

Transfer steak to a carving board; carve meat in very thin, diagonal slices.

MAI TAI SAUCE

Marinade
¾ cup pineapple juice
1 tablespoon dark rum
1 teaspoon cornstarch

Drain off excess fat from pan drippings; add to remaining drippings in pan the rest of marinade, pineapple juice, rum and cornstarch. Blend well. Bring sauce to boil; reduce heat and simmer for five minutes to blend all ingredients. Serve hot over sliced steak.

SWEET POTATO CHIPS

3 medium sweet potatoes, peeled and thinly sliced

1 quart oil or fat for frying

Soak potato slices in cold water for 15 minutes; drain thoroughly. Fry in deep fat at 350 degrees, until the potatoes are a delicate brown. Drain on absorbent paper towels.

These are delicious served as a snack, with salads, as a main course vegetable, or sprinkled with powdered sugar for dessert.

Recipe makes four to six servings.

GREEN RICE

1 cup uncooked rice
1 cup chopped fresh parsley
1 onion, finely chopped
1 green pepper, seeded and thinly sliced into strips
2 eggs, separated
1 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 cup milk
¼ cup butter, melted
Salt, pepper to taste

Cook rice; add all other ingredients except egg whites. Beat egg whites until stiff. Fold in egg whites. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes. Recipe makes five to six servings.

BANANA FRITTERS WITH PINEAPPLE SAUCE

1 cup flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup sugar
1 egg, well beaten
½ cup milk
2 teaspoons oil
4 bananas (firm), peeled and sliced into quarters lengthwise.
Flour
Pineapple Sauce

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Combine egg, milk, oil. Add to dry ingredients and mix well. Do not thin.

Coat bananas well with flour; dip into batter, covering completely. Deep fry about five minutes, turning to brown evenly. Serve hot with pineapple sauce. Recipe makes four to six servings.

PINEAPPLE SAUCE

3 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
Pinch salt
1 cup pineapple juice
1 teaspoon lemon juice
¼ cup canned crushed pineapple

Mix together sugar, cornstarch, salt and pineapple juice. Bring to boil; cook until thick. Remove from heat; add lemon juice, crushed pineapple. Serve hot over banana fritters.

Sheinwold Experience Needed for Right Play

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

In some defensive situations you must trust to your experience to guide you instantaneously to the right play. If you stop to think, even for just a moment, your hesitation will tell declarer exactly what he wants to know.

When today's hand was played a few months ago in a match between France and Norway, East won the first trick with the ace of hearts and returned the king of hearts and led the king of clubs.

When West followed with the jack of clubs, declarer overtook with dummy's ace and returned a low spade from dummy. East, taken by surprise, wondered whether to play the ace or one of the low spades.

After a second of reflection, East realized that the location of the ace of spades was a secret known not only to all four players and the kibitzers but also to two old ladies and a dog who had wandered into the hall under the impression that it was a museum. With an apologetic smile on his face, East put up the ace of spades and led his last heart.

Takes Nine Tricks

South needed only the information about the ace of spades. He could take one spade to add to his two hearts and six clubs to make the game.

If East had played a low spade without telltale hesitation, South had the Q-J of spades and losing finesse with the jack of spades. West would return a heart, and South would get only eight tricks at most — if he took them on the run.

It would be correct for East to play the ace of spades if South had the Q-J of spades and the ace of diamonds instead of what he actually held in those suits. Perhaps East should be able to tell what South actually has in spades and diamonds, but East must do so without taking time to think about it.

Bridge is not always an easy game.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes. You hold: S-A 5 3, H-A 10 6, D-7 5 3, C-5 4 3 2. What do you say?

Answer: Bid two spades.

Raise partner's major suit when the alternative is a response of 1NT. Sometimes the information about reasonable trump support is all partner needs to bid an excellent game.

Engagement Announced

BRILLION — The engagement of Miss Ellen Behnke to Marvin Boettcher has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman C. Behnke, route 1. Her fiancé is the son of Leonard Boettcher, 214 Center Cr., and the late Mrs. Boettcher.

Miss Behnke is employed at Aluminum Specialty Co., Chilton. Mr. Boettcher is with Ariens Co.

Birth Defects Poster Child 'Doomed' Boy Graduates From High School, Plans College

BY BOB MONROE

NEW YORK (AP) — Jeffrey Reil, the first poster child in the March of Dimes birth defects program, graduates from high school today — a day doctors once feared he would never live to see.

In 1959, when Jeffrey's poster picture appeared throughout the country, physicians told his parents they did not expect he would live long enough to finish grammar school.

But the doctors and social workers, teachers and therapists — as well as his own family — never gave up on the 20-year-old youth who is paralyzed in both legs because of a spinal defect. Neither did Jeffrey.

Explains Perseverance

"It just had to be done," he said in an interview Monday night, explaining the perseverance that enabled him to complete a full high school course in the board of education's home instruction program.

Jeffrey's education began when he was six years old and a patient at St. Giles Hospital, Brooklyn and continued in a succession of visits by public school teachers at home and in hospitals.

Although he is confined to a wheel chair, except for short walks aided by braces and crutches, he did try going out to school in 1963. "I had to give it up," he said. "The travel was kind of hard and I didn't get home until late."

The next semester he resumed classes at home where teachers came three to five times a week for hour-long sessions.

"I got a lot of help and encouragement from them," he said. "You get a lot of personal instruction. And if you have trouble with a subject the teacher can help you out."

As other youngsters, Jeffrey drops his studies in the summer. "I read, go out, go to the ball games," he said, adding that he's a Mets fan.

Jeffrey lives with his stepfather, Harry J. Savino, a Brooklyn baker, his mother, a sister and two brothers in their Annadale, Staten Island, home. Proud as he is of his achievement today, his eyes are on the future. "I'm taking my college boards in March," he said, "I want to go away to school. After college I want to go to law school."

He's looking forward to it all. As he explains: "I have to make my own way. I have to do it myself."

Mrs. McClanahan Attends Luncheon at White House

Mrs. Mabel R. McClanahan, Appleton, president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc. has been invited by the wife of the president, Mrs. Lyndon Johnson, to a luncheon at The White House Thursday.

Although the invitation did not state the purpose of the luncheon, an earlier press release indicated that Mrs. Johnson has invited 50 women to discuss what citizens can do about the crime problem, with emphasis on preventive procedures.

One of the scheduled speakers, Miss Katherine Peden, the woman member of President Johnson's Study Commission on Riot Control, is a past national president of BPW.

Mrs. McClanahan expected to leave for Washington, D. C. this morning, and from there will go on to another meeting in the East.

Clothing Prices Rise Labor Experts Confirm What Dad Always Knew

BY NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department has made official what most husbands already know—it costs a lot more to keep women well dressed than men.

And, says a report in the Monthly Labor Review, the higher cost of clothing for ladies persists from ages 2 to 72.

The greatest spending differences are at the age of 16 and 17, when the average girl's wardrobe costs 42 per cent more than a boy's.

The report by Ann Erickson of the department's Division of Living Conditions Studies added Tuesday that both sexes become more clothes conscious in their mid and late teens.

"Although 18 to 24-year-olds had the highest clothing bills, their average expenditures were only slightly higher than the 16 and 17-year-olds," said the report.

Special Clothes

"Persons in both age groups tend to be fashion conscious, like to have special clothes for dates and school activities, and often have more money to spend on clothing than younger teenagers—they are more likely to have income from part-time or full-time jobs," it said.

The report, based on a survey of buying habits over several years, said the average family spends $170.73 a year on clothing for men between the ages of 18 and 64 and $219.25 on women of the same ages. But those figures should be upped 10 per cent or more because of price hikes the past few years, the report said.

Lucky Squeeze

Fathers with young children, the study indicated, were lucky to squeeze an occasional new suit for themselves out of the family budget.

"For men, the lowest clothing purchases were reported for husbands whose children were all under 18," it said.

For youngsters from age 2 to 5, $73.98 a year was spent on girls and $67.49 on boys, the report said.

The higher rate of spending on women's clothes, after reaching the peak of 42 per cent for 16 and 17-year-olds, gradually decreases to 26 per cent at age 25.

But the disparity, although narrowing, continues all the way into the 65-plus age group where clothing expenditures for both men and women decline but women still outspend men by an average $99.73 to $77.16 a year.

Engagement Of Daughter Announced

A September wedding is planned by Miss Lana Jean Doeher and Daniel J. Metko, both of Appleton. The announcement has been made by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Doeher, Spencer. Mr. Metko is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Metko, Antigo.

Miss Doeher is employed by the Wisconsin Department of Revenue. Her fiancé is with Miller Electric Mfg. Co.

Marriage Plans Told

MILWAUKEE — A June 29 wedding is planned by Miss Cheryl Hoyt and John H. Illemann. The announcement has been made by her mother, Mrs. Dolores Hoyt, 5139 N. 47th St. Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Illemann, route 3, Chilton.

Mr. Illemann is an apprentice patternmaker with Neenah Foundry Co.

cealers for broken nails have been available only in average to large sizes.

Face sculpture sticks and creams to make quick work of contouring. These are beamed especially to lovelies who have not mastered the application of contouring pressed powders.

For the care of the face and hair, an upsurge of lotions and conditioners with natural protein. There is evidence that a topical use of proteins benefits dry, aging conditions.

Water-thin skin cleansing lotions to combat the effects of air pollution and activate a clear tone. The work is done by a combination of cleansers, vitamins and a germicide.

Aerosols in unlimited shapes that promise to replace such

Fruit-Chive Dip for Raw Vegetables

The tape measure and the scale so often reveal a needed "thumbs-down" on calories. Yet low calorie count need not mean low in flavor. Dull diet foods that do not appeal visually and nutritionally contribute little or nothing to the diet

Solve the problem easily. arrange a platter of brilliantly colored (eat as much as you want) raw vegetables and dip them into a vivid orange and pineapple sauce.

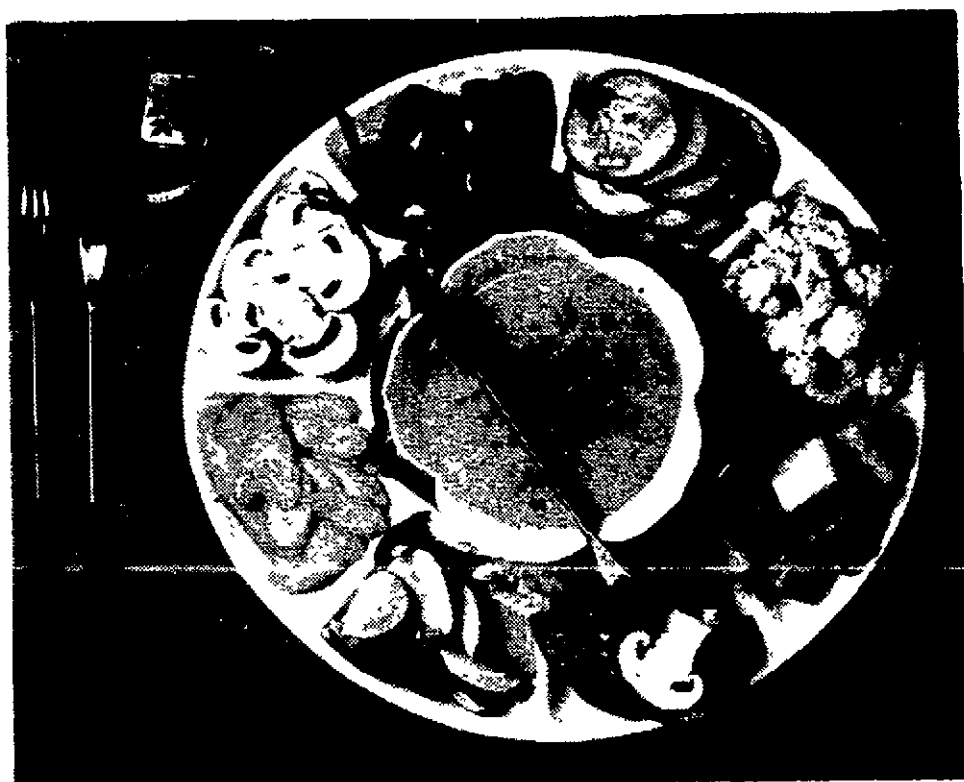

Do you question orange, pineapple and chives? The Mexicans long have enjoyed this great combination of flavor and color. The tart, sweet flavor of the dip adds interest to the raw vegetables. Serve it between-meals as a snack to prevent hunger pangs so discouraging to dieters.

Spices and herbs add flavor and interest to otherwise bland foods without adding calories. Green bits of chives with their farm fresh flavor come packed in plastic cups and are found in the grocer's frozen food cabinet. Take them home and use them liberally on those diet foods to add flavor without calories. No over low heat, stirring constantly in preparation, no waiting to thaw, just use them liberally in all your cooking concentrated pineapple juice, thawed and undiluted

2 cups water
2 tablespoons frozen chopped chives

Combine cornstarch, fruit juices, water and chives. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until sauce bubbles and thickens. Serve hot or cold.

Surround with quartered radishes, sliced raw carrots, raw "cauliflowerets", green pepper squares, cucumber slices, tomato wedges, raw mushroom slices, celery slices with fork for spearing and dunking. The dip recipe makes about four and one-half cups.

Fresh vegetable appetizers appearing clockwise from the thin tomato wedges under the dipping fork are quartered pepper squares, paper thin slices of cucumbers with rind left, radishes sliced raw carrots, raw mushroom slices, green on, flowerets of cauliflower and celery slices.

Your Problems

Husband's Drinking, Temper Cause Loneliness for Mate

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I room County right into our dining When I told Mary we didn't allow TV during meals. she was not only shocked but indignant

Landers

My husband spends most of the winter in bed because he makes enough money so he doesn't have to work all year 'round, yet he criticizes me because I "waste time" on the phone I keep my home neat and clean and take good care of the children. He is fairly good to them although he blows up at the older one, just as he does with me.

I know I cannot change my husband so I have quit trying. I know, too, that you cannot help me—or him. I guess I had to write because I need someone to confide in. Thank you for listening.—Lansing

Dear Lansing: If you really want to help yourself and your husband, write to Al-Anon. The national headquarters is P.O. Box 182, Madison Square Station, New York, N.Y. 10010. You may not be able to cure him of his alcoholism but you will learn how to have a decent life in spite of it. Furthermore, you will meet many courageous women who have learned to function within the framework of a husband's illness.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My cousin came to visit last week and brought her two children, aged 8 and 10. Our children are 7, 9 and 11. When we sat down to dinner the first night, Mary hauled out a small portable TV set and placed it on the table. I asked her what she was doing. "Oh," she replied "We always look at TV during dinner. It keeps the kids quiet." With that she flicked on a western and brought the thundering herd and shooting sheriff of Braintree for the family to exchange ideas and be a family. It is frightening how many parents permit their children to watch anything just to keep them quiet. If the only way Mary can get her children to behave in a civilized manner at the table is to put on the TV, she has failed them miserably.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our son is 22, has his Army service behind him and will finish trade school in March. He met a girl who is 18 and looks like a hippie. She dropped out of high school and does not work because she must "think things through." If she works she cannot pay enough attention to her "thinking."

Yesterday our son said he wants to marry this girl but he can't afford an apartment. He asked if we would let them both stay in his room. The boy has never caused us any trouble. He is a gentle person and we think he just feels sorry for this girl. What shall we do?—Pennsylvania Problem

Dear Pennsylv: The boy is of legal age and there is nothing you can do to stop him from making his own bed. But it doesn't have to be in your house.

Without knocking the girl, simply tell him you hope he will not get married until he can afford to make a home for himself and his wife.

Alcohol is no shortcut to social success. If you think you have to drink to be accepted by your friends, get the facts. Read "Booze and You — For Teen-Agers Only," by Ann Landers. Send 35 cents in coin and long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Post-Crescent, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope (Copyright, 1968)

3 Days of Bliss can Banish Holiday Bulge

"Our new diet is blissful compared to most crash diets," commented Mary Manning, Chief Dietitian for Fairmont Foods Co., as she described the new Fairmont Cottage Cheese Diet that helps people lose up to 5 lbs. in just 3 days. "It's very nearly a perfect diet mainstay," said Miss Manning, referring to the role Fairmont Cottage Cheese plays in the new diet. "It provides all of the good nutrients of milk, including the superior milk protein. Yet it's 96% fat-free. And that means you can eat enough to satisfy your appetite while you're melting away up to 5 pounds in just 3 days."

DIET IS FREE

The diet is free and comes on the tops of Fairmont Cottage Cheese cartons. Remember, once you've lost weight, continuing weight reduction and control depend on sound nutritional dietary habits. Look for the amazing Fairmont Cottage Cheese Diet in the dairy department. If you don't see it, ask for it. It's free with every carton.

Volunteers Presented Pins At Hospital Awards Day

Volunteers who have donated 100 or more hours of service to St. Elizabeth Hospital received award pins Monday at the general meeting of the hospital auxiliary.

Mrs. Jacob Groeschel, volunteer coordinator, said the 100 hours-or-more pins went to volunteers who have put in their hours within a one year period of time. Other award pins indicated accumulative hours.

The pins were presented by Sister M. Kathleen, hospital administrator. Mrs. Groeschel said during the past month, Pink Ladies with the help of the Candy-Strippers, had "unselfishly contributed 1,976 hours performing various services to the hospital."

More Than 3,000 Hours each have been donated to St. Elizabeth Hospital by the two women, at left, receiving awards from Sister M. Kathleen, hospital administrator. Accepting their carded pins are Mrs. Edward Schneider and Mrs. George Barrett. Above are Miss Louise Koll, 100-hour Candy Stripper; Mrs.

Eugene Hoffman, 100 hours; Mrs. Wilford Vandenberg, 500 hours; Mrs. W. Robert Schmidt, 100 hours; Mrs. Edward Emmer, 1,000 hours and Mrs. Jacob Groeschel, volunteer coordinator. (Post-Crescent Photos)

Nurse to Speak On Health, Diet At Home-School

KAUKAUNA — Mrs. Donald R. Yingling, city nurse, will speak on "Health And Diet," at a meeting of the St. Mary Home-School Association at 8 p.m. Thursday in the school gym.

Mrs. Yingling received nurse's training at Mercy Hospital School of Nursing, Oshkosh, and has public health and nursing credits from the University of Wisconsin. She was on the nursing staff at Kaukauna Community Hospital from 1955 until three years ago when she was named city nurse.

A playlet, "How The Elf Tricked Himself," will be presented by sixth graders. Lunch will be served in the school cafeteria by members of the hospitality committee.

Village PTO To Learn Facts About Testing

COMBINED LOCKS — Testing programs in the elementary schools will be discussed at a meeting of the Combined Locks Parent-Teacher Organization at 8 p.m. tonight at Janssen School auditorium.

Pierce Giffey, sixth grade teacher, will explain I. Q. tests for grades three through six; Mrs. Patrick Sexton, fifth grade teacher, the Iowa basic skills test; Mrs. Robert Martzahl, first grade teacher, the Stanford Achievement Tests, and Mrs. Dennis Wydeven, kindergarten teacher, the Primary Mental Abilities test.

W. Laurence Geeding, project psychologist for Title III, and Richard Jokels, Title III project psychometrist, will discuss the testing program which CESA conducted at the elementary school level last fall. Results of this test help to carry out remedial reading programs for grades three through five. There will be a question and answer period and lunch will be served by mothers of first graders.

Parents' World

Bed-Wetting, Fascination For Fires Have Correlation

BY DR. EVE JONES

DEAR DR. JONES: Almost every day I see a news item about a little child who has killed himself by playing with matches, despite many warnings from his parents.

Why are some children so terribly fascinated with fire and others not? If there's something psychological about all this, perhaps parents could watch out especially carefully for those children who have such special tendencies and more tragic accidents could be prevented.

Please say something about this in your column. MRS. T. G.

There is indeed a connection between a particular psychological hang-up and fascination with fire — and the truly including matches. Parents who have caught their children playing with fire will do well to stop all fussing about toilet matters and also all harping on proper table manners, cleanliness, and other forms of measuring up to perfectionist standards of orderliness.

DEAR DR. JONES: Is punishing a child better than spanking? MRS. U. T.

Until a person is truly able to decide for himself how to act, it's foolish to punish him in any way for the way he has acted. None of us becomes capable of genuine independence of judgment until we're young adults, so it seems silly to me for parents to use any form of punishment with their children before college age. Until then, it's up to the parents to arrange matters so a child is channeled into doing the things he's supposed to do and prevented from doing the things he isn't allowed to do. When there's a slip-up, parents might as well limit themselves to telling their children they're angry and then forget it.

tragic fact is that the parents themselves cause the psychological problem by making their children feel ashamed of bladder urgency. Strangely enough, there's great truth in the old adage: If you play with matches, you'll wet the bed. But turning it around makes for greater meaning: A child who is forcibly trained to use the toilet, especially if this happens to him long before he is 2 years old, and a child who is punished and ridiculed for bedwetting is likely to be extremely interested in everything explosive and bursting.

Unit Plans Junior Legion Potluck Dinner

Mrs. Dale Brost, senior auxiliary Civil Defense and National Security chairman, spoke before the Saturday meeting of the American Legion Junior Auxiliary Post 38 at the clubhouse. Her topic concerned ways and means of keeping the country and state a safe place to live. Mrs. Brost also announced that winners of the National Security and Civil Defense poster contest would be revealed at the group's February meeting.

Mrs. Marion Vanderlois, senior legislation chairman, explained the procedure of making laws to the group. Miss Carleen Schmidt has been elected to represent the Appleton unit as Poppy Princess of 1968.

The Junior Auxiliary plans a candy sale at the clubhouse Feb. 5. The next meeting is a father-daughter potluck dinner planned for 1 p.m. Feb. 10 at the clubhouse.

No Need to Rip Up Old Linoleum

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q I don't really feel like all the work involved in ripping up the old, worn out kitchen linoleum, including the messy residue of scraps of hardened paste, felt and such. How about giving the surface a thorough cleaning and then putting down some good floor enamel? Will this stand up? — Baltimore.

A It sure will stand up, just as well as it stands up on a porch floor, for example. A real good work-saving idea, and it should look very nice too. Be sure, in your clean-up job, that you get rid of all traces of wax or grease.

Q We are planning a considerable addition, including a fireplace in a big new living room. Can this fireplace be cut into the present chimney flue now used by the furnace? A friend tells me no. — Buffalo.

A Your friend is right. Any time another heat source shares, noticed a stain, dark brown and in the same flue, trouble can have an odor like creosote, arrive. Downdrafts, for ex-ample, as well as very poor updrafts when the furnace is chimney. Can this stain be supposed to be drawing. New removed? Or what should I do? fireplace? It should have its own — Boston.

Q The mortar between the bricks in my basement walls seems to be powdering and getting weak. Would paint prevent any more such deterioration? — Columbus.

A: Painting is a waste of time and money. At best it would only be a temporary restraint. For less energy, time and expense, you can do it right. Rake out the crumbling stuff for at least one-half inch. Wet the area down well. Then pack with patching mortar, mixed according to label directions. Keep your handwork sprayed and damp for at least a week, to assure slow, thorough curing (which is what the previous mortar didn't get. Hence the problem now).

Q We bought an older house a few months ago. After a very heavy and prolonged rain, I noticed a stain, dark brown and in the same flue, trouble can have an odor like creosote, arrive. Downdrafts, for ex-ample, as well as very poor

Six Instructors Gain New Rank At Lawrence

Six Lawrence University faculty members were promoted to the rank of associate professor Monday by the board of trustees.
Appointment to this rank implies tenure. The following have been designated for the promotion:
Dr. John P. Dreher, philosophy.
Dr. Chong-Do Hah, government.
Dr. Michael J. LaMarca, biology.
Dr. Allen C. West, chemistry.
Dr. Richard W. Winslow, Spanish.
Dr. Richard W. Zuehlke, chemistry.
They will assume their rank with the start of the next academic year.
Dr. Daniel L. Arnaud has recently become an assistant professor of classics, with the completion of his Ph.D. degree at Stanford.

Caught Dog Locks Catcher Out of Car

Parish Elects Council at Stephenville

STEPHENVILLE — Donald Bungert and Earl Timm were elected to three-year terms on the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church Council at the annual meeting Sunday.
Other council members are

Eldo Ashman, Ervin Lautenschlager, Kenneth Schroeder and Ralph Schroeder. The council will elect officers at a later organizational meeting.
Raymond Ort is the representative on the Fox Valley Lutheran High School operation fund finance committee.
Sunday church services schedule, as adopted, will remain the same as the past year with provisions for a Fox Valley High School Sunday next spring.

A canvass was authorized to determine the amount to be contributed to the congregational mission program being carried out through the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod. It also was voted to reimburse half the cost of the pension plan furnished by the synod for all of the church workers. It also was designated to have the major portion of its charities budgeted to the Wisconsin Lutheran Child and Family Service of Milwaukee and foster home programs.

The Rev. Robert Carter, pastor, will conduct the annual meeting of St. Paul Lutheran Church at 1.30 p.m. Sunday at the church.

Six Children Share Equally In Jacob Estate
Six sons and daughters were named to share equally in a $43,458 estate left by Michael P. H. Jacobs, former Outagamie County Board member and retired grocer who died Sept. 21, 1966, at the age of 84.

Born in Holland, Jacobs operated a grocery store in Appleton until his retirement in 1937 and was a county supervisor for 27 years.
Nearly all of Jacobs' estate consisted of real estate, according to the final judgment entered Tuesday in Outagamie County Probate Court.
The sons and daughters who will share the estate include Leona A. Gyarmati and Bernard H. Jacobs, both of 302 E. Harrison St.; Maurice J. Jacobs, 319 S. Summit St.; Robert P. Jacobs, 824 E. Harding Drive; Delores J. Becker, 1803 Reid Drive, and Fabian P. Jacobs, Kenosha.

why should we guarantee other people's products?

If we didn't, we couldn't honestly say WE CARE. Could we?

You see, before any product is allowed on our shelves, we've checked it out pretty carefully.

We've checked the company that makes it. We've checked to be sure the product is all the package says it is.

If you ever buy anything at A&P you're not happy with, you don't have to bother to write a letter to the company that made it.

We'll get in touch with that company for you...and for us.

That's A&P's guarantee. No matter who makes it, if A&P sells it, A&P guarantees it.

Not every store can offer you a guarantee like that. A&P can...and does.

Histoplasmosis Can Resemble Tuberculosis

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D. skin, or other organs, so can the scar the lungs, leaving permanent signs. In fact, it is extremely difficult at times to distinguish between the two diseases. However, at that point a skin test will give the answer, first the tuberculin test to show whether the TB germ has invaded the body. If not, then the histoplasmin test, another skin test, is used.

Like TB, an attack of histoplasmosis does not make a person immune to future attacks if he encounters the same fungus — the fungus is Histoplasma capsulatum, which appears in almost any part of the world, but in the United States is chiefly prevalent in the humid areas of the mid-continent, such as in the regions of the Ohio and Mississippi River valleys. There have been epidemics a good deal farther north however.

The fungus has been traced to dusty playgrounds or to poultry yards, giving rise to the belief that it may be carried by birds. The disease is found more in rural than in city areas.

Children, especially under the age of 12, are particularly susceptible, and outbreaks in schools are not unusual. Both sexes can get the disease, but boys have it about seven times as often as girls. Adults, of course, may get the disease, too.

There is no specific medicine for histoplasmosis, so from that standpoint, if I had to choose, I'd rather have TB, since we now have very effective drugs for that.

There have been severe cases, of histo in which surgery, to remove scarred parts of the lungs, has been necessary, but for the most part good nursing is the principal treatment.

A change of climate would not be of any particular benefit, once the disease has been contracted.

Dr. Molner

It is caused by a germ, Hansen's bacillus, which accounts for the name of the disease since discovery of the germ.

Note to T.J.F.: It's true — and I've mentioned it many times — that smoking can constrict the blood vessels, so giving up tobacco can be an important factor in preventing cramps in the legs. Usually not the whole story, but part.

Appleton VTE-12 Slates Courses For Clerk-Typist

A one-semester clerk-typist course will be offered starting Jan. 31 by the school of business at the Appleton vocational school. Training in typing, book-keeping, accounting, circulating machines, filing and office procedures will be included.

Students who are interested in a longer period of training also will begin the same day. These areas will include the one- and two-year accounting major course and the sales and marketing course.

Classes meet every day, Monday through Friday. Individual classes or a complete diploma course is offered, and is designed for high school graduates, veterans and other adults.

They have been approved by the Veterans Administration and the Wisconsin State Board of Vocational and Adult Education.

Registrations will be accepted Friday in room 207 at the Appleton branch of the Vocational, Technical and Adult School District 12 (VTE-12).

Passerby Saves Four From Fire

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Max Belding saw fire racing up the wall of an apartment building in southeast Portland Monday. He stopped his car and tried to pull a burning pile of boxes from the side of the building.

Then he ran up the stairs inside, banging on doors, yelling: "You are on fire! Dial O! Yell 'fire' and give the address!"

Belding guided Mr. and Mrs. John Connely to safety. Then flames cut off the stairway. Belding ran outside. He caught Mrs. Loretta Hutchens and her son as they jumped from a 15-foot high second story window.

Fire Bureau spokesmen said that without Belding's warning and action, the occupants might have been killed.

Ben Becomes One of Britain's Richest Dogs

KESWICK, England (AP) — Ben, a 14-year old Lakeland terrier, has inherited 5,000 pounds — $12,000 — to become one of Britain's richest dogs.

The will of widow Madeline Arnison, published last week, declared that she had arranged with John Porter and his wife to look after Ben and give him a home. She directed that 5,000 pounds be invested and the income used to care for Ben as long as he lives. When he dies, the money will go to eight animal charities.

Mrs. Arnison died in October at the age of 84.

Marriage Still Bargain, Kansas Senate Decides

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — State Sen. Steadman Ball, R-Atchison, says his judiciary committee doesn't want to do anything to trip anybody on the way to the altar.

Ball said Monday his committee had considered raising the state's share of the $3.50 state-county marriage license fee from $1 to $2 but had decided against it.

"The feeling was," he said, "that anybody who had a buck ought to be able to get married."

DAILY NEWSPAPERS are a GROWTH BUSINESS

It takes more people to publish today's newspapers

*Any growing business needs more people...
Newspapers are one of the fastest growing businesses in the U.S. today!*

An average of 20,000 men and women now enter America's burgeoning labor force each week. From 1947 through 1963 the nation's economy absorbed 11 million additional workers. Total employment increased 19% in 16 years.

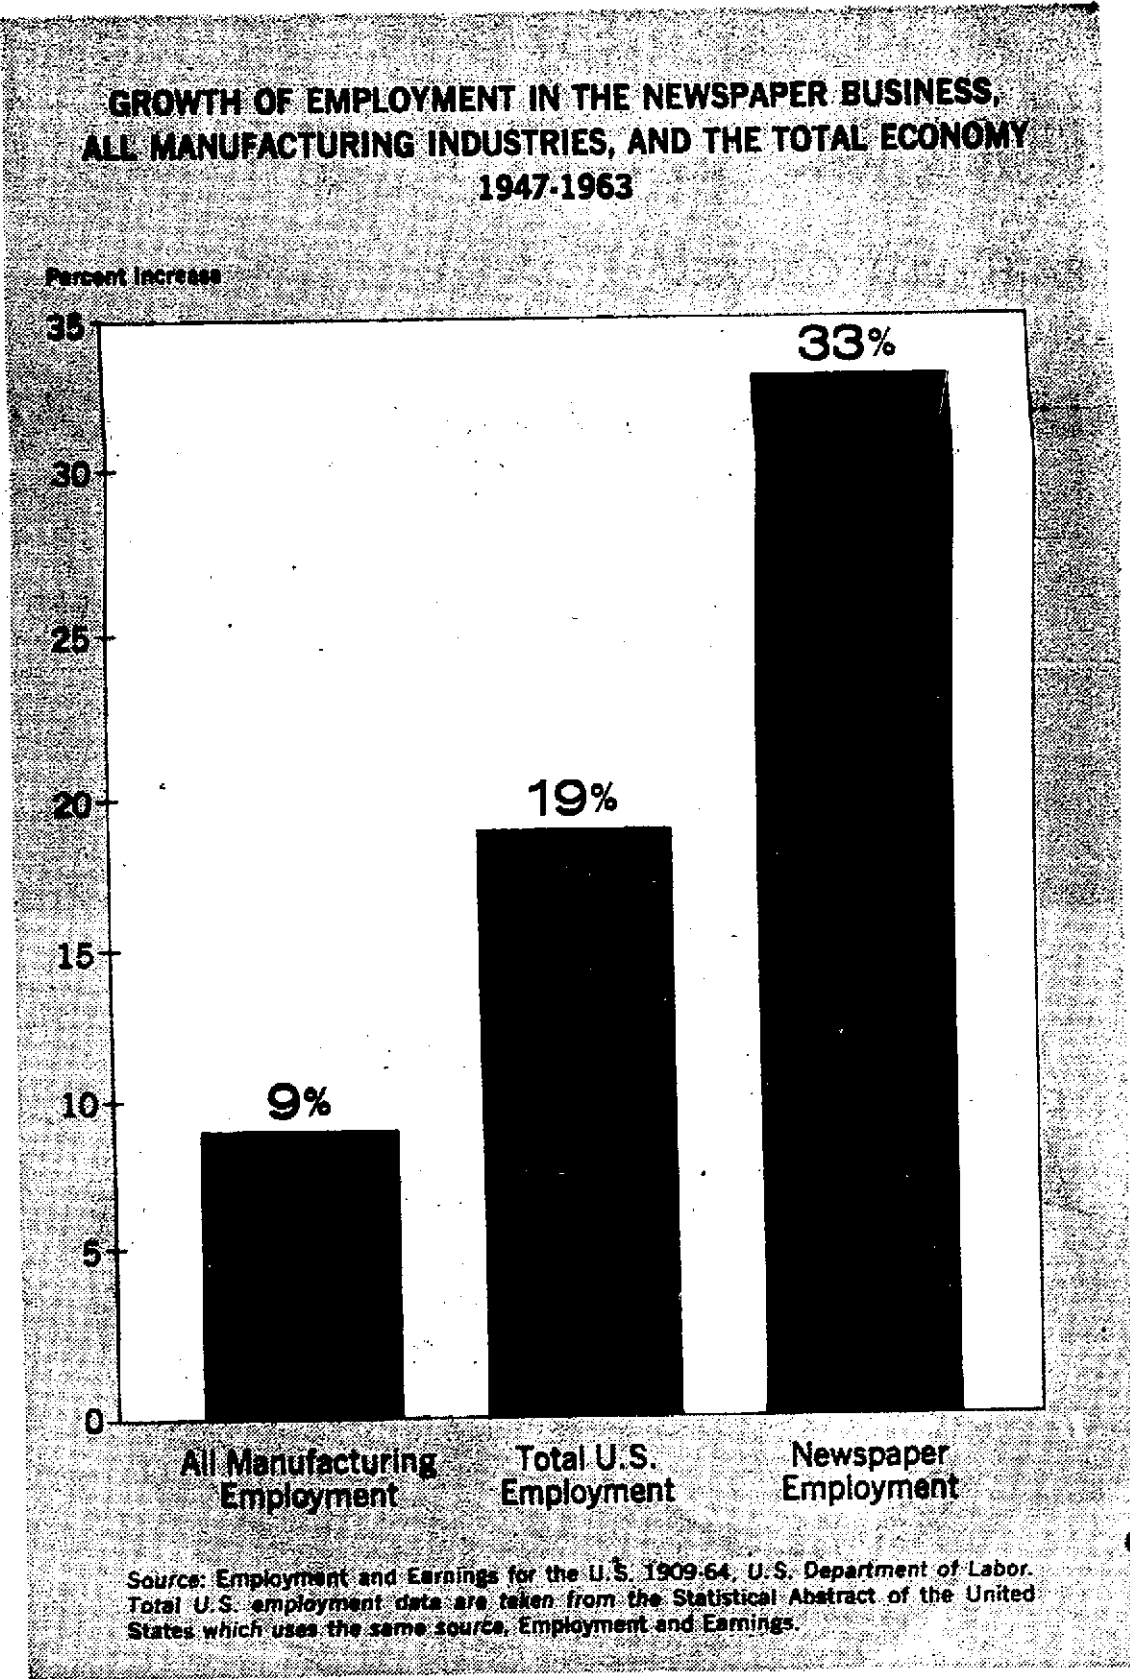

During the same years employment in the daily newspaper business increased by 33% ... to more than 329,000. By comparison, employment in all manufacturing industries rose by 9%, in retail and wholesale trade, 29%. Employment in the transportation industries dropped by 5% and in mining by 33%.

Increase in staff is but one reflection of the overall growth of daily newspapers since the end of World War Two. This growth is also reflected by marked increases in every other significant index—circulation, news content, advertising, newsprint consumption...and all are still growing.

Newspapers are growing for one reason: Only the newspaper covers the news fully and in depth. There is no substitute for the daily newspaper.

For more information on why daily newspapers are a growth business, write for a free copy of the new booklet, "The Growth of the American Daily Newspaper," an economic analysis published by the University of Wisconsin.

Winneconne Cagers Battle Shiocton Friday

Co-Leading Omro Meets Freedom In Little 9 Action

LITTLE NINE CONFERENCE

Omro	W	L	OT	DA
Winneconne	5	1	81.5	68.8
Reedsville	4	1	68.2	59.8
Shiocton	4	2	72.0	66.7

Wrightstown	2	4	67.2	66.5
Freedom	2	4	65.3	75.3
Freedom	0	6	50.2	70.6

Games Friday:
Hilbert at Denmark,
Wrightstown at Reedsville,
Brillion at Hortonville,
Freedom at Omro,
Winneconne at Shiocton.

High-scoring Omro gets a breather, but defense-minded Winneconne should have its hands full as the two co-leaders, each possessing 5-1 records, head into a pivotal Friday night game in the Little Nine Conference.

The Foxes, with sophomore Randy Wade leading the way, will have a home engagement with last-place Freedom Coach Allen Knurr's outfit, with a sparkling 81.5 offensive average, is expected to have little trouble in notching win No. 6.

The Wolves, on the other hand, hit the road to Shiocton to face the ever-dangerous Chiefs. Winneconne has the best defensive mark in the league at 59.8 points-per-game and will have to depend on its defensive prowess in order to stop the best 1-2 punch in the league. Shiocton's Gary Johnson and Dan Gast rank second and fourth in the Little Nine scoring race.

The remaining slate of games Friday sends Wrightstown to Reedsville, Brillion to Hortonville, and Hilbert to Denmark.

Tom Ribarchek, a husky 6-2 Wrightstown junior, is back on top in the battle for league individual scoring crown. A 30-point effort in the Tigers' victory over Denmark last week boosted his total to 136 points, just one ahead of Gast.

Gast also had 30 points against Reedsville in the Chiefs' exciting 72-71 win over the Panthers. Wade has moved up from fifth place to third after hitting 28 in the big Omro win over Hortonville.

Brillion's Russ Hansen came up with the best scoring performance last week, as he pumped in 31 points in his club's 75-73 triumph over Hilbert.

Niagara's Murphy Hits 36 in Defeat; Mount Collects 33

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
This could well be the year of the sophomore in college basketball. Rick Mount of Purdue and Calvin Murphy of Niagara are two of the best.

The 6-foot-3 Mount and the 5-10 Murphy demonstrated their talents to a high degree Tuesday night as midyear exams cut activity to a minimum. None of The Associated Press Top Ten teams saw action.

Mount threw in 33 points to lead Purdue in an 89-60 romp over Indiana at Lafayette, Ind. Murphy tallied 36 in a losing cause as DePaul whipped Niagara 79-72 at Niagara Falls, N.Y.

In other major games, all home court victories, Wisconsin edged Michigan State 70-68. Northwestern downed Minnesota 77-71. Cincinnati defeated Bradley 77-66. Bowling Green beat Kent State 77-60 and Rhode Island routed Vermont 92-65. On the road Dartmouth humbled Harvard 65-60 and Texas A&M squeaked past Texas 88-87.

Slow Down Calvin
Murphy had a hot second half, with 22 points, leading fast breaks and stealing several DePaul passes. To thwart him, the Blue Demons, leading by 75-70 with five minutes left, went into a freeze to keep the ball away from Murphy as much as possible.

Rick Roberson's 23 points paced Cincinnati over Bradley, but the Bearcats lost Gordie Smith for the remainder of the season. He suffered an ankle injury in the second half and is scheduled to undergo surgery today.

Shula Quips He'll Use Rams, Packers on Suicide Team

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Coach world's fastest football player, Don Shula, whose Baltimore Colts were knocked out of the Western Conference title race by the Los Angeles Rams in the National Football League, plans to get "revenge" in Sunday's annual pre-Pro Bowl luncheon East-West Pro Bowl game.

Shula—joking, of course—is back at what he calls the scene of the Rams' 34-10 "crime" as coach of the West team, which includes eight Rams.

"On kickoffs, you know we have what we call the 'suicide team' which goes down on the kick," Shula declared. "My plan is to include among the 11 players on this team the eight Rams."

"I've picked the guy who goes down first to destroy the wedge of blockers. He will be Roman Gabriel, without a question." Gabriel happens to be the Rams' quarterback.

The remaining three on the special team, Shula continued, with a wide smile, will all be Packers and stepped up inter-division play by 12 games per-division.

Shula said he hadn't decided on all three Packers but one would be Don Chandler, whose specialty is field goals.

Coach Otto Graham of the Washington Redskins, who will play 40 games within its division in the East, countered with a similar bit of strategy. His "suicide" team will include the ratio is 50-24.

Football Rules Body Ponders Eight Changes

'Sucker Shift' Among Problems Discussed At NCAA Meeting

PORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Proposed rule changes limiting college football substitution and restricting coaches from signaling plays from the sidelines were among eight scheduled for vote today by the Football Rules Committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA).

Also on the agenda was a proposal to ban the sucker shift, a shift by offensive players that draws the defense offside.

A committee spokesman said came up with home court victorial Hockey League, hoping line to shift if it is part of the routine attack. Teams may not shift in special circumstances 33 points, smothered Indiana's night.

"Like on the one-yard line to draw the other team offside," More than 20 other suggested rule changes were dropped Michigan State 70-68.

Tuesday as the NCAA committee narrowed consideration to the Big Ten crown with Indiana now 4-9, was paced by Jerry last season, now has a 1-2 record.

While Mount was scoring his 33 points, no Indiana player was able to get into double figures. Butch Joyner, Joe Cooke and Rich Atkinson topped Indiana's attack with nine points each.

CHICAGO (AP)—Northwestern's carefree Wildcats have taken a full game lead in the Big Ten basketball race and are threatening to go all the way.

The only undefeated team in Big Ten play, Northwestern recorded its third straight victory Tuesday night by pouncing on Minnesota 77-71.

Junior Terry Gamber led the way with 24 points but scoring honors went to Minnesota's Al Nuness who scored 30 and kept the Gophers in contention all the way.

Tom Kondla, last season's Big Ten scoring champion ran into foul trouble early in the game and played only three minutes.

Nuness, meanwhile, helped Minnesota overcome a 39-33 halftime deficit and lifted the Gophers into a 64-64 tie before Northwestern put on the steam to pull ahead.

Win at Home
Purdue and Wisconsin both led at home court victorial Tuesday night to match one 86-80 in the only two basketball games played by Wisconsin.

Purdue, led by Rick Mount's son's small colleges Tuesday night.

Jim Kueter scored 11 points in Purdue's victory over Wisconsin, paced by Joe leading Lakeland to its nonconference victory over Judson. It was Lakeland's ninth triumph Michigan State, which shared against only two losses Judson.

Collegians Screened in Computer Bowl

By JERRY LISKA
CHICAGO (AP) — Those All-American hotshots and many unsung football graduates of the 1967 collegiate season don't know it, but they are rattling around right now in a post-season classic you could call the Computer Bowl.

Typical of the vast talent search now a prime factor in pro football's golden business, a final screening of standout college seniors is being conducted here by Blesto-V.

Blesto-V stands for the Chicago Bears, Detroit Lions, Philadelphia Eagles, Pittsburgh Steelers and Minnesota Vikings. The TO stands for Talent Organization. It was tacked on the original code name before the Vikings were added to the group.

which is one of three scouting networks snooping in behalf of the NFL's current 15-club draft list when Commissioner Pete Rozelle opens the draft grab-bag Jan. 30.

Another scout combine includes the Los Angeles Rams, San Francisco 49ers and Dallas Cowboys. The third, and largest, represents the Cleveland Browns, Baltimore Colts, St. Louis Cardinals, Green Bay Packers, New York Giants, Washington Redskins, Atlanta Falcons and New Orleans Saints.

Babe Dimancheff, director of personnel for the Bears, points out that the 26 pro clubs, if they draw on all 17 allowed rounds, would tap 442 players from last season's college ranks.

Obviously, the name players soon will be depleted. Therefore, each club needs a solid book on many unheralded players who may have pro potential.

Offense
Split ends—Fred Hyatt, Auburn, and Rich Trapp, Florida.
Flankers—Haven Moses, San Diego State, and Dennis Homan, Alabama.
Tight end—Charley Sanders, Minnesota.
Tackles—Ron Vary, Southern California, and Ernest Ruple, Arkansas.
Guards—Edgar Chandler, Georgia, and Ray Phillips, Michigan.
Center—Bob Johnson, Tennessee.

Quarterbacks—Gary Beban, UCLA, and Greg Landry, Massachusetts.
Running backs—Jim Kiick, Wyoming, Len Snow, Georgia Tech, and Dwight Lee, Michigan State.
Fullback—Larry Csonka, Syracuse, and Lee White, Weber State.

Rush linemen—Kevin Hardy, Notre Dame, Dennis Byrd, North Carolina State, Curley Culp, Arizona State, Steven Thompson, Washington, and Claude Humphrey, Tennessee.
Linebackers—Fred Carr, Texas Western, Mike McGill, Notre Dame, and Wayne Meyland, Nebraska.
Halfbacks—Charles West, Texas Western, and Bob Pederson, Washington.
Corner backs—Jim Smith, Oregon, and Major Hazelton, Florida A&M.
Safety—Dick Anderson, Colorado.

Starr Praises Raiders' Play games, college, pros, afternoon, morning and night, it makes no difference. I love it.

"A strange thing, too, I become a fan. I don't second-guess. I seldom criticize. I just sit there and enjoy it."

Starr, in town to accept his second straight sports car from Sport Magazine as the outstanding player of the Super Bowl game, admitted that three of his favorites are Johnny Unitas, quarterback of the rival Baltimore Colts; Joe Namath, passing star of the New York Jets; and Gale Sayers, the Chicago Bears' star merchant.

"Of course, Unitas is a close friend but I admire him greatly," the Packer signal-caller says. "Sayers fascinates me—that fellow can really run—and as for Namath, what a passer he is. If he had two good legs, the only way they could stop him would be to put him in jail."

Starr said his wife, Cherry, and two sons, Bart, Jr., 10, and Bret, 6, also are rabid fans.

"Bart, Jr., is crazy about Rosie Grier (the former Giant now with the Los Angeles Rams)," he added. "He thinks Grier weighs 600 pounds and can stop whole football team single-handed."

Name Red Sox 'Team of Year'

Picked Ahead of Cards; Packers Fourth in Voting

NEW YORK (AP) — The 1967 Boston Red Sox are the 1967 Sports Team of the Year. In balloting conducted by The Associated Press and participated in by 372 sports writers and broadcasters, the Cinderella Red Sox, winners of the American League pennant, beat out the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Red Sox drew 133 first-place votes and 629 points. The Cardinals drew 78 first-place ballots and 539 points. Points were awarded on the basis of 3 for a first-place vote, 2 for a second-place vote and 1 for a third-place vote.

The UCLA basketball team, unbeaten during the 1967 season, was third in the voting, and the Green Bay Packers, winner of the Super Bowl over Kansas City last year, were fourth. The Baltimore Colts, winners of 13 straight games this season, were fifth.

The Top Ten in the voting with first place votes in parentheses and total points on a 2-2-1 basis:

1. Boston, baseball (133) 629
2. St. Louis, baseball (78) 539
3. UCLA, basketball (51) 311
4. Green Bay, football (30) 212
5. Baltimore, football (19) 103
6. Philadelphia, basketball (14) 103

Only Clubs in NBA Move Up

Royals Wallop SF; Bulls Cop Seventh Win in 10 Starts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The National Basketball Association's pussycats are turning into tigers.

The Cincinnati Royals, to take one example at hand, won their fourth straight game Tuesday night, thrashing the San Francisco Warriors 148-121. If the Royals can win just one more, their season record will be an even 500.

Then there are the Seattle SuperSonics, an expansion team that has had trouble doing much more than staying on the court. But the club made it two in a row Tuesday, beating Baltimore 142-116 and, in escaping the league's Western Division cellar.

That spot fell to the San Diego Rockets, a have-not team that kept right on not having, losing to Chicago 123-110 Tuesday.

Muskies Beaten
In American Basketball Association action Tuesday, Kentucky beat Pittsburgh 107-106. Denver took Minnesota 111-94 and Dallas defeated Oakland 119-12.

Oscar Robertson's 27 points and Jerry Lucas' domination of the backboards gave Cincinnati its easy win. At the end of the third period the Royals led by 40 points. Fred Hetzel led the Warriors with 27 points.

Tom Meschery scored 33 points for Seattle, hitting 2 of 14 shots from the floor in the second half. Walt Hazzard scored 30 for the SuperSonics, while Earl Monroe scored 25 for the Bulls.

Flynn Robinson scored 35 points for Chicago and Bob Boozer added 28. It was the Bulls' seventh victory in 10 games. Dave Gambee led San Diego with 24 points.

Leafs Tip NHL Stars, 4 to 3

TORONTO (AP) — Bruce Gamble wears his sideburns long and spends a lot of time listening to Western music — when he's not facing the music as back-up man to Toronto's 43-year-old goaltending marvel, Johnny Bower.

Tuesday night, Gamble stood up to the fastest guns in the National Hockey League — East goalsies Ed Giacomin of New York, Terry Sawchuck of Los Angeles and Glenn Hall of St. Louis — and beat them to the draw.

The 29-year-old goalie, starting in place of the injured Bower, spent 40 hazardous minutes fending off superior firepower as Toronto's Stanley Cup champions rallied for a 4-3 victory in the NHL's 21st annual All-Star classic.

Montreal, whose high-scoring All-Star club peppered the Toronto goaltender with 30 shots in the first two periods but could only beat him twice.

Gamble came up with 17 stops in the opening session and 11 in the middle session before giving way to rookie Al Smith, who sealed the victory with nine more saves — including a brilliant stab of a Bobby Hull slap shot in the final minute. All-Star goalsies Ed Giacomin of New York, Terry Sawchuck of Los Angeles and Glenn Hall of St. Louis each played one period, combining for 37 saves.

The All-Stars — representing the other 11 NHL clubs — spotted Toronto an early goal by Murphy Oliver, then shot ahead 2-1 on tallies by Chicago's Stan Mikita, in the final minute of the first period, and Kenny Wharram, in the opening minute of the second session.

Polar Bears Post Sixth Wrwelling Win of Season

HORTONVILLE — Heavyweight Carl Baumgart ran his record to 9-0 for the season in helping Hortonville to a 39-13 wrestling triumph over Clintonville Tuesday night.

The Polar Bears won nine of 12 matches for the night, including five pins. The Truckers got their points on a pair of pins and one decision.

958—Jim Schroeder (H) pinned Mark Holm, 1:31.
103—Steve Becher (H) won on forfeit.
112—Dick Becher (H) pinned Tom Young, 4:11.
120—Gary Huettel (H) pinned Steve La Violett, 2:47.

AFL Invokes Ban on Blitzing For All-Star Contest Sunday

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — "With the limitations on formations and defensive maneuvers, practice is primarily just to get the players used to working with each other and to learn the weapons at our disposal," Collier said.

Quarterback Joe Namath of the New York Jets arrived while the East team was practicing Tuesday and took part in about an hour of the drill.

West Coach Lou Saban of Denver made one substitution in his 33-man squad. Willie Brown of Oakland replaced Kent McCloughan of Oakland in the defensive line-up. McCloughan pulled a leg muscle in the Super Bowl game Sunday.

Saban gave his squad two workouts Tuesday and scheduled once-a-day drills the rest of the week before Sunday's game in the Gator Bowl.

Others require man-to-man pass coverage and four-man coverage and four-man defensive lines except in short yardage situations.

The rules are invoked for two reasons. One, the short time to prepare for the game makes it necessary to restrict things the players must learn. Two, owners don't want their valuable stars to risk injury.

Coach Joe Collier of Buffalo, who is coaching the East All-Stars, said preparations are fairly simple because of the special rules.

Cage Strategy Topic at PAC Meeting Tonight

The Appleton East High School Commons will be the site of the weekly meeting of the Patriot Athletic Club tonight at 7:30 p.m. Films of the school's recent basketball victory over Green Bay East are to be shown, and coach Bill Morse will discuss strategy used in the win and for the upcoming contest with Green Bay West.

Silver-thatched Carl W. (Bud) Jorgensen leaned back in his chair in the Packers' green and gold dressing room, flicked the ashes off his ever present cigar, and intoned with deep satisfaction, "This has to be the best season I've ever experienced."

It was no small statement, coming as it did from the only man to be actively associated with pro football's most successful team during every championship year in its colorful, storybook history.

The Pack's wiry little trainer, just finishing his 44th year with the Pack, was relaxing in the team's now nearly deserted quarters after completing a round of treatments to those members of the repeating world champions still on the Green Bay scene following their re-

WIAA Warns Coaches About Cage Etiquette

Item Cites Case Of 5 Technicals Called on 2 Tilts

STEVENS POINT (AP)—The body governing Wisconsin public high school athletics has warned basketball coaches that stiff penalties may be imposed for serious breaches of "coaching etiquette."

The warning was contained in an editorial published in the December issue of the WIAA Bulletin, the publication of the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association.

The editorial cited the case of an unidentified coach slapped with three technical fouls in one game and two in another.

Lost Control

"Disgusting and inexcusable—this is the only reasonable manner to describe antics of a coach who has completely lost control of himself and his situation," the editorial said.

The editorial warned, "It may even be necessary to resort to more meaningful disposition of coaching etiquette violations than handing out probation as was done in several cases last year. Rather than probation, it may be more appropriate—and effective—to suspend for one or two weeks or more a coach who conducts himself in such an undesirable manner."

The editorial said coaches unable to control their behavior at games have no business in high school athletics. "And maybe something should be done to exclude coaches so obviously out-of-focus from this aspect of the teaching profession."

Young Hobby Club Win This Contest and Get A Stamp Collector's Kit

BY CAPPY DICK
Today's easy cut-paste-and-color contest will give five boys and girls a good start in the hobby of stamp collecting. The five national prizes to be given midnight of day after tomorrow are Stamp Collector's Kits which include a stamp album with spaces for hundreds of stamps, a packet of 1,000 colorful stamps of the world, a package of stamp hinges, a watermark detector, a magni-fier and a booklet telling how to start and maintain a stamp collection.

Lesson in English

Words often misused: Distinguish between FLAUNT (to parade or display ostentatiously) and FLOUT (to mock, scoff at, treat with disdain). Thus He flaunts his medals at every opportunity and, "Too many people flout the law."
Often mispronounced: Patois
(a dialect) Pronounce pat-wah, accent first syllable.
Often misspelled: Acquit, one
"t." Acquittal and acquitted, two "t's."
Word study: "Use a word three times and it is yours."
Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Today's word PRISTINE belonging to the earliest time, primitive uncorrupted (Pronounce priss-teen). "The foliage had a dustless, pristine freshness."

Pat Paulsen, Put-On Noncandidate Speaks

Double-Talking, Deadpan Comedian
To Spoof Politics for Smothers Brothers

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Pat Paulsen, the dead-pan, double-talk editorialist on "The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour" who specializes in satire, arrived in New York Monday to launch his noncandidacy campaign for president—or anything.

Paulsen's noncandidacy will be announced formally on the CBS program Jan. 28.

"Some over-enthusiastic people are suggesting that I become involved," said Paulsen, toying thoughtfully with a cigarette. "But if nominated I don't think I'll run, and if elected, I don't think I'll serve."

"Clubs seem to be springing up in my behalf all over the country," he continued. "But although I am unable to say anything at this time, I am glad of an opportunity so early in my campaign to deny that I am running."

At this point Paulsen asked that any further quotations be attributed to either a "spokesman" or "a close associate."

STAG Party

A spokesman explained that the candidate would represent the "Straight Talking American Government party," or "STAG party." He said that a platform was being drawn up by "over-enthusiastic, unsolicited supporters."

"He will campaign for positive thinking," said the spokesman. "As Roosevelt said, the only thing to fear is fear itself and, of course, the bogey man."

"About the war on poverty, he thinks we have enough of it. And, on crime in the streets, he suggests that it be moved indoors. Hippies should be reduced, and he agrees completely with Hubert Humphrey on urban development: New York City and Pueblo, Colorado, should be torn down and rebuilt."

Let 'Em Root Hog

"Let the rest of the country root hog," the spokesman concluded.

The STAG party's slogan—to be printed on its buttons—will be "We Can't Stand Pat—Paulsen for Prexy." And it will feature bumper stickers which will destroy themselves in three months.

And—seriously, folks, as they say in TV—the Paulsen for President put-on will be a big item on the comedy-variety show until early September when, after the two major parties have had their conventions, the STAG convention will be held on camera.

The noncandidate will reveal some of his noncampaigning plans tonight on "The Johnny Carson Show"—if some other noncandidates don't get out an injunction against him before that.

State of The Union Address

BY TV SCOUT

8-Conclusion (Channels 11-25-7-9) — All three networks carry President Johnson's State of the Union Address to a joint session of Congress. The President is expected to speak for over an hour. Following his speech, the networks will offer an analysis of his words. CBS will follow with "A Republican View," with Illinois Sen. Everett M. Dirksen leading the opposition discussion. Dan Rather, Roger Mudd and Eric Sevareid head the network's correspondents. Incidentally, they plan to stay on the air until 10:30. ABC's crew will consist of William Lawrence, Bob Reynolds, John Scali and Howard K. Smith. (C)

6:30-7:30 (Channels 11-9) — The Avengers proves once again that you can't heat style and good dialogue. In a diverting hour, Patrick Macnee and Diana Rigg investigate the strange deaths of electronics experts, and soon get on to the fact that someone is fooling around with "broadcast power," electricity generated through radio waves. There's a strange white-booted, blue-faced, pink-shirted man with a deadly capsule on his finger who keeps pointing at people and blasting them through walls. (C)

Channel 11 Features 2 Sports Events

Super Bowl Report
Tonight; Team to Cover Ski Meet

Channel 11, WLUK-TV of Green Bay will have two features this week for sports fans. Tonight at 7:30, the special Super Bowl Report will be presented. The Packer-Raiders game was covered by Sports Director Jim Irwin and cameraman Jerome Horen in Florida. Horen's film work and Irwin's interviews will include highlights of the game, preparations for the contest and discussions with coaches and players of both football teams.

This coming weekend, at Iron Mountain, Mich., TV-11 camera-sports crews will be on hand to bring the preliminary ski jumping competition for the five berths on the Olympic team for the United States.

Color Special Jan. 24
The special half-hour color show on the competition and shots of the world's highest artificial ski slide is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Jan. 24 with newsmen Bob Olson developing the story. The program will show how the ski slide is groomed, how the Upper Michigan community prepares itself for the onslaught of skiers and actual films of the meet, complete with interviews.

Film crews will be taking the jump scenes from three different angles along the hill to insure viewers of full action. Highlights of the meet will be shown on Channel 11 weekend news show Sunday.

Bias Against Women

Workers Continues

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Why is it that there are so few women in major U.S. orchestras, when music can scarcely be classified as a strictly male profession?

Porter

Why are there so few women who drive for pay, when women do at least half of all driving in this country and insurance companies say women are safer drivers than men?

The Civil Rights Act of 1964 officially bans job discrimination on the basis of sex and, beyond doubt, this single law has opened up a vast number of new job opportunities for qualified women.

Just recently, for instance, President Johnson signed a law to provide equal job opportunity for women in military service, making it theoretically possible for women to rise to the very top. Just recently also, the New York Stock Exchange admitted its first woman as a full-fledged member.

Navy Positions
And the U.S. Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare set up a new "Professional and Executive Corps" of about 50 highly qualified women to serve as part-time government employees. The U.S. Navy opened, for the first time, training positions for women as aircraft instrument mechanics, metalsmiths, patternmakers.

Yet, job labeling — for men only or for women only — is still pervasive. Today, only 7 per cent of U.S. doctors and only 8 per cent of medical students are women. By contrast, in India, 35 per cent of medical students are women; in France, the proportion is 27 per cent; in Denmark and the Netherlands, 15 per cent.

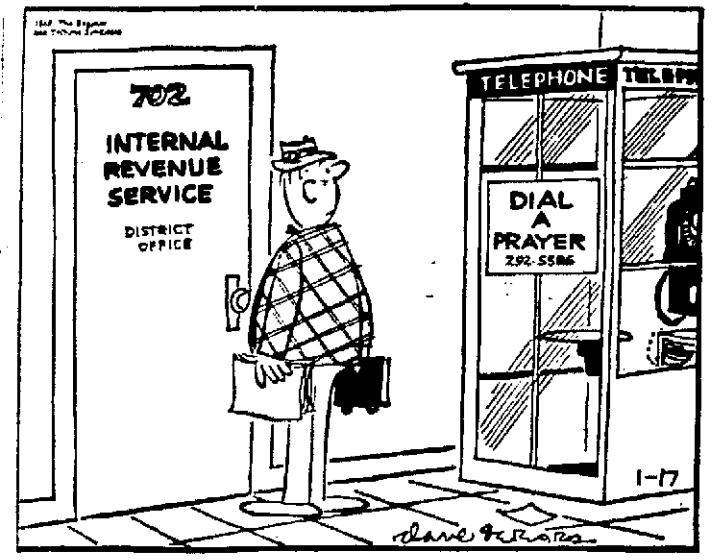

Today, the proportion of women lawyers or physicists in the U.S. is only 3 per cent; of chemists, only 5 per cent; of pharmacists, only 8 per cent; of engineers, less than 1 per cent.

Women still are largely confined to the lowest paying, lowest status occupations. The average American woman earns only a bit more than half the amount earned by the average man. Being wantonly neglected because of sex alone is a vast pool of potential skills in dozens of occupations struggling with drastic worker shortages.

Let's be honest. One towering reason for this shameful waste is that we, the women, are simply not getting the amount of education needed for many professions. Today, we are earning only one in three master's degrees, less than the 40 per cent we earned in 1930. We are earning only one in 10 Ph.D.s against more than 15 per cent in 1930. The educational gap is widening, not narrowing. But a second, more important reason is the persistent prejudice we face from employers, unions, professional schools, business training-retraining programs. Many of the nation's schools of medicine, law and business administration have strict quotas for women. Many corporation campus recruiters won't interview women and many unions exclude women, too. Our universities still do little to provide realistic opportunities for re-education of adult women after their children have left home. High school and college counselors still don't do enough to raise the career sights of young women or to alert them to the job opportunities they could have with proper education and training.

In business, there is virtually no effort to attract the competent woman who can work only part-day or part-week. Employment quality for women will become reality only when businesses, unions and universities abandon their pre-

President Gives 'State of Union' Report Tonight

Annual Financial Message Likely to Stress Crime Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson gives the nation tonight his formula for balancing the financial demands of the Vietnam war against the need to curb crime in the streets and to rehabilitate riot-breeding city slums.

The President is expected to reiterate in his nationally televised State of the Union message to a joint session of Congress that he is exploring every avenue that might lead to peace.

But advance indications were that North Vietnam's latest stated conditions for opening peace talks—a halt in U.S. bombing of the North and "other acts of aggression"—still was under exhaustive examination.

$11 Billion Higher

To an election-year Congress already breathing fire about any increase in spending, the President is expected to disclose that expenditures will be $11 billion higher—possibly a little more—for administrative purposes than in the current fiscal year ending June 30.

Republicans are prepared to respond at once to Johnson's proposals. GOP congressional leaders have slated a news conference for one-half hour after Johnson concludes his speech, and eight Republican governors will jointly discuss the message with newsmen Thursday morning.

A new "unified" budget, taking into account for the first time income and outgo from huge government trust funds, was said to be geared to a "significant drop" below the $18 billion or $19 billion deficit for this year.

Sources reported Tuesday the total spending program definitely will be below $190 billion for the fiscal year beginning July 1. Administrative spending—the basis most commonly used before the advent of the unified budget—was said to run between $145 billion and $150 billion, compared with the current fiscal year total of between $136 billion and $137 billion.

The expected deficit would include receipts from a proposed 10 per cent income surtax which Congress shelved last year and which key members predicted

Big Demand Raises Gold Price in London

LONDON (AP) — A rush for gold hit the London bullion market today with dealers reporting "very big demand" at the official fixing.

The dollar price of gold rose 5 cents to $35.19 cents and the sterling price moved up 4 pence to 292 shillings 3 pence.

Dealers said the rush was due to rumors on Wall Street that President Johnson would include measures to increase the price of gold in his State of the Union message.

Police Storm Dorms

30 on N.Y. Campus Arrested in Dope Raid

STONY BROOK, N.Y. (AP) — A raiding party of 198 police stormed the State University campus here early today, routing 30 students out of their beds and charging them with a variety of narcotics felony violations.

The raiding party—not told in advance of the raid's purpose—arrived at the sprawling, still unfinished campus on Long Island's North Shore at 3 a.m., in 72 police vehicles.

They were quickly briefed, divided into 32 raiding teams and

Radical Students From the Zengakuren student organization today burn the American flag in protest of the coming stop of the U.S. nuclear carrier Enterprise to Sasebo, Japan. The carrier is due Friday or Saturday.

Rioting Japan Students Hope To Halt U.S. Ship's Landing

SASEBO, Japan (AP) — Radical leftists vowed today to drive the American nuclear-powered aircraft carrier Enterprise from Japan's shores by the same riot tactics that kept President Eisenhower away in 1960.

In a warmup for the 75,000-ton carrier's arrival at the Sasebo naval base later this week, about 800 leftist students tried to invade the base today. Riot police drove them off in a three-hour battle with heavy casualties on both sides.

Sasebo City Hospital said it treated about 500 students and onlookers for bruises and the effects of tear gas.

Police said 60 students and 10 policemen were treated for cuts and other injuries and that 14 of the students and one policeman were seriously injured. Officials said 27 students were arrested.

Fighting started on a 20-foot-wide bridge leading to the main entrance of the Sasebo base where the Enterprise is expected Friday or Saturday on her way to duty in Vietnam. She and her escort, the frigate Truxton, will be the first nuclear-powered surface warships to visit Japan.

The students wielded sticks and threw rocks. The police, protected by shields and armored trucks, forced them back with tear gas and icy streams from fire hoses. Then about 1,000 officers moved in with clubs and dispersed the mob.

A spokesman for Sasebo, one of the militant factions of the Zengakuren student organization, said the students were determined to "create a riot and force the Enterprise away in the same way that Zengakuren riots forced President Eisenhower to cancel his visit."

War Opposition — Zengakuren opposes the Vietnam war and the U.S.-Japan security treaty which comes up for review in 1970, but the spokesman said the group's target is the Japanese government and its alliance with the United States. He said the demonstrators would not molest U.S. military personnel in Sasebo.

The 1960 riots in Tokyo were a futile attempt to prevent the signing of the U.S.-Japan treaty. Though it didn't block the treaty, Eisenhower canceled plans to visit Japan after his press secretary, James H. Hagerty, was mobbed at the Tokyo airport. After the treaty was signed, Premier Nobusuke Kishi resigned.

Police had 5,800 men in Sasebo to deal with the students. The average citizen in the city of 250,000 seemed indifferent, and merchants staged a 30-car parade today to welcome the carrier.

'Good For Business' — "I see no reason to protest," said one shopkeeper. "American sailors here are good for business."

Pro-Castro Rebels Take Responsibility

GUATEMALA (AP) — A pro-Castro revolutionary organization said today that it was responsible for the machine gun slaying of the top two U.S. military officers in Guatemala.

A typewritten communique signed Rebel Armed Forces—FAR—said the U.S. military mission had "ordered the Guatemalan army to create groups of assassins" against guerrillas—and the FAR "decided to mete out justice."

Firing from a speeding car into the Americans' car near

Lt. Cmdr. Munro Col. Weber
the Guatemalan Air Force's headquarters Tuesday, machine-gunned killed U.S. Army Col. John D. Webber Jr., 47, and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Ernest A. Munro, 40, and wounded Army Sgt. Maj. John R. Forster, 42, and Marine Sgt. Harry L. Greene, 41.

Critical Condition

Greene was reported in critical condition, but Forster was discharged from the hospital after treatment of an arm wound.

The Guatemalan Cabinet proclaimed a "state of alarm"—modified martial law—in an attempt to check a mounting wave of terrorism by both extreme rightists and extreme leftists as well as gangsters taking advantage of the political turmoil.

A burst of machinegun fire earlier Tuesday killed former Guatemalan congressman Alejandro Silva Falla, 40, and his 20-year-old bodyguard was killed in an exchange of fire with the gunmen. Silva's name had appeared on a list circulated in June by rightists saying that all who served communism would be executed.

In a third attack Tuesday, gunmen missed Manuel Villacorta Vielman, former vice presidential candidate from the strongly anti-Communist National Liberation Movement, but wounded his 20-year-old son.

State of Alarm

The government says 26 persons have been killed this month by terrorists. The state of alarm proclaimed by the government permits arrests without charges, imposes censorship, prohibits the carrying of firearms except by authorized persons, and bans assemblies of more than four persons.

Webber, a native of Buffalo, N.Y., who listed Houston, Tex., as his home, had been head of the U.S. military advisory group in Guatemala since 1966. Munro, a native of Lake Worth, Fla., with a home in Rockland, Maine, was head of the U.S. naval section. Greene, the group's communications adviser, was from Omaha, Neb. The families of all three men were with them in Guatemala.

Forster a native of Seattle, is stationed in the Panama Canal Zone. He was in Guatemala for a five-day official visit.

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — President Tito of Yugoslavia arrived here today by air for a five-day official visit.

'He Will Commit Violence'...And He Does

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "When he learns I have filed this action for divorce, he will release his anger on me and I live in fear of the moment when he learns of this action...he will commit violence on my person."

So wrote Hildegard Dilbeck, 43, in an affidavit filed with a divorce complaint Sept. 8, 1966.

She married song writer Thomas Christopher Dilbeck in 1958. They separated, childless, two days before she filed the divorce complaint. She said they had $400,000 in common property.

After filing a counter divorce complaint in October 1966, Dilbeck filed answers to questions from his wife's lawyers last May in which he said he and his wife had never been intimate.

On Tuesday, the day the divorce case was scheduled in Superior Court, Hildegard Dilbeck was shot to death in a courthouse corridor and her husband booked on suspicion of murder and attempted murder. Three persons were wounded, one critically.

Police gave this account: Dilbeck, 62, sat on a bench outside the courtroom where

Witnesses said Dilbeck drew

a .25-caliber pistol, shouted "Kill. Kill. Kill." shot his wife in the side and emptied the pistol on the persons near her.

The friend, Mable Klug, 45, was listed in serious condition at Dominguez Valley Hospital. One of the other wounded persons, Daniel Sheahan, 34, Mrs. Dilbeck's lawyer, was in critical condition at St. Joseph Hospital at Burbank. The other John B. Norberg, 55, a San Marino accountant and witness for Mrs. Dilbeck, was treated for a minor flesh wound.

Dilbeck's business lawyer,

Edyth Jacobs, said, "He was a successful song writer. However, I think he made most of his money in real estate." The American Society of Composers, authors and publishers said its records show only that Dilbeck was the coauthor of "I'll hold you in my heart until I can hold you in my arms" in 1947.

Dilbeck's lawyer, Max A. Goodman, who arrived after the shooting said the main point of contention in the divorce action was $250,000 in property. Dilbeck lived in Long Beach, his wife lived in Bell.

$4,500 Telephone Bill

Woman Talks Parents Out of $27,000 Home

LOS ANGELES (AP) — James Young is selling his home to pay off a $4,500 telephone bill that he says his daughter and her Alaska-based husband ran up in just 38 days last spring.

"I'm doing my best to hold on to my sense of humor," Young said Tuesday after revealing that he and his wife will move into an apartment from the $27,500 home they have owned 13 years.

Young, 42, a security officer at San Fernando Veterans Administration Hospital, said his daughter Collene, 19, and her 15-month-old baby stayed with him while her husband, Lynn Wade Cross, 20, was with the Navy at Adak, Alaska. "They made 95 telephone calls between the end of April and the end of May, between billing dates," Young said. One lasted 90 minutes, he added.

Unaware of Calls
He said he and his wife, Carol, 38, were "totally unaware" of the calls. "When the bill came in around June 1, I put a big chain and a $30 padlock on the phone," he said.

He said some of the calls were made collect from Adak and some originated from his home. He said most were made during the day when he and his wife were at work and his sons, 17 and 13, were in school.

General Telephone Co. of California now has a lien against Young's home. A spokesman for the firm said responsibility for such calls lies with the person in whose name the telephone is installed.

Young said his daughter paid $270.90 of the bill, but then moved with her husband to Corpus Christi, Tex. He said he has not heard from the couple since.

Vietnam Ground War Slides Into Another Lull

SAIGON (AP) — The Communists "seem to have temporarily run out of steam," Gen. William C. Westmoreland said today as the ground war in South Vietnam slipped into another one of its periodic lulls.

Only small, scattered ground clashes were reported. But Westmoreland, the top American commander in Vietnam, said he anticipates "a resurgence of enemy initiatives just before or after Tet," the Vietnamese Lunar New Year Jan. 30.

"Most of the Communist initiatives have political motives," Westmoreland said in an interview. "Tet is an emotional time when families and friends gather. Any display of strength would benefit the enemy both psychologically and politically. They like to develop the image of strength and try to give the people the impression they're winning."

For the first 10 days after the

Jan. 1. New Year's cease-fire, the Vietnamese took the offensive, invading and temporarily evidence of an enemy buildup in holding provincial capitals and district towns, shelling American air bases and launching attacks on U.S. ground units across the country. They inflicted severe punishment on allied troops and installations, but suffered heavier casualties themselves, according to U.S. reconnaissance.

The U.S. Command accused the Communists of moving the troops during the Christmas and New Year truces into position for the attacks that followed. Similar truces have been declared for Tet—the Viet Cong's seven days, the allied for 48 hours.

Westmoreland said he expects the next major Communist campaign in the northernmost 1st Corps area, primarily in Quang Tri and Thua Thien provinces, the two northernmost provinces South Vietnam just below the demilitarized zone.

The general called attention to increased enemy activity in the neighborhood of the allied Marine aerial observer spotted stronghold at Khe Sanh, near the Laotian border and commanding the northwest approaches into South Vietnam.

"Long-range patrols have had a number of contacts in that vicinity," Westmoreland said. "Aerial observer reported 16 killed, 30 armed enemy troops crossing the border and an open area Tuesday night four miles west of the Con Thien Marine outpost, just to the west of Gio Linh. Fighter-bombers and artillery attacked, and the aerial observer reported 16 killed."

Saigon Official Says:

'It's Up to Hanoi'

SAIGON (AP) — Foreign Minister Tran Van Do said today "it is up to Hanoi" if there will be a halt in the bombing of question we ask is still unanswered.

The Foreign Minister said he returned from a three-week diplomatic tour of African nations to Vietnam or the Viet Cong's Nations. Do said: "We say we are national Liberation Front during 'Hanoi accepts to give us some and stopovers in Paris, although indication that they would des-calate and reduce the infiltration such meetings."

W. D. Schlafer Seeks Return to Mayor's Office

Former Official Lone
Candidate for Post
At New London

NEW LONDON — Former mayor Wilmer D. Schlafer, 914 Dickinson St., became the first official candidate for the city's highest office Tuesday when he took out nomination papers for the position he lost two years ago.

Harry S. Emans, 318 E. Hancock St., the incumbent, defeated Schlafer in 1966.

Two aldermanic candidates took out nomination papers Tuesday. Matt Burton, 310 McKinley St., incumbent in the city's Fifth Ward, and Jerome Zaug, 207 E. Beacon Ave., incumbent First Ward alderman, became the latest to take out papers.

Mrs. Walter Schoenrock, 503 Wyman St., had taken out papers for her second ward seat earlier and filed them with the clerk's office Tuesday.

Also filing were Mrs. Melva Rickaby, city clerk; George Groher, treasurer-assessor, and M. J. Stewart, Second Ward constable.

O. W. Capenter, a New London attorney, is circulating papers for the municipal justice office which is presently filled by Charles G. Egli, also an attorney.

No interest has been shown in the city attorney's post presently filled by S. W. Krostue.

Herman Gagnow, Fourth Ward alderman, has indicated to The Post-Crescent that it isn't likely he will seek reelection this year because of business reasons. The Third Ward, with Fred Noack the incumbent, is the only other city ward so far without a candidate.

Deadline for filing nomination papers for any city office is 5 p.m. Jan. 30. Nomination papers are available at the city clerk's office.

UCC Votes To Work on Merger Plans

Both New London
Churches to Name
Negotiating Group

NEW LONDON — Details of a merger of the First Congregational United Church of Christ and United Methodist Church will be worked out by a union negotiations committee comprised of representatives of the two congregations during the next three months.

UCC members voted Tuesday to continue with efforts in a consolidation of the two Protestant bodies and to name a negotiations committee to work out details of the merger.

The United Methodist congregation took similar action Sunday.

Representatives of the two churches said they favored the consolidation because it would help improve the Christian spirit in New London.

In about three months the negotiations committee will report back to the congregation and a final vote will be taken on the merger. Items which will be discussed by the committee include denomination, affiliation of local congregations and the use and disposal of present church property.

About 700 New London area people would be affected by the merger.

Knowles Signs Bill Upgrading Salaries of District Attorneys

Minimum Salary for Full-Time
Prosecutors Now Set at $16,500

MADISON — A salary supplement bill for county district attorneys was signed Monday afternoon by Gov. Warren P. Knowles in an effort to "strengthen our prosecution system."

The bill sets a minimum salary of $16,500 for full-time

Government Day Plans Formulated

Waupaca County Civic Program
For Students Scheduled in April

WAUPACA — Preliminary plans have been made for the seventh annual county government day in late April, according to general chairman Frank Smith, county veterans service officer.

The event is sponsored annually by the Waupaca County Council of the American Legion.

Aliens Must File Addresses Before End of January

R. A. Klein, officer in charge of the Milwaukee office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service again has reminded all aliens to report their addresses during January.

Cards for the reports are available at post offices and offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service throughout the country, and must be submitted to one of those offices.

Parents or guardians submit reports for alien children under 14 years of age.

Klein urged all aliens to report before the end of January, as willful failure to do so may lead to serious penalties.

School Board Lists Special Service Needs

SHIOCTON — The board of education has listed special services the district needs from the Cooperative Educational Service Agency No. 8 for the 1968-69 school year.

Included are two days per week for speech correction and remedial reading and one day per week for a school nurse.

In other action the board agreed that six members would attend the state school board's convention in Milwaukee Jan. 24-26.

Reoccurring Council Controversy

New London to Enforce Trailer Law

NEW LONDON — The issue of trailers which has been a source of controversy on the city council floor periodically because of inconsistencies in enforcing existing laws appeared before aldermen again Tuesday.

This time the council ordered strict enforcement of the law inances prohibit, or have rigid regard to a trailer-house located at the west end of Waupaca in the city.

Requests Turned Down — Other recent requests to locate a trailer in the city have been turned down, while some exceptions to ordinances have been made in other cases.

S. W. Krostue, city attorney, said because of the special

$3,000 annual supplement from the state. No minimum salary was set for the assistants. At the present time, Winnebago County is the only area county with a full-time assistant district attorney.

Outagamie County presently pays its district attorney $11,000. Under the new law, the county will be required to increase his salary $1,000 to meet the $16,500 minimum with the state supplement.

The Winnebago County district attorney receives $13,200. The supplement will raise his salary to $17,700. His assistant now receives $10,140 with the supplement raising this to $13,140.

In Fond du Lac County, the district attorney now receives $11,160. The county will be required to raise its share $840 to meet the minimum requirement.

Waupaca and Calumet Counties have part-time district attorneys. Both counties fall in the 20,000 to 40,000 population class in which the state has set the county's share of the salary at a minimum of $4,500. With the supplement, the total salary would be a minimum of $9,000.

Waupaca County now pays its district attorney $8,400. The supplement would bring this to $12,900. In Calumet County, the salary is $7,500, making a total salary of $12,000.

Knowles said, "The turnover among district attorneys has been very high and it has been difficult for many counties to find attorneys who are willing to run for the office."

The salary supplements will be financed by a $2 suit tax in court actions involving traffic regulation violations.

Woman Charged In Slaying Sent For Mental Tests

SHAWANO (AP) — A Milwaukee woman charged in the slayings last December of her mother and step-father was transferred to Winnebago State Hospital Tuesday for a 60-day period of mental examinations.

Miss Beth Hagen, 29, Milwaukee, was charged with first degree murder in the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Boreen of Wittenberg.

Shawano County Judge Kenneth Traeger ordered the mental examinations following a hearing Tuesday.

Parish Meeting Reset Editors Appointed for Shiocton School Paper

CLINTONVILLE — The time of the voters' meeting of the St. Martin Lutheran Church has been changed from 1:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. Sunday at the school gymnasium, due to a time conflict with another meeting in the city.

The failure to seek council permission seemed to be of great concern. It was pointed out that the owner had failed to file an application for a permit, a violation of the trailer ordinance.

Ald. Byron Christian, (5th), in mit, a violation of the trailer ordinance. Council members unanimously voted to enforce the city ordinance in regard to trailers.

Girl Testifies Her Brother Shot Parents at Amherst

Jeanette Leroux Tells Jury
Mark Boasted of Committing
The 'Perfect Crime' Nov. 8

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

STEVENS POINT — Showing no emotion, 16-year-old Jeanette Leroux sat in the witness box of Circuit Court here Tuesday, and told jurors and a packed courtroom how her 19-year-old brother, Mark, had allegedly shot their parents to death and then set fire to the family home in rural Amherst in an attempt to cover the crime.

She went on to tell how her brother boasted to her on several occasions following the fire how he had committed the perfect crime.

Mark Leroux, who has been charged with two counts of first degree murder in the Nov. 8 deaths of his father Eugene, 42, and mother Mary, 38, has pleaded innocent to the charges. The charred bodies of the couple were found in the burned ruins of their home on the morning after the fire. At the time it was thought they were victims of the fire. However, a week later it was discovered by Portage County authorities that the couple had been shot and Mark was arrested at his Stevens Point apartment.

Juror Excused

The first degree murder trial got underway Monday when a 12-man jury, consisting of eight men and four women, was selected. However, Tuesday morning one of the women jurors was excused and a

All Directors Re-Elected by Chilton Bank

Stockholders Told
Of $1 Million Gain
In Resources

CHILTON — Stockholders of the State Bank of Chilton have re-elected G. G. Bloomer, Donald E. Bonk, J. J. Grimm, Cornelius Leahy and George R. Winkler to the board of directors.

Resources reported at the annual stockholders meeting showed a gain of $1 million for a total of $9,775,000.

Deposits showed a gain of $942,000 for a total of $8,997,000, and capital accounts, an increase of $56,000 to $777,000. Loans increased $180,000 to $4,400,000.

Deposits, loans and capital funds at the end of the year were at an all-time high, according to the report.

At the annual directors meeting, following the stockholders session, two of the bank's personnel were promoted to assistant cashiers. They are Mary Bloomer, who has been with the firm since 1958 and Clarence Weller, who has been with the bank since 1962.

Officers re-elected were Bloomer, president; Grimm, vice president; Beulah Griem, cashier, and Joyce Richter, assistant cashier.

Other employees are Diane Scharitz and Diane Scholz as teller and bookkeeper respectively.

Stevens Point man named to replace her. An alternate juror was also selected.

Portage County Dist. Atty. Wendel Crosby, in his opening statement, told the jury that the prosecution would prove Mark killed his parents and that he had a definite motive. Robert Jenkins, Leroux's court-appointed attorney, in his opening statement said he did not intend to obstruct the wheels of justice but would provide evidence that there may be a reasonable doubt whether or not Mark was the killer.

Judge Herbert A. Bunde is presiding.

First Witness

Jeanette was the first witness to testify for the prosecution and repeated nearly the same story she had told at a Nov. 20 preliminary hearing. The testimony dealt with a conversation with her brother on the evening before the shooting; how she had been awakened by four muffled shots, and the events that took place immediately after the shootings and those leading up to the arrest of her brother.

At the time of the shooting, Mark had not been living at the family home which was located about 3 miles south of Amherst. He was staying at a Stevens Point apartment with a friend. On that evening, Mark had returned home with his father who was employed by the Wisconsin Telephone Company in Stevens Point.

After Mr. and Mrs. Leroux had left the house at about 6 p.m. to attend a venison dinner in Amherst, Jeanette testified Mark asked her, "What would you do if I killed our parents?" After making the statement he sort of snickered and I thought he was mad because of an argument he had with his mother a few weeks before," Jeanette said.

Carry Bodies

Mark then said he could poison their parents she added, and Jeanette said he asked her, "Could you help me carry their bodies up stairs?" With this statement, Jeanette said she told Mark to shut up and not to be so morbid. However, Mark

Chilton Businessman Withdraws Petition for Huge Storm Sewer

Garage Owner Had Requested
Drainage for Building Site

CHILTON — A Chilton businessman withdrew his request of the garage on the property at that the city pay the estimated $18,000 cost for a 200-foot storm sewer also would open up Drains 700 Acres

The ditch handles drainage of about 700 acres of land north of Bloomer Buick-Pontiac Garage, the city several months ago had received city council approval of studies by the city engineer and his request for the filling of the independent appraisers were conducted to try to determine with a storm sewer. The vote the benefit of the proposed project to the property owner was 5-3.

However, the mayor vetoed the action and further studies ensued. Aldermen were awaiting the results of the study when the request was withdrawn.

Bloomer had told the council earlier that he felt the city would receive benefits by taking the action. He indicated that a tax base of about $100,000 would

New London To Extend Polling Hours

NEW LONDON — An ordinance extending voting hours in the city one hour was presented to the city council Tuesday for the first time.

The ordinance will be presented for adoption at the Feb. 6 session.

Polling hours would be from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. to coincide with minimum state standards. At present, polls open at 9 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

Ald. Mrs. Elroy Stern (3rd) pointed out that election workers would be working an extra hour each election and asked whether they should be given a pay raise.

She said that some poll workers had already made requests for increasing the $10 per day fee they now receive.

Insurance increases for the library equipment were from $6,500 to $15,000 and the insurance of the youth center equipment was raised from $725 to $2,200.

The council also approved the amendment of the salary ordinance to raise the chief of police salary to $550 per month. Salaries of other city officials as listed in the original ordinance remain the same.

The salary resolution also was ordered amended to read that the police officer in class I receive $525 per month and class 2 $500. Both classes also receive $100 per year uniform allowance.

A resolution was approved to have the janitor of the city hall continue his services one year beyond the 65-year-old mandatory state retirement age.

The council also authorized the $45 purchase of a used electric adding machine for the city assessor and the treasurer.

The council approved the request of Walter Muehl to call for bids on summer work projects on Feb. 20.

Nurse on Rescue Squad

Woman Joins Fire Department

MANAWA — The first woman ever to become a member of the volunteer fire department received an official membership card and badge during ceremonies Saturday night at the annual firemen's banquet.

Mrs. Alfred Schuelke, 422 Clark St., a registered nurse, was presented the card by Fire Chief Stewart Craig. The badge was awarded by her husband, a 20-year veteran of the department.

Mrs. Schuelke will serve with the rescue squad. She has assisted the rescue squad in the past.

The city has been without a doctor since the death of Dr.

E. F. Daly a year and a half ago, and as a result the rescue squad has had additional calls for assistance and transportation to hospitals.

Most of the firemen have had Red Cross training and members of the rescue team have studied advanced rescue skills.

Mrs. Schuelke is a staff nurse on the home nursing care service of the Waupaca County Health Service.

Craig said at the presentation, "The addition of Mrs. Schuelke to the rescue squad not only adds her professional skills, but also the compassion of a woman and mother to persons in distress."

squad. Pinning the fire department badge on his wife is Alfred Schuelke while Stewart Craig, fire chief; Gerald Sabrowsky, assistant fire chief, and Harvey Rosenau, a member of the rescue squad, look on.

The Manawa Volunteer Fire Department established a "first" for the area when it issued an official membership card to a woman. The woman, Mrs. Alfred Schuelke, a registered nurse, will join the rescue

Laurel Behnke Elected Head of Clintonville UF

Annual Report Shows $19,338 Collected First Year

CLINTONVILLE — Laurel Behnke, route 1, was elected president of United Funds of Clintonville and Vicinity, Inc., at a meeting of the board of directors Monday night after the annual membership meeting at the senior high school.

Other officers elected are: Mrs. Harold Heuer and Dr. William Krueger, vice presidents; Mrs. Harvey Schroeder, secretary, and Donald Goltz, treasurer.

Outgoing officers are Dr. Roger Wilson, president; Mrs. Jack Kelly and Henry Hankins, vice presidents; Mrs. Heuer, secretary, and Richard Kuemper, treasurer.

During the annual meeting, the final report for the first United Fund Drive conducted last year showed a total of $19,338 as of Jan. 10, 1968 in pledges and contributions. The announced goal was $15,000.

Expresses Appreciation

Dr. Wilson expressed his appreciation to everyone who had worked during the campaign. He said, "It is a tribute to the people of our community and a challenge to our future leaders. With response like we have had, there is no question but that the majority of people do want to give the united way."

Members of the nominating committee were William Martens, chairman, K. O. Rawson, Carl Schultz, Mrs. Gordon Rindt and Forest Schaefer.

Riding Club Elects Officers

AMHERST — William Thompson and Fern Jorgenson, Waupaca, have been elected president and vice president, respectively, of the Amherst Boots and Saddles Club.

The election was held at the regular meeting held last week in the American Legion Clubrooms. Mrs. James Slater was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The club plans to have a guest speaker at the February meeting, and to sponsor a sleigh ride in March.

Brillion AA's Post Win Over Elkhart Lake

BRILLION — The Brillion Athletic Association (AA's) posted a 96-76 win over Elkhart Lake Saturday to record their 8th win in Eastern Wisconsin Amateur League basketball action against four losses.

Lowell Reese paced the winners with 18 points. Don Heimke and Russ Rohrdanz each had 15 and Noel Zander had 13.

The Laker's Lutzke had 24 points and Loeffler had 13. Brillion led 21-14 after the first period, 44-31 at halftime and after the third quarter were ahead 69-50.

The AA's sunk 36 field goals and 24 of 32 free throw attempts. They committed 32 fouls.

Car Backs From Drive, Hits Parked Vehicle

NEW LONDON — Damage was estimated at more than $100 in a two-car accident about 10:15 p.m. Monday at 327 McKinley Street.

City police said a car driven by Gary L. Eckhart, 21, 325 McKinley St., was backing from a driveway and struck a car owned by Walter E. Boelter, 327 Avon St., which was parked across the street.

Stockbridge GAA Sets Variety Show

STOCKBRIDGE — The high school Girls Athletic Association (GAA) is making plans to sponsor a variety show at the school next month.

Date of the event has not been set but all 46 members are being asked to perform.

The group will go skating Jan. 25 at Stockbridge Harbor. Ann Binsfeld, the group's adviser, will chaperone the girls.

Meet Planned Jan. 20 For Young Skaters Of Waupaca Vicinity

WAUPACA — The Waupaca Speed Skating Club will sponsor a meet for area youngsters starting at 2 p.m. Jan. 20 at the new rink near Waupaca Foundry No. 2 on Tower Road.

Ribbons will be awarded to skaters placing first, second and third in each event.

Skaters 17 years old or younger are asked to enter the meet. Speed skates are not required.

Mustangs, Comets Duel Saturday Marion, I-S Play on Road

CENTRAL WIS. CONFERENCE
I-S	W	L	PTS
Marion	5	1	60.7
Wittenberg	4	2	68.7
Waupaca	3	3	68.2
Weyauwega	3	4	67.3
Manawa	2	5	61.8
Amherst	0	6	44.5

Games Friday: Marion at Manawa. Weyauwega at Waupaca. I-S at Amherst.

Game Saturday: Marion at Waupaca.

A 5-4 Weyauwega sophomore has turned into the Central Wisconsin Conference's new leading scorer, league statistics show.

Dennis Harrigan, who poured in 25 and 40 points in his last two outings, has amassed 148 points in the Indians' seven games and has suddenly made his team one to be reckoned with in the loop race.

Harrigan's total of 40 against Manawa last week, collected on 16 field goals and eight free throws, was a top individual mark for the season.

The CW's newest flash should be in the lineup Friday night, when Weyauwega travels to Waupaca in one of four games scheduled for the CWA over the weekend. The Indians will be gunning for their third straight win while the fading Comets strive to avoid a third consecutive league loss.

Other Friday night games find the two co-leaders, Marion and Iola-Scandinavia, both on the road. The Mustangs, winners of four conference games and 77 points in its last two in a row, have a date with Manawa's Wolves. I-S, meanwhile, journeys to meet cellar-dwelling Amherst.

The Thunderbirds are expected to be minus the services of star forward Chuck Koehler, who is nursing an injured jaw.

Marion is second at 52.2. In a lone Saturday contest, Marion will look to avenge an early-season defeat when it entertains Waupaca. The Comets are responsible for Marion's only setback to date, a 70-56 verdict back on Nov. 24.

Eisenhower on Vietnam

There seems to have developed in much of the country a feeling that perhaps South Vietnam wasn't really important to American interests or security in the first place but that our commitment of extensive military forces there has now made it so. Even General Shoup's blast at the idea that Communists would be attacking the United States if they won in Vietnam as "poppycock" does not cloak the concern that now we just can't get out.

Former President Eisenhower expressed this when he warned that "if any Republican or Democrat suggests that we pull out of Vietnam and turn our backs on the more than 13,000 Americans who died in the cause of freedom there, they will have to contend with me. That's one of the few things that would start me off on a series of stump speeches across the nation."

And yet when General Eisenhower was campaigning for the presidency, he took quite a different approach to the war in Korea. "The first task of a new Administration will be to review and re-examine every course of action open to us with one goal in view: to bring the Korean war to an early and honorable end . . . for this task a wholly new Administration is necessary . . . the old Administration cannot be expected to repair what it failed to prevent . . ." Candidate Eisenhower said nothing about turning our backs on the 39,000 Americans who died for the cause of freedom in Korea.

Of course there really is no responsible encouragement for American forces just to withdraw from Vietnam and as far as such a course goes, we are now committed by our presence. General Eisenhower never suggested such a withdrawal of forces from Korea either.

But in those days his emphasis was upon bringing the war to an end. Now he seems to be turning toward a military victory in Vietnam. Does this possibly mean that he no longer believes the course his Administration followed in Korea was the right one?

The former President may not have meant it that way but his recent remarks tend to handicap any Republican effort to campaign for peace and an honorable settlement — just the thing that contributed so heavily to his own election sixteen years ago.

Dairy Farmers Must Act

The Wisconsin dairy farmer who dares to venture nothing in his own behalf cannot expect others to act automatically for him. Such a situation exists now in the remaining days before Friday's deadline on arguments on the proposed Chicago milk market order.

The dairy farmer has much to gain from this proposal but time is needed to iron out important details and differences between major Wisconsin dairy interests.

In a seldom seen show of unity of purpose the farmers could keep the telephone and telegraph wires between here and Washington busy asking Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman's office to extend the closing date, thereby permitting further time for negotiations.

Let's look at what the dairy farmer has going for him.

The territory has been without an order and Freeman's reputation is behind this proposal. He wouldn't like to see it defeated — particularly during an election year.

—The air in Washington is ripe for a bold move. Congress has just convened and legislators would be eager to hear from their constituents — particularly from farmers speaking in a united voice.

—The exercise could be a great meaningful effort by the farmers, even more than milk withholding and dumping, and create an air of habit bred by success for future matters.

—The USDA wants to include provisions for filled and imitation milk within the Chicago area and is conducting a national hearing in Tennessee about mid-February. The regulations would serve for all orders. A delayed Chicago order would serve this purpose.

Another Study on Sex

In this sex-dominated decade, there has been still another study on the matter, apparently fascinating to almost everyone. The latest infers that whatever else the new morality may be, it's better than what we formerly had.

The Institute for Sex Research at Indiana University sponsored a symposium at the American Association for the Advancement of Science. The subject was changing sex behavior in the United States. And the major conclusion seemed to be that while there is little more pre-marital sexual intercourse than there was twenty years ago, it is accompanied by less guilt and more enthusiasm, especially by the college crowd.

Dr. Paul Gebhard, director of the Institute, conducted a survey last summer among college students. His findings on the incidence of pre-marital relations are not yet available but other members of the symposium had ideas on the subject. Dr. Marx Calderone, executive director of the Sex Information and Education Council of the United States, said The Pill had had little influence. "Contraceptives are not changing sexual behavior. They are simply making safer sexual behavior that would have occurred anyway." But Dr. Ira Reiss of the University of Iowa found a sociological change.

"In the old days, the highest degree of sexual permissiveness was found among the lower classes . . . Males today are much tamer than their fathers or grandfathers" and a young man's first sex partner is no longer "a prostitute but the girl next door."

This all may not be particularly reassuring news to parents of daughters who are heading for college. But in the long run there is one change that may be beneficial. Girls almost always get involved sexually with a man they think they love. College men today are also far more likely to become so involved because of an emotional attachment rather than to sow wild oats.

Entirely aside from opinions about chastity, the sanctity of the marriage relationship, the danger of having an illegitimate child or the psychological problems of pre-marital relations, a major flaw in sex relationships is the willingness of one person to exploit another purely for his own purposes. If the feeling is mutual at least we're making some progress.

Wheat Brings Fancy Prices

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Jan. 25, 1868.

Wheat prices have been ranging upward here within the past fortnight or so, tending toward fancy prices.

We really believe our millers are playing a game of bluff against each other, in which some one must come out minus.

While Oshkosh prices range Spring wheat, $1.85 and $1.95. Winter, $2.05. Our millers have been paying from $2.05 to $2.10 for Spring wheat and as high as $2.25 for Winter wheat. It is a good thing for farmers at all events.

Taylor Writes

De Gaulle a Sworn Enemy of U.S., Cambodia Is Most Recent Example

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

President Charles de Gaulle, behind the scenes, tried to sabotage Presidential envoy Chester Bowles' mission to Cambodia on U.S.-Vietnam matters. How De Gaulle succeeded remains to be established, but French influence on Prince Norodom Sihanouk is strong.

Taylor

As De Gaulle systematically strikes against our country, millions generously infer he is senile, which he definitely is not. And the false explanation of senility weakens our ability to survive his part in the Moscow-Peking-Paris attack.

His roots, of course, are in great events and any clarification of the attack starts with these.

De Gaulle made his Resistance appeal from London on June 18, 1940. He symbolized the Resistance, and we propped him up handsomely in this, although we knew he had a reputation for biting the feeding hand.

When today De Gaulle complains of Anglo-American slights he makes us forget he exploded our patience himself. Winston Churchill's statement that "of all the crosses I have to bear the Cross of Lorraine (de Gaulle) is the worst" is something we're entitled to remember.

LOYALTY TO FRANCE

Though De Gaulle was the symbol of French resistance,

Adult Boy Scout worker Norbert Driesang, Kimberly, was in charge of the round table discussion for the East District meeting in Holy Name School, Kimberly. Sixty-four Scouts Carl Tickler and Thomas Reed were leaders of the discussion.

Miss Carol Jean Ellefson was installed as president of Apollo Flor Theta Rho Girls Club at Odd Fellows Hall. She succeeded Nancy Dunsirn. Others seated in ceremonies were Karen Lachn, vice president, Judy Potter, recording secretary, Joyce Kieffer, treasurer, and Marilyn Schedermayer, financial secretary.

the response was to France, not to him — a fact he twice denied to me and which he now denies to anybody.

French escapees went first to safety at the Spanish government's ancient penitentiary at Pamplona, then pilgrimaged to the enormous escapee camp at Mirando de Ebro and ultimately to the old bull ring stadium at Malaga. They embarked there, as I once did in this trip with them, to join De Gaulle's Anglo-American-supported Fighting French in North Africa.

Starting with the landing in the African Cameroons in 1940, the Fighting French had rallied Gabon, French Equatorial Africa, Chad and Ubangi to the cause and were well entrenched in the Mediterranean's northern strip, including Syria. In the Pacific and Far East, Tahiti and New Caledonia declared for the Free French, followed by Pondicherry and the French possessions in India. Then Senegal, French Guinea, the Ivory Coast, Dahomey, Madagascar and Niger (all now in the United Nations where each has a vote as heavy as that of the United States) all declared. So did Gaudeloupe and Martinique, as well as some islands off Newfoundland.

Gabon typifies De Gaulle's cynical preachments about intervention, which are sheer double-talk. The French had timber and iron holdings there. The territory was proclaimed independent August 17, 1960. On February 18, 1964, native junior officers threw French-subsidized stooge dictator Leon M'Ba in the clink and reached for his power and the French purse. Bingo! De Gaulle sent in French paratroopers the next day.

The Kremlin inherited nearly four million French Communists whose loyalty is to Moscow. Many of their leaders were French Army deserters who sat out the war in Moscow and one of the deserters, Maurice Thorez, became Vice-Premier of France. In large measure their Red devious tactics defeated France in Vietnam, Morocco, Tunisia and Algeria. De Gaulle, from the very beginning, in power and out, dealt with the French Communists.

DIPLMATIC BLACKMAIL

He had dealt with them in the mistaken idea that he personally could remain a free agent. And, as for their sponsors in Moscow and Peking, De Gaulle must win his points by diplomatic blackmail — a game he knows well.

Twice America went to help France expel her invaders, liberate her sons from prisons, help France recover her independence and her liberties and the right to regain a place among civilized nations. In fact except for American intervention there would be no De Gaulle.

Yet De Gaulle's primary policy is to sabotage and, if possible, destroy America's world leadership. For this destructive purpose he has created his de facto Moscow-Peking-Paris axis. We are suffering the horrors of Vietnam because of his manipulations. And De Gaulle's Asian policy, which accounts for his Cambodian fiasco, his Arab policy, his hostility to NATO, his recalcitrance in the Common Market and his Latin-American adventures are all likewise Red objectives — legs on the de facto Moscow-Peking-Paris axis stool.

The payoff to us is in what De Gaulle does, and this is only clouded by such distracting excuses as "senility." We should collect at once France's long-overdue, and payable, debts to us instead of allowing De Gaulle to exploit America's gold crisis and in all intellectual ways recognize him for what he is: our declared enemy.

Wisconsin Report
Political Campaigns
Too Long, but They Won't be Shortened

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — When Gov. Knowles delivered a little lecture to State Capitol reporters the other day about the tedious duration of the modern day political campaign, he could probably have found no more sympathetic audience anywhere. No doubt those citizens in the precincts who noted his comments in the news dispatches relating the governor's news conference reacted favorably also. The protracted vote-seeking efforts of contemporary politicians are indubitably boring to millions of their fellow Americans.

Wyngaard

Yet, there may be some doubt that such criticism comes convincingly from a practicing politician, and especially a politician who has done nothing on his own initiative to change the practices of his times.

When Mr. Knowles launched his gubernatorial candidacy for the first time three years ago, he did it at such an early date that the duration of his own stumping effort was one of the longest in modern Wisconsin politics. Some of his opponents and rivals, moreover, may regard his criticism as the tongue-in-cheek variety. No recent governor has been quite as eager to keep in touch with his constituents during the interim between formal campaigning as the man who has traveled about Wisconsin so energetically since he was inaugurated in 1965.

CHANGING POSITIONS

The assertion that political campaigns are too long drawn out, coming from a politician, is of a piece with the typical assertion of the partisan leader that job patronage in politics is really a nuisance and a liability and should be eliminated.

It is one of the favorite assertions of the congressman or U.S. senator who is often annoyed and frustrated by the complications of choosing a postmaster at North Overshoe or the appointment of a rural mail carrier.

Yet if these men really believed that patronage is a liability for them, they would long since have changed the rules and put such appointments beyond the reach of party political considerations.

CAN CHANGE RULES

Similarly, if there is any conviction among politicians as a whole that campaigns are excessively long, they can change the rules. Law now controls other elements of political competition, the source and the expenditure of campaign funds, the time for filing of nominating petitions, eligibility, and similar matters.

Such a rule would be regarded as good or harmful, according to the position of the politician, whether he is in or out of office. One of the objectives of early starters is to equalize competition. The man in office has a lead in the fact of incumbency and the exposure and public recognition it provides, quite aside from merit of performance.

As a reporter, I have listened to as many politicians' campaign speeches as anyone hereabouts... and therefore, may qualify as a witness.

PUBLIC IS BORED

The governor is right. The public becomes bored with the boasting and denunciation and promising long before the time arrives for the decision in the ballot box. Men running for office, including those who test their availability for the presidency here in quadrennial primary elections, tend to be painfully repetitious. One highly successful politician once confided to me in the privacy of his room during a campaign tour that he had only one speech — but he had learned to rearrange it when he found himself becoming bored with his own material. Most professional reporters can testify to the challenge of finding something legitimately new in the typical candidate's set speech on the campaign trail after a few days of listening.

Other democratic nations have learned to regulate such matters, out of a greater consideration for the ears of their citizens. Perhaps this country, or this state, will manage to do so one day. But don't bet on the probability. Here as in other matters, the successful candidate is not likely to want to change a system under which he has prospered, and it is only the successful politician who has the power to do so.

Strictly Personal
Puppy Teaches Child
Parental Problems

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

In all the icky-sticky sentimental pieces I've read about the advantages of a dog for growing children, I've never seen the best reason given — which has little to do with loyalty and palship and all the other presumed canine virtues.

Harris

The best reason for giving a dog — and it should be a little puppy — to young children is that it dramatically teaches them what a parent has to go through, and why certain parental attitudes are necessary.

When a child begins to take care of a puppy, the child is suddenly turned into a parent and the dog into its child. The puppy is willful and irresponsible — and the child has to learn how to make it responsible and responsible without injuring its spirit or harming the relationship.

This calls for tact, firmness, humor, flexibility, and self-confidence. It gives the child a sense of authority, but also the awareness that if he fails to use this authority, or abuses it, the dog will grow up resentful and recalcitrant. For "handling" a dog is more a matter of the psychological approach than the physical attention that is given to it.

Children learn by example and analogy, not by precept. With a little dog to take care of, they quickly learn the many-faceted role of being a parent — which calls for a wide variety of attitudes and responses, depending on the given situation.

And it does something even more important for them. It shows them, again by analogy, that love is not necessarily withdrawn when punishment is inflicted. The great fear of young children (unexpressed and unknown even to themselves) is that parental love will be withdrawn if they transgress obedience; and some parents are foolish enough even to threaten this, which can drive a child into neurosis.

But in adopting the role of parent toward his puppy, a child sees for himself that he is not withdrawing love from the puppy when he punishes it; rather, he is trying to improve the relationship. He thus becomes more tolerant toward the idea of "training," and incorporates, as it were, a part of the parent's person into himself.

A dog in the house is not everything it's cracked up to be by the sentimentalists, and there are plenty of minor disadvantages to living with the species. But I'm convinced that nothing is better in helping the young child (but not under six) to grasp the idea of what it takes to be a parent — both in love and in looking after.

How Much Would Halt In Bombing Cost U.S.?

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — What does the price tag say? If the United States called a pause in the bombing of North Vietnam, and if the North Vietnamese responded by slowing down their fighting in South Vietnam, then the pause would be worth it and peace talks might get started.

If the United States stopped bombing the North in the hope of a reciprocal response but the North used the pause to build up its forces in the South with men and supplies, U.S. ground forces in the South would have to pay the price.

So far the North has never shown any intention of slowing down its own side of the war when there was an American pause. But the calls for a bombing halt, temporary or permanent, go on.

Permanent Halt
Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield is the latest one to oppose the bombing. He wants a permanent halt to it. He thinks what the North said on New Year's Day may be "one small indication" that the United States stopped the bombing the North Vietnamese might be willing to talk peace. This is what he said Sunday, he was referring to the North's Vietnamese statement Jan. 1 that an end to the bombing will bring peace talks. In the past Hanoi had only said such U.S. action could—rather than will—bring talks.

But North Vietnam really didn't make it that simple. Hanoi said there will be peace talks if the United States unconditionally ends the bombing and all other acts of war. But it didn't say it would stop its end of the war if the United States met its demands.

Principal Reason
And so far President Johnson, thinking of the price tag, has refused to end the bombing. Instead, he is trying to find out what, exactly North Vietnam will do if the bombing stops.

But Mansfield went beyond just hoping for the best. He said of the bombing, and gave it as a principal reason for wanting the bombing stopped altogether.

whether or not the North Vietnamese respond: "I think that militarily it has not accomplished its objective, politically I think it's very risky, and morally I think it's quite calamitous."

On Monday, a committee of distinguished men, including former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, tried to take a detached view of the bombing problem. Some of the others in this group are retired General of the Army Omar N. Bradley, and Paul Douglas, former senator from Illinois.

Two Sides
The group—called the Citizens Committee for Peace with Freedom in Vietnam—published a pamphlet giving the two sides of the argument about ending the bombing of the North. But it also offered conclusions of its own.

It said the bombing is not as central to the American effort in Vietnam as some of its proponents claim nor as much of an obstacle to negotiations as its opponents claim.

It said the war cannot be won in the air by bombing the North. But the bombing is a help to American ground forces fighting in the South and the war can be lost on the ground, the group said.

But the committee takes pretty much the same position as Johnson has, saying: "We believe that the beginning of an extended bombing pause must be promptly followed by Hanoi's cessation of sending men and materials into the South and any firing from the North upon our fighting men."

Families Adopt Patrol Of Vietnam Servicemen

Eight Straight Successes UW Has New Way For Kidney Transplants

MADISON (AP) — Medical researchers at the University of Wisconsin report a new technique of kidney transplant has been used at the school with promising results.

Eight patients have been given kidney transplants in the last 14 months. All are doing well after only one operation, spokesmen said Thursday.

The technique, developed by geneticist Dr. Bach, allows surgeons prior to the operation to predict whether a foreign kidney will be accepted by the body of a proposed recipient.

"Our work is still far from complete, but the results are encouraging," said Dr. William Kiskien, another member of the surgical team.

Other Organs
"And it seems logical to hope that, if it works with kidneys, it will work with other organs of the body which can be transplanted—such as the heart, lungs, pancreas, and others," he said.

The key to controlling a body's rejection of foreign tissue lies in the reaction of white blood cells to a transplanted organ. They tend to attack a new organ.

A chemical discovered in 1960 affected the growth of the white cells, but it wasn't until two years later that scientists found a chemical that seemed to work in harmony with the type of cell that controls the rejection process.

Bach's work followed that lead, probing a complex method of testing the body's reaction to a transplant using new chemicals.

The test takes about 10 days, and post-operative care is extensive.

Kiskien cautioned that the goal of testing of kidney banks is "still years off, in all probability. But we can see glimmers of hope."

won't be enacted this session unless there's an equalized reduction in spending

With Vietnam war costs expected to rise another $4 billion, Johnson obviously is faced with a need to alter the Capitol Hill atmosphere if he hopes for acceptance of social welfare programs calling for expensive outlays.

Vietnam war costs in the current year are expected to run around $24 billion.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield predicted a safe-streets bill will be high on the list of presidential recommendations

Mansfield said that when the Senate can unclutter itself from a prospective Southern filibuster against a pending civil-rights bill, a housing measure is likely to be the next order of business.

Administration sources predicted the President would support a bill aimed at providing funds for low-income families in urban slums to build their own homes, with the government subsidizing interest charges above 3 per cent. The issue of funding rent supplements and the antipoverty program will have to be fought out again.

There are reports Johnson will ask for some changes in a higher education bill, to provide aid for lower-middle-income families in financing their children's schooling.

Proposals for child health care for new and expectant mothers may be presented.

The President also has indicated he thinks private industry should do more to make jobs available to slum residents. Tax incentives may be suggested in this field.

In the area of curbing crime, Rep. Richard H. Poff, R-Va., predicted Johnson will drop his opposition to court-controlled wiretapping except in national security cases. Poff heads a Republican task force on this issue.

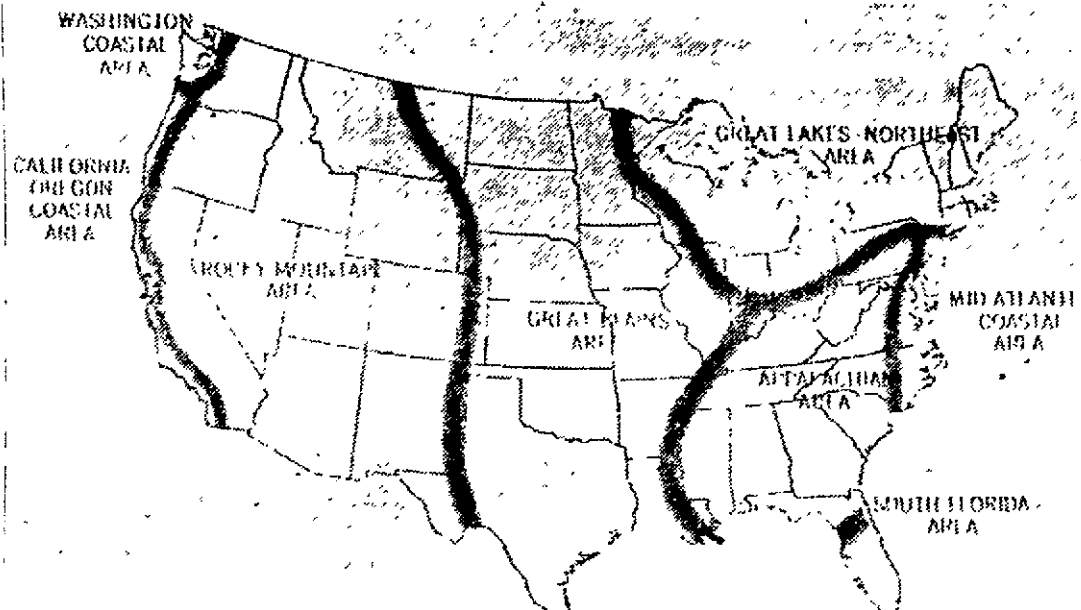

Police Training

A pending anticrime bill would authorize federal grants to train and equip local police, as Johnson proposed last year. But it goes beyond that to propose legalizing certain wiretapping operations, removing some restrictions on police questioning of witnesses and making voluntary confessions admissible as court evidence.

Johnson is expected to urge the passage of consumer protection legislation, such as the interest disclosure bill the House may take up later this month. He also probably will push for action on a natural gas pipeline safety measure and a safe bridges bill.

The international monetary situation, which has found the British devaluing the pound and instituting an austerity budget, will focus congressional interest on the President's suggestions for attacking the international exchange balance of payments problem.

Johnson may offer several alternatives for reducing tourism

Missile Can Kill 60 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — A nuclear warhead configurations, the United States will have 18 times the kill capacity required to knock the Soviet Union out of the 20th century.

This concept, Lapp said, springs from development of the multiple warhead system, which he labeled a "ballistic six-shoot-

Known technically as MIRV (Multiple Independently Targetable Re-entry Vehicle)—the weapon is an intercontinental ballistic missile capable of carrying up to six hydrogen-bomb warheads which could be dropped on separate targets.

Thus, said Lapp, 45 ICBMs loaded to capacity would be enough to incinerate 200 city targets, while the carrier mis-

Gorton Would Oppose Bombing Acceleration

CANBERRA, Australia. (AP) — Australia's new prime minister, John Gorton, told a news conference today he would strongly oppose an increase of U.S. bombing that would lead to the virtual destruction of North Vietnam. But he said he supports the present U.S. policy of bombing to prevent movement of troops and supplies to South Vietnam.

which takes dollars out of the country and increases the deficit. Congress appears cool to a proposed head tax on tourists going abroad but might find a selective excise tax on travel tickets more to its liking.

The House Ways and Means Committee, which must grapple with both this issue and the surtax, will have to give attention later on to the controversial question of foreign trade. The reciprocal trade agreements act expired last year and there is no presidential authority to initiate new trade agreements.

But Johnson must send to Congress the results of the Kennedy round of trade negotiations last year. These include controversial agreements to eliminate the American selling price as a base for tariffs on chemicals and some other products.

Any trade bill is likely to be hit in the Senate with a flood of amendments to place import quota restrictions on textiles, oil, steel and a score of other products.

Credit Curbs, Increased Taxes Imposed in British Austerity

LONDON (AP) — The British government readied another swing of the economy ax today with a new squeeze on the average Briton's pocketbook. Curbs on installment buying and higher taxes on buying for home use were expected.

Chancellor of the Exchequer Roy Jenkins was to outline the latest dose of bad news as he opened a two-day debate in the House of Commons on the Labor government's post-devaluation program. The debate will end with a vote on a Conservative motion of no confidence which Labor's big majority in Commons is certain to defeat.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson told Commons and the nation Tuesday that his government was accelerating the abandonment of Britain's historic role as a military power east of Suez and shrinking the dimensions of the welfare state because the nation could not pay the bill.

Limited Profits Jenkins warned in a television address that stiffer taxes were coming to keep wages and profits down and cut home buying so there would be more to export.

The government's aim is to shift manpower, investment capital and materials to export industries so increased sales abroad will put the balance of payments back into the black. Now that devaluation provides a price advantage in the export market, the problem is to make the resources available for production and reduce the supply of consumer goods for British buyers.

The economy program represents a basic shift in policy, at home as well as abroad. The military cuts end Britain's already diminished role as policeman of the Far East and the Persian Gulf. The cuts at home in housing, education, free medicine and social security ushered in a new kind of welfare state.

The only member of the cabinet to resign was Lord Hailsham, the leader of the House of Lords. The government's Old Etonian, he rebelled against cuts for state high schools. He had been due to retire but was replaced by Lord Hailsham, son of the famous playwright.

The rightists apparently threatened Silva because he served in congress during the term of pro-Communist president Jacobo Arbenz. Arbenz was overthrown in an army coup supported by the United States.

Beauty Slain One police official blamed the clandestine rightist organization known as the White Heron for the slaying of Rogelio Martinez, Miss Guatemala, 1950, whose nude bathing was found last week in a bridge near a town 50 miles from Guatemala.

The fight against extortion on both sides has helped the Mendez program of economic and social development. The office in July 1966 appealed for peace and first to persuade the guerrillas to lay down their guns and then to persuade the government of President Julio Cesar Mendez Montenegro, who took office in July, 1966. They feel his government's increased taxation and reforms threaten their traditional privileges.

A-C Merger Is Called Off

Signal Oil Co., Milwaukee Firm Expresses Regret

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Co. Tuesday announced that its intended merger with Signal Oil and Gas Co. "has been called off."

Under terms of the merger agreement, first disclosed last Nov. 23, Signal would have exchanged one share of its Class A common stock and one share of a new preferred cumulative convertible issue for each two shares of Allis-Chalmers common.

Officials of the two firms issued a joint statement expressing regret at termination of the merger project.

The statement said, however, "consummation of the contemplated merger on schedule—and in particular, the apathy on the part of some Allis-Chalmers shareholders—might subject both companies to prolonged and extended preparations which could have a detrimental effect on their respective operations."

Columnists Held Liable To Sen. Dodd

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge has ruled columnists Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson are liable for damages for using documents stolen from the office of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn.

The summary judgment against the columnists was made Tuesday at Dodd's request in U.S. District Court. But Judge Alexander Holtzoff said the question of damages would have to be settled at a later trial.

Dodd is suing Pearson and Anderson for $1 million.

The columnists have conceded writing articles based on material allegedly taken from Dodd's files by several of the senator's employees. The articles dealt largely with the Connecticut Democrat's finances.

Dodd was censured by the Senate June 22 for using political funds to pay personal bills.

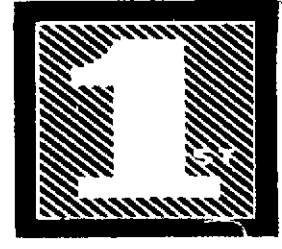

Holtzoff said his ruling concerned only whether a person is liable for damages if he receives purloined documents and uses the information they contain.

Fire Bombs Tossed Into Home of Judge Who Jailed Rights Workers

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Police say two flaming fire bombs were hurled Tuesday night into the bedroom of a judge who had sentenced two civil rights workers to jail.

There were no injuries and only minor damage, police Lt. J.E. Bason said.

Circuit Court Judge James C. Adkins Jr. said today that a recent issue of the publication, "Black Voices," had intimidated he would be burned unless he released the workers on bond.

The latest plea to release Carole Thomas and Irvin Dawkins in a telephone interview. "It on appeal bond was turned down Tuesday by the Florida Supreme Court, clearing the way for a move in federal court."

Mrs. Thomas, wife of a University of Florida Medical Center faculty member and mother of three, a white woman, was sentenced to four months in jail. Dawkins, a Negro, drew six months.

Million-Dollar Deal Decided by Coin Flip

LOS ANGELES (AP) — When two companies submitted identical bids—$1,033,000—to build a regional library in the Norwalk Civic Center, a coin was flipped to determine who would get the contract.

Los Angeles County supervisors and representatives of the R. J. Daum Construction Co. and the W. E. Lyons Co. watched a clerk flip a silver dollar Tuesday.

"Heads," said R. G. Gillespie, a Lyons vice president, correctly, and his company walked away with the million-dollar job.
